GREENWICH HOSPITAL.

COPY of SCHEME for the SALE of ADVOWSONS and RIGHTS of PRESENTATION to the BENEFICES and PERPETUAL CURACIES belonging to GREENWICH HOSPITAL.

Admiralty, }
11 June 1866. }

JOHN HENRY BRIGGS,
Chief Clerk.

(Presented in pursuance of the Greenwich Hospital Act, 1865, s. 44.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
12 June 1866.

SCHEME required by the 44th Section of the Greenwich Hospital Act, 1865, in respect of the SALE of ADVOWSONS and RIGHTS of PRESENTATION to the BENEFICES and PERPETUAL CURACIES belonging to GREENWICH HOSPITAL.

It is proposed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to carry out the provisions of this section in the following manner :

1st. To seek for purchasers for each of these advowsons by public advertisements in the daily and country newspapers, and to request that any person desirous of purchasing any of the said advowsons will make to their Lordships an offer in writing, signed by the applicant, stating the terms and conditions on which he is willing and submits to purchase the advowson therein mentioned, their Lordships stipulating that they may be at liberty to receive two or more offers for the same advowson, and shall not be under any legal obligation to accept the highest offer.

2dly. That their Lordships shall require from each incumbent of these advowsons a return or statement in writing, according to the best of his knowledge, information, or belief, and in a form to be prescribed by their Lordships, of the gross income or yearly benefit of his benefice, any tithe rent-charge therein being returned at par, and also a similar return of all rates, taxes, tenths, dues, and other outgoings, including the charges of collection, but not including income or property tax, which shall have been paid by or chargeable on such incumbent in respect of his benefice, during the five years immediately preceding Lady Day 1865, distinguishing the various items in respect of which such income and outgoings may have arisen.

If the incumbent has a curate, the stipend of the curate must be stated, and the reasons of his appointment.

If at the time of making such returns so required by their Lordships, a living shall be subject to a charge of annual payments, in respect of moneys borrowed for building or rebuilding the parsonage or other buildings, or for drainage or other improvements of the glebe or lands of the living, no reduction shall be made from the net yearly value in respect of such annual payments, but a separate statement shall be made by the incumbent of the number and amount of the annual payments remaining to be made.

That before accepting any offer made for the purchase of any of the aforesaid advowsons, their Lordships will seek the advice of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, who will be requested to certify that the price offered is an adequate one.

When the sale of any of these advowsons shall have been completed, the purchase-money will be applied in the manner prescribed in the before-mentioned Act, videlicet :

As to one moiety thereof, by the creation of a fund for the benefit of retired naval chaplains, and as to the other moiety, inasmuch as the income of the living of Alston is small, with a large mining population, and the incomes of the other livings large in comparison with small agricultural populations, their Lordships propose to apply it in augmentation of the income of the living of Alston, until in their Lordships' opinion, it has been sufficiently augmented, and then in augmentation of the income of any of the other livings deemed by their Lordships to be most necessitous.

That to augment such income, their Lordships will pay the second moiety to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, who will be requested in respect thereof to grant an annuity, and charge the same upon their common fund, at the rate of 3*l.* 10*s.* per cent. per annum on the sum so paid, which annuity shall be forthwith applied in augmentation of the income of the said living of Alston, or such of the other livings selected as aforesaid by their Lordships.

10, Whitehall-place, S.W.,

9 May 1866.

Sir,

IN accordance with the provisions of the 15th section of the Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 142, I have the honour, on behalf of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, to transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the House of Commons, a draft of a scheme which the Commissioners propose to certify to Her Majesty in Council for uniting the benefice (being a rectory) of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, in the City of London, with the benefice (being a rectory) of Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, in the said City of London, and for the other purposes mentioned in the same scheme.

I have, &c.

(signed) James J. Chalk.

Sir Denis Le Marchant, Bart.,
House of Commons.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

WE, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of the Act of the first and second years of your Majesty, chapter one hundred and six; of the Act of the third and fourth years of your Majesty, chapter one hundred and thirteen; of the Act of the sixth and seventh years of your Majesty, chapter thirty-seven; of the Act of the thirteenth and fourteenth years of your Majesty, chapter ninety-eight; and of the Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of your Majesty, chapter one hundred and forty-two, have prepared and now humbly certify to your Majesty in Council the following scheme for uniting the benefice (being a rectory) of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, in the city of London, with the benefice (being a rectory) of Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, in the said city of London, and for the other purposes hereinafter mentioned.

1 & 2 Vict. c. 106,
ss. 16, 17.
3 & 4 Vict. c. 113,
s. 73.
13 & 14 Vict.
c. 98, ss. 1, 2, 8.
23 & 24 Vict.
c. 142.

Whereas under the provisions of the said lastly mentioned Act the Right Honourable and Right Reverend Archibald Campbell, Bishop of the said diocese of London, duly issued a commission for the purpose of inquiring into the expediency of the proposed union of the said rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, and the said rectory of Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, and by the return made to the said Commission the Commissioners therein named certified all such matters and things as appeared to them material, together with their opinion that the proposed union was expedient, and in such return they recommended the terms on which, in their opinion, the same union ought to be effected.

And whereas the said Archibald Campbell, Bishop of London, has caused proposals for a scheme, based upon the terms recommended by the Commissioners named in the hereinbefore mentioned Commission, to be laid before us, which proposals were assented to by himself as patron in right of his see, of the said rectory of St. Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, and by the Right Honourable Richard, Baron Westbury, then Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the patron in right of such his office for every alternate turn of the said rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, and by the Dean of the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul in London, and the chapter of the same church, the patrons for every other alternate turn of the said last-named rectory, and also by the vestries of the several parishes of Saint Nicholas

And whereas it appears to us to be expedient that such union should be effected, and that such arrangements relating thereto and to the patronage of the said rectories should be made as are hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas the said rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, is subject to a mortgage to the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne, and the annual sum now payable to the said Governors in respect of such mortgage, amounts to fifteen pounds sterling or thereabouts.

Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose, with the consents of the said Archibald Campbell, Bishop of London, and of the Right Honourable Robert Monsey, Baron Cranworth, now Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain (testified by their respectively signing and sealing this scheme), and of the said Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul in London (testified by their sealing this scheme with their corporate seal), and of the vestry of each of the said four parishes (testified by the several chairmen of the said vestries respectively signing this scheme, pursuant to resolutions passed at vestries duly convened for the purpose of giving such consents), that the said rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, and the said rectory of Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, shall be united and consolidated into and shall become and be one benefice, under the style of "The united rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, and Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw."

And we further recommend and propose, that if, when this scheme shall have been confirmed by an Order of your Majesty in Council, and shall have taken effect as hereinafter provided, both of the said rectories shall be vacant, the union of the said rectories shall take effect forthwith; and that if one of the said rectories only shall be then vacant, the said union shall also take effect forthwith, if the incumbent of the other of the said rectories shall consent to become the incumbent of the united rectory, but if he shall not so consent, then that the union shall take effect upon the then next vacancy of his benefice, and the then incumbent of the other of the said rectories shall be the first incumbent of the united rectory; and if, when this scheme shall have been confirmed by an Order of your Majesty in Council, and shall have taken effect as hereinafter provided, both of the said rectories shall be full, then that the said union shall take effect upon the next vacancy of either of them, if the incumbent for the time being of the other of the said rectories shall consent to become the incumbent of the united rectory, and he shall be the first incumbent of the united rectory, but if he shall not so consent, then the said union shall take effect immediately upon the next vacancy of his benefice, and the then incumbent of the other of the said rectories shall be the first incumbent of the united rectory. And that in either case it shall be lawful for the Bishop to admit to the united rectory the first incumbent thereof (if an incumbent for the time being of either of the existing rectories), without any form or fee of or for presentation, and he shall thereupon become the incumbent of the united rectory, and that, until the time of the union taking effect, the existing incumbencies shall remain separate, and the rights and liabilities in respect thereof shall remain unaffected by anything herein contained.

And we further recommend and propose, that if, after the confirmation of this scheme by an Order of your Majesty in Council, and before the union shall have taken effect, the incumbent for the time being of either of the existing rectories shall retire from his incumbency, in order that the union may take immediate effect, the incumbent so retiring from his incumbency shall be entitled, during the period hereinafter specified, to receive out of the annual income of the united rectory, and by way of compensation, a yearly sum equal in amount to four-fifths of the net annual value of the tithe and tithe rents charge and endowments annexed to his rectory (not reckoning the house of residence as an item of value), computed on the average receipts of the three years immediately preceding the year in which he shall retire, which annual sum shall commence as from the day on which the union shall take effect, and shall be payable by equal half-yearly payments in every year, the first half-yearly payment thereof to become due and be paid at the end of six calendar months next after the day on which the union shall take effect; and that the said annual sum shall be payable to the retiring incumbent during the remainder of his life, or until he shall accept any other other Church preferment of an annual value equal to or greater in amount than the said annual sum to be so made payable to such retiring incumbent as aforesaid; and upon his accepting such preferment, the said annual sum shall thenceforth absolutely cease to be payable; but if the same annual sum shall cease by his death, or by his acceptance of such Church preferment (as the case may be), on any other than one of the half-yearly days of payment, he or his executors or administrators, shall be entitled to a proportionate part of the said annual sum for the period which, at the time of such cesser, shall have elapsed of the then current half year, which proportionate part shall be payable at the end of the then current half year, and that the said annual sum shall be charged upon the annual income of the united rectory, and shall be payable out of the same by the incumbent for the time being thereof, and as between such incumbent and the retiring incumbent and his assigns the said annual sum shall be a first charge at law and in equity upon the income of the united rectory, and the incumbent of the said united rectory shall be deemed to have accepted the same, subject to a trust to pay to the retiring incumbent, or his assigns, the said annual sum out of the income of such united rectory, and for that purpose to use all due diligence to receive and collect the income of the said united rectory; and if such annual sum, or any part thereof, shall be at any time in arrear and unpaid for a period of more than twenty-one days after any of the said half-yearly days of payment, and the fact of the same being so in arrear shall be verified by the declaration of the incumbent who shall have so retired, or his assigns, or in such other manner as shall be required by the bishop for the time being of the said diocese of London, it shall be lawful for the said bishop to make an order upon the incumbent for the time being of the united rectory, requiring him to pay the amount in arrear within a time to be specified in such order, and if the same shall not be paid within such period as last aforesaid, then it shall be lawful for the said bishop to sequester the profits of the said united rectory until all such arrears and the costs of the sequestration shall have been paid and satisfied, but the power to be so conferred upon the said bishop shall not in anywise abridge or interfere with the rights of the incumbent who shall have so retired, or his assigns, to recover the said annual sum, and all arrears thereof, by proceedings at law or in equity, or with the legal and equitable rights of the incumbent for the time being of the united rectory to recover from the preceding incumbent of the united rectory, his executors or administrators, any arrears of the said annual sum which ought to have been paid by such preceding incumbent.

And we further recommend and propose, that if the incumbent of the said rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, shall be such retiring incumbent as aforesaid, there shall, in every year, be deducted from the annual sum to be paid to him as aforesaid, a sum equal to one-half of the amount payable in that year to the governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne, in respect of the said mortgage.

And we further recommend and propose, that if the said union shall have taken immediate effect, by reason of the incumbent for the time being of either of the existing incumbencies having retired from his incumbency, and such incumbent shall be living when the united rectory shall for the first time after such union become vacant, the incumbent who shall have so retired shall (if, in the opinion of the bishop for the time being of the said diocese of London, he be not disqualified by age or otherwise), be entitled to fill such vacancy, and may be admitted by the said bishop to the said united rectory without any form or fee of or for presentation, and he shall thereupon become the incumbent of the said united rectory, and the annual sum herein-before made payable to him shall thereupon absolutely cease to be payable.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, the church of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey shall become, and thereafter continue to be, the parish church of the said united rectory; and that, after the said union, the expense of maintaining the fabric of the parish church of the united rectory, and providing for the maintenance of the services therein, shall be defrayed by the inhabitant householders of the four parishes of the united rectory, and shall, as between the inhabitants of the same four parishes respectively, be provided in the following proportions, (that is to say,) the amount to be provided by the inhabitants of each parish shall bear the same proportion to the whole amount to be provided as the total amount of the annual rateable value of the property in each such parish, as assessed for the time being for the purposes of the consolidated or police rate, shall bear to the aggregate amount of the like rateable annual value of the property in all the said four several parishes.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, the font, communion table, and plate used for the purposes of the Holy Communion in the church of Saint Mary Somerset shall be transferred to the parish church of the said united rectory; but if the same shall, in the opinion of the bishop for the time being of the said diocese of London, not be required for such church, then that the same, or such of them, or so much of the said plate as shall not be so required, shall be transferred to such other church or chapel within the diocese of London as the bishop for the time being of the said diocese shall select.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, if the tables of fees used in the two churches be alike in all particulars, the table of fees used in the church which will become the church of the united rectory shall (until revised or altered by proper authority) be the table of fees for the four parishes of such united rectory, but if such tables of fees be not alike in all particulars, then that the same shall be of no authority, and a new table of fees shall be made for the use of such four parishes as if the same were one parish, under the authority of, and with the consents, and in the manner specified in the eleventh section of the Act of the fifty-ninth year of his late Majesty King George the Third, chapter one hundred and thirty-four.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, the persons who at that time shall hold the offices of parish clerk of the parishes of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey and Saint Nicholas Olave, and parish clerk of the parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw, shall, without any further appointment, become the joint parish clerks of the said four parishes, and the persons who at the time of the said union taking effect shall hold the offices of sexton of the parishes of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey and Saint Nicholas Olave, and sexton of the parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw, shall, without any further appointment, become the joint sextons of the said four parishes, and upon the death, retirement, or removal of either of the joint parish clerks, the other of them shall become the sole parish clerk of the said four parishes, and upon the death, retirement, or removal of either of the joint sextons, the other of them shall become the sole sexton of the said four parishes, and the parish clerk of the said four parishes shall afterwards upon any vacancy in that office be appointed by the incumbent of the united rectory, and any future vacancy in the office of sexton shall be filled up by the vestries of the said four parishes, or by a majority of them regarded as one vestry.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, the persons who at that time shall respectively hold the offices of parish clerk and sexton of the parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw, and who shall become joint parish clerk and joint sexton respectively of the said four parishes of the united rectory, shall each of them cease to hold as of his former estate the office of parish clerk and sexton respectively of the said parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw; and the parish clerk so ceasing to hold such his office of clerk shall by way of compensation, so long as he shall be one of the joint parish clerks aforesaid, receive from the vestry of the said united parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw, during the pleasure of such vestry, a salary equal in amount to his then present salary; and in like manner the sexton so ceasing to hold such his office of sexton shall by way of compensation, so long as he shall be one of the joint sextons aforesaid, receive from the vestry of the said parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw, during the pleasure of such vestry, a salary equal in amount to his then present salary, subject nevertheless to and upon the condition that each such joint parish clerk and joint sexton shall perform such and such only of the duties appertaining to the offices of parish clerk and sexton respectively of the said four parishes as the rector for the time being of the said united rectory and the churchwardens for the time being of such parishes may from time to time require, but no parish clerk or sexton of the said four parishes shall have any larger estate or interest in his office than he shall have possessed in his original office before the said union.

And

And we further recommend and propose, that so long as a salary under the provisions above proposed shall be payable by the parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw to one of the joint parish clerks aforesaid, those parishes shall not be required to contribute towards the salary of the other of the joint parish clerks aforesaid, and so long as a salary shall under the provisions above proposed be payable by the said parishes of Saint Mary Somerset and Saint Mary Mounthaw to one of the joint sextons aforesaid, those parishes shall not be required to contribute towards the salary of the other of the joint sextons aforesaid, but whilst such salaries, by way of compensation, shall continue payable to such joint parish clerk and joint sexton respectively, the salaries of the other joint parish clerk and joint sexton aforesaid shall be paid exclusively by the parishes of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey and Saint Nicholas Olave, and as between those parishes in proportion to such rateable annual value of the property as aforesaid.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, all the properties constituting the emoluments and endowments of the respective rectories of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, and Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, shall become and be transferred and annexed to the united benefice as the endowment thereof.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, the church of Saint Mary Somerset shall be taken down, and its materials and site sold by public tender, the pulpit, bells, clock, organ, and other furniture and fittings being reserved to be appropriated (if, in the opinion of the Bishop, for the time being, of the diocese of London required) for the use of the church proposed to be provided for the district of Saint Mary, Hoxton, recently constituted under the provisions of the herein-before secondly mentioned Act, and originally proposed to be constituted under the title of "The District of Saint Mary, City Road;" but if not so required and appropriated, that the same shall be sold by public tender as aforesaid.

And we further recommend and propose, that in the first place there shall be set apart and appropriated, out of the net proceeds which shall be realized by the sales effected in pursuance of the recommendations and proposals hereinbefore contained, such a sum as we shall determine (being not less than three equal fourth parts of the entire net proceeds of such sales), for the erection of the church proposed to be provided, as aforesaid, for the district of Saint Mary, Hoxton, and for providing a house of residence for the incumbent of the same district, and that the residue of the said net proceeds of such sales, together with such portion (if any) of the sum to be so set apart and appropriated as aforesaid as shall not be required for the last-mentioned purposes, shall be held and applied upon and according to the trusts and provisions contained in the twenty-second section of the said hereinbefore thirdly mentioned Act, subject nevertheless to, and we further recommend and propose, that we, with the consent of the Bishop of the said diocese of London, for the time being, shall have a discretionary power to set apart and appropriate out of such residue any sum not exceeding one-tenth part of the entire net proceeds of the said sales, as a fund for re-pewing, repairing, restoring, or altering the said church of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, such sum to be laid out and expended under the joint direction of the vestries and churchwardens of the four parishes of the united benefice hereby proposed to be created, and under the superintendence of a competent architect (whose charges shall be defrayed out of the fund to be so appropriated), to be nominated by them, and to be approved of by the Bishop for the time being of the said diocese of London, and that if any difference or dispute shall arise as to the proper mode of expending or applying the same sum or any part thereof, such difference or dispute shall, in every case, be settled and determined by the Bishop, whose decision shall be final, and whose episcopal jurisdiction shall not be in any way abridged or interfered with by the special power or control hereby proposed to be given to the vestries and churchwardens aforesaid.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon the said union taking effect, the Rectory house now belonging to the rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, shall become and thereafter be and remain the house of residence of the rector of the united benefice.

And we further recommend and propose, that upon and as from the day on which this scheme shall take effect as hereinafter mentioned, the sole patronage of the said rectory of Saint Mary Somerset, with Saint Mary Mounthaw, shall, without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than this scheme, and any duly gazetted Order of Your Majesty in Council ratifying the same, be transferred from the said Archibald Campbell, Bishop of the said diocese of London (to whom in right of his see such patronage now belongs as aforesaid), and from his successors, and shall thereafter be vested in the Dean and Chapter of the said Cathedral Church of Saint Paul, in London, and their successors, and that upon and as from the same day, the sole patronage of the vicarage of Saint Helen, Bishopgate, in the said city of London, shall, without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than as aforesaid, be transferred from the said last mentioned Dean and Chapter (to whom such patronage now belongs), and from their successors, and shall thereafter be vested in the said Archibald Campbell, Bishop of the said diocese of London, and his successors, and further that upon and as from the same day, the alternate turn or right of patronage now belonging to the same Dean and Chapter, of and in the rectory of Saint Vedast, with Saint Michael-le-Quern, in the said city of London, shall, without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than as aforesaid, be transferred from such Dean and Chapter and from their successors, and shall thereafter be vested in the said Archibald Campbell, Bishop of the said diocese of London, and his successors.

And we further recommend and propose, that in consideration of the arrangements herein-before proposed, and particularly in consideration of the appropriation as aforesaid of certain monies to be derived from the sale of the church of Saint Mary Somerset, towards providing a church for the said district of Saint Mary, Hoxton, and also a house of residence for the incumbent of the same district, the whole right of patronage of, and nomination to, the said district (and when such district shall have become a new parish, then of and to the said new parish) of Saint Mary, Hoxton, which right is now vested by statute in your Majesty and the Bishop for the time being of the said diocese of London alternately, shall, upon and as from the day on which this scheme shall take effect, as herein-after mentioned, and without any assurance in the law other than this scheme and such duly gazetted Order in Council as aforesaid, be transferred and assigned to, and shall become and be solely and absolutely vested in the said Robert Monsey, Baron Cranworth, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and his successors, Lord High Chancellors of Great Britain, for ever.

And we further recommend and propose, that the alternate turn or right of patronage now belonging as aforesaid to the said Robert Monsey, Baron Cranworth, as such Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, of and in the said rectory of Saint Nicholas Cole Abbey, with Saint Nicholas Olave, shall, upon and as from the day on which this scheme shall take effect as herein-after mentioned, and without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than as aforesaid, be transferred from the said Robert Monsey, Baron Cranworth, and his successors, Lords High Chancellors of Great Britain, and shall thereafter be vested in the said Dean and Chapter of the said Cathedral Church of Saint Paul in London, and their successors, to the intent that, by means of such transfer and of the transfers hereinbefore previously recommended and proposed, the same Dean and Chapter may become and be sole patrons of the said united rectory hereinbefore recommended and proposed to be created.

And we further recommend and propose, that this scheme shall not take effect until the consents and approval which, under the seventeenth section of the said Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of your Majesty, chapter one hundred and forty-two, are requisite to the sale and appropriation of the site of the church of Saint Mary Somerset, hereinbefore recommended, shall have been duly obtained.

And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in conformity with the provisions of the hereinbefore mentioned Acts, or either of them, or of any other Act of Parliament.

All which we humbly recommend and propose to your Majesty in Council.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our Common Seal this day of in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

H. WADDINGTON.

The Archbishop of Canterbury to Sir George Grey.

(Extract.)

Sir, Addington Park, 22 January 1866.

* * * * *

The continuance of the Cattle Plague with unabated severity appears to call for the appointment of a Day of National Humiliation. I am daily addressed by persons residing in all quarters of the Kingdom, entreating me to urge Her Majesty's Government to advise The Queen to issue an Order to that effect.

I earnestly hope that such advice may be given, and that an early day may be appointed for such purpose.

I have, &c.
The Right Hon. Sir G. Grey, Bart., (signed) C. T. Cantuar.
&c. &c. &c.

Note.—The first paragraph of this letter related to a different subject.

Sir George Grey to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

My Lord, Whitehall, 26 January 1866.

I HAVE brought under the consideration of the Cabinet your Grace's letter of the 22d instant, expressing a hope that, in compliance with requests addressed to your Grace from different parts of the Kingdom, Her Majesty's Government will advise Her Majesty to issue an Order appointing a Day of National Humiliation on account of the continuance of the Cattle Plague with unabated severity.

Her Majesty's Government are of opinion that, except in cases of a very special character affecting the whole of the United Kingdom, it is inexpedient that the course advised by your Grace should be adopted, involving as it does, as to the great body of the working people, enforced abstinence from their ordinary labour, and the consequent diminution to a certain extent of the means procured by their daily industry for supplying themselves with the necessaries of life.

Her Majesty's Government feel that the duty of imploring the Divine Blessing on the means used for checking the progress of the disease is fully recognized on the part of the Nation by the constant use in every Church in England of the Form of Prayer ordered by Her Majesty in Council in September last; and they do not think that the nature of the present calamity, notwithstanding the severity of its pressure on some parts of the country, is such as to demand that, in addition to the use of the Prayer, a special Day of National Humiliation should be set apart by authority throughout the United Kingdom.

I have, &c.
His Grace the (signed) G. Grey.
Archbishop of Canterbury.

ECCLESIASTICAL APPEALS (PRIVY COUNCIL).

RETURN to an Address of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 29 June 1865;—for,

A “RETURN of all APPEALS in ECCLESIASTICAL CAUSES made to the Queen in Council, or to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, from its substitution for the High Court of Delegates, by the 2d and 3d Will. 4, cap. 92, A.D. 1832, until the present time; specifying—

1. Date of Lodging Petition of Appeal;
2. The Names of the Parties;
3. The Nature of the Cause;
4. The Court appealed from;
5. The Names and Descriptions of the Members of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council who sate and voted on each Cause, with the Mode of Summons; and also the Names and Descriptions of any other Members of the Privy Council who may have sate on any Cause, with the Mode of Summons; *
6. The Date of the Report to the Crown;
7. Date of Order in Council on Report;
8. Nature of Judgment.”

* NOTE.—The Members of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council are summoned to attend on each day of sitting by command of Her Majesty, signified to their Lordships by Order of the Lord President of the Council in the following terms:—“Let the messenger acquaint the Lords of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, that the Committee is appointed to meet in the Council Chamber, Whitehall, on the of at of the clock to hear Appeals, (viz.), ”; and no Member of the Privy Council attends a Committee without being so summoned. When Members of the Privy Council, not being Members of the Judicial Committee, are summoned to attend by Her Majesty’s commands, a letter is addressed to them by the Clerk or the Registrar of the Privy Council to inform them of Her Majesty’s pleasure, in addition to the usual summons.

(Mr. Hubbard.)

*Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
12 February 1866.*

EDINBURGH	St. Giles or High Church	David Arnott, D.D., Senior Minister.	£. 600 — —	From Revenues of Leith Harbour, 2,000 l. Perpetual Bond of Annuity, by Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of Edinburgh, for 4,200 l.	Properly speaking, the whole ancient Royalty of Edinburgh, in which are situated the first nine Churches, consists of only one Parish, viz., that of St. Giles or High Church; the Parochial Divisions having been made originally simply by the authority of the Magistrates and Presbytery. The remaining five Churches are situated within the new extended Royalty of Edinburgh, and formed originally portions of the Parish of St. Cuthbert's, and Restalrig or South Leith, but some of these Divisions have, it is believed, been recognised by Acts of Parliament as proper Parochial bounds. There are besides several Parishes erected in the extended Royalty, under the authority of the Court of Teinds, but the Stipends of which are not paid by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners.
	Tolbooth	James McLetchie, D.D., Junior Minister.	600 — —	Three Bonds of Annuity, for 600 l. each, by Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of Edinburgh, in favour of the following Ministers, viz., the Rev. Dr. Hunter, Rev. Dr. Smith, and Rev. Dr. McLetchie, terminable upon the death of each respectively. Nett average amount of Seat Rents, 1,600 l. , after deducting Repairs, maintenance of Churches, &c., as estimated at time of passing the Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 50.

FIRST,—AS TO GRANTS.

ROYAL SIGN MANUAL, 5th George 4th (22 March 1824).

George the Fourth, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c.

To all to whom these presents shall come greeting;—

WHEREAS the governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy, have humbly represented unto us that our royal predecessor Queen Anne did, by her Letters Patent, bearing date the 5th day of March, in the year of our Lord 1713-14, grant a new charter to the corporation of the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy, which charter contained such rules and constitutions for the better government of the said corporation, and such alterations and additions as our said royal predecessor Queen Anne had thought fit to approve by her Order in Council of the 31st day of January, in the said year of our Lord 1713-14; that, by the third rule given and established by the said charter, it was directed that the said governors should begin with augmenting those cures that did not exceed the value of 10*l.* per annum, and should augment no other till those had all received her said Majesty's bounty of 200*l.*, except in the cases and according to the limitations thereafter mentioned; and by the twelfth rule it was provided, that when all the said cures should be augmented, the said governors might proceed to augment those of greater value, according to such rules as should thereafter be proposed by them, and be approved by her said Majesty, her heirs and successors, under her or their great seal, that, by an Act of Parliament passed in the first year of the reign of his Majesty King George the First, it was enacted that all such rules and orders as should from time to time be agreed upon, prepared, and proposed by the said governors to his said Majesty, his heirs and successors, and by him or them approved, under his or their sign manual, should be as good, valid, and effectual rules and orders as if the same were made or established under the Great Seal; that, in the twentieth year of the reign of his Majesty King George the Second, the said third rule was, by his said Majesty's royal sign manual, altered, and the governors were empowered to augment cures that did not exceed 20*l.* per annum, under the like rules, orders, and directions as were then in force, and ought to be observed in relation to cures not exceeding 10*l.* per annum; and, in the 20th year of the reign of our late royal father King George the Third, the said third rule was, by his said Majesty's royal sign manual, again altered, and the said governors were empowered to augment cures that did not exceed 30*l.* per annum, under the like rules, orders, and directions as were then in force, and ought to be observed in relation to cures not exceeding 20*l.* per annum; that, in the 50th year of the reign of his said late Majesty King George the Third, the said third rule was, by his said Majesty's royal sign manual, again altered, and the said governors were thereby directed, as soon as all the cures not exceeding 30*l.* per annum, which were fitly qualified, should have been augmented, to proceed to augment by lot those cures that did not exceed 50*l.* per annum, and that they should not augment by lot any of greater value than 50*l.* till those should have all received the said bounty, except in cases therein mentioned; that the said governors have accordingly augmented the cures which were fitly qualified and which did not exceed 30*l.* per annum, and have proceeded to augment by lot part of those cures which did not exceed 50*l.* per annum; that the governors have at this time sufficient funds arising from the royal bounty to augment immediately to the annual value of 50*l.* all cures which do not amount to that value; and in order that they (the said governors) may be enabled and empowered so to augment the same, and also that they may afterwards proceed to augment by lot those of greater value than 50*l.* per annum, they have agreed upon and prepared the following rule, and do hereby propose that the same may be approved and established by us, under our royal sign manual, and be added to their other rules, viz.—

“That the said governors shall proceed to augment, without lot, to the annual value of 50*l.*, all those cures which are fitly qualified and do not exceed that value; and that so soon as all the said cures shall have been so augmented, they shall proceed to augment by lot those cures which are fitly qualified and do not exceed 60*l.* per annum.”

And the said governors have humbly requested that the said proposed rule may be added to the rules heretofore given and established by our royal predecessors. We have thought fit to approve of the said rule, and do by these presents approve and establish the same same accordingly, and do hereby direct that the said rule be added to the other rules formerly given and established by our late royal predecessors.

Given at our Court at Carlton House, the 22d day of March 1824, in the 5th year of our reign.

(By his Majesty's command),

Robert Peel.

ROYAL SIGN MANUAL, 6th William 4th (3d March 1836).

William the Fourth, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c.

To all to whom these presents shall come greeting;—

WHEREAS the governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy, have humbly represented unto us that our royal predecessor Queen Anne, by her Letters Patent, bearing date the 15th day of March 1713-14, granted a new charter to the corporation of the governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy, containing such rules and constitutions for the better government of the said corporation, and such alterations and additions as our said royal predecessor Queen Anne had thought fit to approve by her Order in Council therein mentioned.

That, by an Act of Parliament passed in the first year of the reign of his Majesty King George the First, cap. 10, it was enacted that all such rules and orders as should from time to time be agreed upon, prepared, and proposed by the said governors to his Majesty, his heirs and successors, and by him or them approved, under his or their sign manual, should be as good, valid, and effectual rules and orders as if the same were made or established under the Great Seal.

That our predecessors have, at several times, by instruments under the royal sign manual, exercised the power given to them by the said Act of Parliament of approving and establishing rules and orders proposed by the governors, and the original rules and constitutions have been thereby altered and varied, and certain new rules and orders have been established.

That the said governors are at present, under and by virtue of the said original rules and constitutions (altered and varied as before mentioned), and such new rules and orders as aforesaid, authorised and empowered to augment livings and cures, fitly qualified and not exceeding the yearly value of 200*l.* fixed and certain, with the sum of 200*l.* out of the royal bounty fund, where any person or persons shall, in order to obtain the same, give a benefaction of 200*l.* or a greater sum in money, or the value thereof in lands or tithes, or a clear yearly rent-charge or annuity of 15*l.*, but the said governors are directed to augment, without lot, to the annual value of 50*l.*, all those livings and cures which are fitly qualified and do not exceed that value, and so soon as the same shall have been so augmented, to augment by lot those which do not exceed 60*l.* per annum, and the said governors are restricted from appropriating in any year more than one-third of the monies that may be at their disposal to the augmentation of livings and cures exceeding the yearly value of 60*l.*

That it has been found by the governors in practice that the more advantageous mode of disposing of the greater part of the royal bounty fund is in meeting benefactions; and they are therefore desirous to obtain authority to appropriate the whole or any part of the disposable monies of that fund which may be in their hands in each year in that manner, if they shall think fit, but nevertheless without being restricted from augmenting at their pleasure, with part of the said monies, such livings and cures without lot as do not exceed 50*l.* per annum, and by lot those which do not exceed 60*l.* per annum, according to the rules and constitutions now in force.

That in order to obtain such authority from us, the said governors have agreed upon and prepared the following rule, and do hereby propose that the same may be approved and established by us, under our royal sign manual, and be added to their other rules, viz.—

“ That the said governors may appropriate, if they shall think fit, the whole or any part of the moneys of which they may have the disposal in each year, in respect of the royal bounty fund, in grants of 200*l.* to livings and cures not exceeding the improved yearly value of 200*l.* fixed and certain, where any person or persons, in order to obtain the bounty, will give a benefaction of 200*l.* or a greater sum in money, or the value thereof in lands or tithes, or a clear yearly rent-charge or annuity of 15*l.*; but nevertheless that the said governors shall not be restricted from the exercise of the power which they now have of augmenting without lot any such livings and cures, being fitly qualified, as do not exceed 50*l.* per annum, and by lot any such livings and cures as do not exceed 60*l.* per annum, if the said governors shall in any cases think fit so to augment the said livings and cures respectively.”

And the said governors do humbly request that the said proposed rule may be added to the rules heretofore given and established by our royal predecessors.

We have thought fit to approve of the said rule, and do by these presents approve and establish the same accordingly, and do hereby direct that the said rule be added to the other rules formerly given and established by our late royal predecessor Queen Anne, by her Letters Patent, granted as above-mentioned to the governors of the said bounty for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy.

Given at our Court at St. James's, the 3d day of March 1836, in the 6th year of our reign.

(By his Majesty's command),

J. Russell.

ROYAL SIGN MANUAL, 8th Victoria (14th March 1845).

Victoria, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith.

To all to whom these presents shall come greeting;—

WHEREAS the governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy have humbly represented unto us that the governors are, by their rules, enabled to meet benefactions with grants out of the money which may in each year be at their disposal, and to appropriate such benefactions and grants to the augmentation of the particular cures for the use of which such benefactions may be given.

That, by the sixth rule, contained in the Letters Patent granted by her Majesty Queen Anne, on the 5th day of March, in the 12th year of her reign, it is prescribed,—

“That if several benefactors offer themselves, the governors shall first comply with those that offer most.”

And by the seventh rule therein it is prescribed,—

“That where the sums offered by other benefactors are equal, the governors shall always prefer the poorer livings.”

And by the eighth rule it is prescribed,—

“That where the cures to be augmented are of equal value, and the benefactions offered by others are equal, there they shall be preferred that first offer.”

That the governors have found it inconvenient in practice to be limited in their grants to meet benefactions by the several rules before recited, and they consider it would conduce to the more perfect administration of the trust reposed in them if the same were severally repealed. And they therefore propose,—

“That the sixth, seventh, and eighth rules, contained in the said Letters Patent of the 5th day of March, 12th Queen Anne, may be repealed.”

And the governors had agreed upon and prepared the following rule, and do hereby propose that the same may be approved and established by us, under our royal sign manual, and be added to their other rules; viz.—

“That the said governors may make grants out of the monies which in each year may be at their disposal, whether belonging to the Royal Bounty Fund or the Parliamentary Grants Fund, to meet benefactions by others for the augmentation of cures qualified by their rules to receive the same, and that the said governors may, in their grants to meet benefactions, prefer such cures so qualified as aforesaid, out of all those for which in any year benefactions shall be offered, as shall in their judgment appear best entitled to be so augmented.”

And the said governors do humbly pray us that the sixth, seventh, and eighth rules in the said Letters Patent of the 5th day of March, 12th Queen Anne, severally hereinbefore set forth, may be made void, and that the rule hereby proposed may be approved, confirmed, and established by us, and added to the existing rules granted by us and our royal predecessors to the said governors. We have thought fit to approve of the said rule, and do by these presents approve and establish the same accordingly, and do hereby direct that the said rule be added to the other rules formerly given and established by our late royal predecessor Queen Anne, by her Letters Patent, granted as above-mentioned to the governors of the said bounty for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy.

Given at our Court at St. James's, the 14th day of March 1845, in the 8th year of our reign.

(By Her Majesty's command),

J. R. G. Graham.

ROYAL SIGN MANUAL, 19th Victoria (14th February 1856).

Victoria, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith.

To all to whom these presents shall come greeting;—

WHEREAS the governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy have humbly represented unto us that, by Letters Patent bearing date the 5th day of March, in the 12th year of the reign of her late Majesty Queen Anne, certain rules were established for carrying on the trusts reposed in the said governors, amongst which are the following; viz.—

“ That the stated sum to be allowed to each cure which shall be augmented, be 200*l.*, to be invested in a purchase, at the expense of the corporation.

“ That in order to encourage benefactions from others, and thereby the sooner to complete the good that was intended by our Bounty, the governors may give the said sum of 200*l.* to cures not exceeding 35*l.* per annum, where any persons will give the same or greater sum in land or tithes.”

That, by an instrument in writing, under the royal sign manual, bearing date the 23d day of February, in the first year of our reign, the following rule was established; viz.—

“ That henceforth it shall be lawful for the governors, at their discretion, and if they shall think it expedient, but not otherwise, to give in any one year to the same cure one or more than one sum, but not exceeding three sums of 200*l.* each, out of the Royal Bounty fund or the Parliamentary fund, if such cure be fitly qualified, and do not exceed the improved yearly value of 200*l.*, in every or any case where any person or persons, in order to obtain the same, will, in respect of each such sum of 200*l.* as aforesaid, give to the said cure a benefaction of 200*l.* or a greater sum in money, or of lands or tithes of the value or a greater value than 200*l.*, or of a rent-charge or stipend of or exceeding the sum of 15*l.* per annum, and whether each such benefaction shall consist partly of money, partly of land, and partly of a yearly rent-charge or stipend, or of any two of the said several kinds of benefaction, but so nevertheless that each such mixed benefaction be not in the whole less in value or amount than the sum of 200*l.*; and that for the purpose of ascertaining and fixing the total value of each such fixed benefaction, it shall be considered and computed that an annual rent-charge or stipend of 15*l.* is equal to a sum of 200*l.* in money, and to land and tithes, or any or either of them, of the value altogether or separately, as the case may be, of 200*l.*, and so in proportion for any less sum than 15*l.* of annual rent-charge or stipend.”

That the application to the governors for grants to meet benefactions chiefly for the purpose of providing parsonage-houses for the residence of incumbents of poor livings, have of late become so numerous, that the governors have not had sufficient funds at their disposal to meet the greater number of such applications with a grant in each case of 200*l.*; and the governors consider that if they were empowered to grant at their discretion a less sum than 200*l.* to meet benefactions for the purpose of providing residence-houses, they would in consequence have the means of meeting a much greater number of applications from benefactors for grants for that most beneficial purpose.

And the said governors have agreed upon a rule, and do humbly solicit the same may be approved and established by us, under our royal sign manual, and be added to their other rules; viz.—

“ That grants hereafter to be made by the governors to cures to meet benefactions, according to their rules, may, at the discretion of the governors, be of a less sum than 200*l.* in cases in which the declared object of benefactors is to provide a house for the residence of the incumbent, such grants, however, to be in no case less than 100*l.*”

And do humbly request that this rule may be added to the other rules formerly given and established by our royal predecessor Queen Anne, by her Letters Patent granted to the said governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy.

We have thought fit to approve of the said rule, and do by these presents approve and establish the same accordingly, and do hereby direct that the said rule be added to the other rules granted by us and our royal predecessors to the said governors.

Given at our Court at St. James's, the 4th day of February 1856, in the 19th year of our reign.

(By Her Majesty's command),

G. Grey.

It has been the practice of the governors of late years to object to make grants to meet benefactions to benefices under 45*l.* per annum, but exceptions have occasionally been made.

SECONDLY,—AS TO LOANS.

- (1). To BISHOPS. (2). To DEANS and CANONS. (3). To INCUMBENTS of BENEFICES.

- (1). To BISHOPS.—These are authorised by Acts 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 77, and 5 & 6 Vict. c. 26.

Also, by special Act of Parliament, loans were made by the governors for rebuilding, &c., Lambeth Palace, and the country residence, at Addington, of the Archbishop of Canterbury; the sum of 10,125*l.*, payable, with 4 per cent. interest, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, remains due.

- (2). To DEANS and CANONS, by Act 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113.

By special Act of Parliament, a loan was made by the governors to the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury for restoring part of their cathedral; the sum of 6,000*l.*, payable, with 4 per cent. interest, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, remains due.

- (3). To INCUMBENTS of BENEFICES, by Acts 17 Geo. 3, c. 53, 1 & 2 Vict. c. 23, 1 & 2 Vict. c. 106, and 28 & 29 Vict. c. 69.

By the Act 17 Geo. 3, c. 53, incumbents are restricted from borrowing where the estimated cost is less than one year's net income; but by the Act 28 & 29 Vict. c. 69, they are allowed to borrow for the purposes of the former Acts, and also of that Act, any sum not less than 100*l.*

In all cases the governors ascertain that the income of the preferment is sufficient to secure the repayment of principal and interest; loans on mortgage are repayable in 31 years, by 30 equal yearly instalments, commencing from the end of the first year of the mortgage; in the first year, only interest is payable. The rate of interest, where the income of the preferment exceeds 350*l.*, is 4*l.* per cent. per annum; where it is less, 3*l.* 10*s.* per cent. per annum.

As to BENEFICES only.

The following is the scale, limiting the amount of Loans, adopted by the Governors:

Amount of Income.		Limit of Loan.
1.	Where the net yearly income does not exceed £. 300	-	Not more than 3 years net income.
2.	Where it amounts to £. 300 and is under - £. 500	- -	ditto - £. 900
3.	- - Ditto - - £. 500 - ditto - £. 600	- -	ditto - £. 1,000
4.	- - Ditto - - £. 600 - ditto - £. 700	- -	ditto - £. 1,200
5.	- - Ditto - - £. 700 - ditto - £. 800	- -	ditto - £. 1,400
6.	- - Ditto - - £. 800 - ditto - £. 900	- -	ditto - £. 1,600

And in every case exceeding £. 1,600, a special application is to be made; and the same when the repayment of the loan is guaranteed by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners.

The President of the Lincoln Church Association to Sir George Grey, Bart, M.P.

Lincoln Church Association for the Augmentation of Poor Livings,
Saxon Street, Lincoln,

Sir,

16 December 1865.

I BEG to forward you, by the hands of the Lay Secretary of the Lincoln Church Association (Mr. J. Laffan Hanby), the Petition from the poor clergy to Her Gracious Majesty, relative to the management of Queen Anne’s Bounty ; and I shall feel obliged if you will do the Association the favour of informing Her Majesty, in presenting the Petition, that it is signed by 1,439 incumbents of livings under 200 l. a year, of which three are returned at “nil;” one at 7 l. 10 s. a year; two under 20 l. per annum; six between 20 l. and 30 l.; 12 between 30 l. and 40 l.; 61 between 50 l. and 60 l.; 194 between 60 l. and 80 l.; 256 between 80 l. and 100 l.; and 221 between 100 l. and 120 l. In many of these cases there is no house of residence for the incumbent.

I have, &c.

(signed) George Rigg,
President of the Lincoln Association
for the Augmentation of Poor Livings.

The Right Honourable
Sir George Grey, Bart., M.P.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty Victoria, by the Grace of God Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith.

The humble Petition of the undersigned Poor Incumbents of the Church of England—

Sheweth,

THAT in the year 1704 Her Majesty Queen Anne, of pious memory, did generously bestow on the poor incumbents the first fruits and tenths payable to the Crown, and did expressly define the object of such royal bounty to be “the augmentation of the mean and insufficient maintenance belonging to the clergy in divers parts of this Kingdom :”

That the grant was confirmed by Parliament, and trustees appointed to administer the fund, under the title of “Governors of Queen Anne’s Bounty for the Augmentation of the Maintenance of the Poor Clergy :”

That many small livings have been raised by donations from the bounty; but that for many years past a large portion of such bounty has been diverted to purposes not contemplated by the Royal Donor, though there are still a considerable number of benefices, the incomes of which—varying from 10 l. to 200 l.—afford only “a mean and insufficient maintenance” for the incumbents.

That though Your Majesty’s Petitioners are fully impressed with the desirability of obtaining from the patron of a living, or the parishioners, a benefaction in aid of a grant from the Bounty, they humbly submit that where, owing to the want of means or other causes, such benefactions cannot be obtained—as in the case of the benefices held by many of the undersigned—the restriction inflexibly acted upon by the Governors of the Bounty unjustly excludes a large number of the poor clergy from any share or prospect of a share in the boon which your royal predecessor intended to confer upon them.

That as long as there are benefices in the Church which require augmentation, in order to afford “a decent and sufficient maintenance” for the incumbents, this fund ought, your Petitioners humbly submit, to be wholly devoted to that object and not to any other purpose, however commendable in itself.

We, therefore, the undersigned poor clergy of the Church of England, humbly entreat Your Majesty’s gracious consideration of our claim to relief from this fund.

And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c.

Mr. H. Waddington to the Secretary to the Queen Anne’s Bounty Fund.

Sir,

Whitehall, 5th January 1866.

I AM directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to transmit to you the enclosed copy of a Petition, addressed to the Queen, by 1,439 Incumbents of Livings under 200 l. a year, praying Her Majesty to be pleased to consider their claims to relief from Queen Anne’s Bounty; and I am to request that you will favour Sir George Grey with your observations on the same.

Christopher Hodgson, Esq.,
Secretary to the Queen Anne’s Bounty Fund,
3 A, Great Dean’s Yard, Westminster.

I am, &c.,

The Secretary to the Queen Anne’s Bounty Fund to Sir George Grey, Bart., M.P.

Queen Anne’s Bounty Office, Dean’s Yard,
7th February 1866.

Sir,

I HAVE had the honour to receive a letter, dated 5th January last, addressed to me by Mr. Waddington, inclosing the copy of a Petition to Her Majesty, by 1,439 Incumbents of Livings, to consider their claim to relief from Queen Anne’s Bounty. I have submitted to the Governors my statement on the subject, and, with their sanction, I now forward the same to you in obedience to your request, signified by Mr. Waddington.

The Right Honourable
Sir George Grey, Bart., M.P.,
&c. &c. &c.

(signed) Chrisr. Hodgson.

STATEMENT by Mr. Hodgson, Secretary and Treasurer to the Corporation of "The Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the Augmentation of the Maintenance of the Poor Clergy," with reference to a Petition addressed to the Queen by 1,439 Incumbents of Livings under 200 l. a year, praying Her Majesty to be pleased to consider their claim to relief from Queen Anne's Bounty.

It is alleged in the Petition that, for many years past, a large portion of the Bounty has been diverted to purposes not contemplated by the Royal Donor. On the other hand, I consider that the operations of the Governors have been strictly within rule, and that the monies which were yearly at their disposal for the augmentation of livings under 200 l. per annum have for many years past been most advantageously applied.

The original rules, which were established by Letters Patent under the Great Seal dated 5th March 1813-14, have been from time to time varied by rules approved under the Royal sign manual, it having been directed by Act of Parliament, that rules so approved should be as good as if the same were made or established under the Great Seal.

Up to the year 1824, the Governors were empowered to augment with 200 l. such livings as did not exceed 50 l. per annum, and also to make grants of 200 l. each to meet benefactions to livings where benefactors should give 200 l., or a larger sum, or an equivalent in land or rent-charge; and they exercised both powers.

By a rule under the Royal sign manual, dated 22d March, 1824, it was established, by His late Majesty King George IV., that the said governors shall proceed to augment, without lot, to the annual value of 50 l., all those cures which are fitly qualified, and do not exceed that value; and that so soon as all the said cures shall have been so augmented, they shall proceed to augment by lot those cures which are fitly qualified, and do not exceed 60 l. per annum. In pursuance of the said rule, the Governors proceeded to augment, without lot, such livings under 50 l. per annum as were fitly qualified; many not qualified were properly omitted; afterwards, by the separation of districts from parishes, and the formation of district chapelries (many with small endowments), other poor livings have been since created; this may account for some of the livings stated in the petition to be now of less yearly value than 50 l.

Afterwards, in consequence of the numerous offers of benefactions to obtain a grant from the Bounty Fund in each case of 200 l., the Governors made a representation to His late Majesty King William IV., and a rule under the Royal sign manual was granted on the 3rd March, 1836, which is here set forth:—"That the said Governors may appropriate, if they shall think fit, the whole or any part of the monies of which they may have the disposal in each year, in respect of the Royal Bounty Fund, in grants of 200 *l. to livings and cures not exceeding the improved yearly value of 200 l. fixed and certain, where any person or persons, in order to obtain the Bounty, will give a benefaction of 200 l. or a greater sum in money, or the value thereof in lands or tithes, or a clear yearly rent-charge or annuity of 15 l.; but nevertheless that the said Governors shall not be restricted from the exercise of the power which they now have of augmenting, without lot, any such livings and cures, being fitly qualified, as do not exceed 50 l. per annum; and by lot, any such livings and cures as do not exceed 60 l. per annum, if the said Governors shall in any cases think fit so to augment the said livings and cures respectively." Since the date of this rule the Governors have, except in a few cases, confined their grants to meeting benefactions to livings under 200 l. per annum; and, in every subsequent year offers of benefactions have been so numerous that the whole of the disposable money of the Governors has been applied in meeting them.

In the year 1837 the whole administration of Queen Anne's Bounty underwent a searching investigation by a Select Committee of the House of Commons. In the Report of that Committee, it is stated as follows:—

"The operations of the Governors were in the commencement restricted to the relief of the revenues of the first fruits and tenths from various incumbrances, and to the augmentation of poor livings, by money to be laid out in land. Poor livings livings were successively raised to the annual value of, first, 10 l., then to 20 l., 30 l., 40 l., 50 l., and finally to 60 l. The method adopted was that of placing the names of unaugmented poor livings in a box, and dividing the sums in hand among such as might be drawn out the first. Each donation or lot was limited to the sum of 200 l. Any poor living was allowed to receive more lots than one till it was raised to the yearly value of the above-mentioned sums. Above that amount no living could receive an additional lot till all the other livings on the Bounty List had been in their turn augmented."

* By a subsequent rule, grants of 200 l., 150 l., or 100 l., are allowed, where benefactions are offered for building a parsonage.

The Report proceeds to state—

"Another method of augmentation was, and is, by meeting benefactions. In this way poor livings, at first those not exceeding the yearly value of 35 l., and afterwards successively those not exceeding the yearly value of 45 l., 50 l., 80 l., 120 l., and finally of 200 l., were, and are, augmented with the sum of 200 l., where any person or persons, in order to obtain the bounty, contribute 200 l., or a greater sum of money, or the value thereof in lands or tithes, or a clear yearly rent-charge or annuity of 15 l. This liberal plan has been so liberally met, that the bounty frequently obtains by much the larger sum, and the Governors have latterly, under a recent rule under the sign manual, disposed of the larger part of the annual revenue of the bounty fund in meeting benefactions."

The result of the plan adopted by the Governors in making grants solely to meet benefactions is shown as follows: In 29 consecutive years, ending 31st December 1865, they have received from benefactors (corporate bodies, incumbents, patrons, trustees, and individuals), for augmenting livings under 200 l. per annum, donations of various descriptions, to the value, in the whole, of 934,529 l., to meet grants amounting to 340,263 l., the latter sum being all the Governors had to dispose of for augmentation purposes in those 29 years.

As the Governors have not at their disposal the means of allotting to poor livings more than from 10,000 l. to 11,000 l. per annum, it is to be considered whether it would answer any beneficial purpose to allot, as formerly, a portion of the disposable income to some of the 1,439 livings named in the petition without a benefaction; this, it is to be presumed, is what the petitioners desire. If two-thirds were allowed for that purpose, say 7,000 l. in each year, what a very slow process it would be, in augmenting up to 60 l. per annum the livings stated in the petition under that amount! Whereas, by the addition of benefactions to the disposable sum of from 10,000 l. to 11,000 l. per annum, a considerable impression would be made in the mass of livings under 200 l. per annum. There is one important fact which has partly induced the Governors to apply their disposable money in meeting benefactions, namely, that they have thereby in most cases been instrumental in providing parsonage-houses; for benefactors have shown the greatest readiness to exercise their benevolence for that object; and the greater part of the benefactions, and grants to meet them, have of late been applied to the building or purchasing parsonage-houses. It may be remarked, also, that the augmentation funds (much increased of late years) at the disposal of Marshall's, Horner's, and Pyncomb's charities can only be given as benefactions to augment poor livings, in conjunction with grants made by the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty; so that if the tardy process of devoting the whole or a considerable part of the Bounty fund disposable in each year to the augmentation, unconditionally and without benefaction, to meet it, of livings under 60 l. a year, a large number of livings under 200 l. per annum would thenceforth be deprived of aid from the Bounty fund.

Moreover, it may be observed that of late, diocesan subscriptions, and part of the money arising from the sale of the patronage of livings in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, have formed a considerable part of benefactions offered to and met by the governors.

I am authorised to add, that it would give the Governors great satisfaction were they able to suggest alterations to be established by the Queen for the better administration of this great charity.

COPIES of CORRESPONDENCE between the Commissioners of National Education, Ireland, or any of their Secretaries or Officers, and the Wexford Convent School, in or since the Year 1864, relative to the Rules for Religious Instruction in the School.

1. LETTER from Manager of the Wexford Convent School to the Secretaries to the National Board.

Gentlemen,

Convent of Mercy, Wexford,
27 January 1865.

WILL you kindly let me know, is it contrary to any rule of the Board to take a class into an adjoining room, off the school, for religious instruction at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school, and when the latter is not in the least interfered with.

I remain, &c.
(signed) Sister Mary, Evangelist.

2. LETTER from the Secretaries of the National Board to the Manager of Wexford Convent School.

(Rules—1034/65—Wexford I. N. S.—B. O. 3/2/65.)

Madam,

Office of National Education,
6 February 1865.

WE have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 27th ultimo, asking, "Is it contrary to any rule of the Board to take a class into an adjoining room, off the school, for religious instruction at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school, and when the latter is not in the least interfered with"?

We are directed to inform you, in reply, that the Commissioners do consider it contrary to the spirit of their rules to withdraw children for religious instruction during the time notified for secular instruction, even though it be arranged to give the former in a separate room.

We are further directed to remind you, that religious instruction may be given in a National school before, and after the ordinary school business, and, if necessary, and no practical inconvenience, at one intermediate time during the day.

We enclose a copy of the Board's Rules, and are to request attention to paragraphs 12 and 13, part I., Sect. IV.

We have, &c.

3. LETTER from Managers of Wexford Convent School to the Secretaries of the National Board.

Gentlemen,

Convent of Mercy, Wexford,
10 February 1865.

IN proposing the question to you, as to whether it was contrary to any rule of the Board "to take a class into an adjoining room, off the school, for religious religious instruction at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school"? I omitted the word occasionally. I was well aware that doing so continually would be a violation of rule, and, therefore, I did not think of inserting the above word in my query.

I remain, &c.
(signed) Sister Mary, Evangelist.

4. LETTER from the Secretaries of the National Board to the Manager of Wexford Convent School.

(1506/65—Wexford Infant National School 4949—B. O. 27/6/65.)

Office of National Education,
5 July 1865.

Madam,

WE have again brought under the notice of the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 27 January, in which you ask if it be contrary to any rule of the Board "to take a class into an adjoining room, off the school, for religious instruction, at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school, and when the latter is not in the least interfered with"?

We have also submitted to the Commissioners your letter of the 10 February, in which you inform them that in your former communication you omitted the word "occasionally."

The Commissioners having directed the head and district inspectors to confer with you on the subject of your letters, find, from the report of these officers,—

That you seek the privilege of giving special religious instruction to some of the pupils, while the others are engaged at secular instruction, in addition to the religious instruction given to all the pupils under the arrangements hitherto existing.

That this special religious instruction is to be restricted to the pupils who, being most backward, require special preparation for the sacraments of their Church; is to occupy from 20 to 30 minutes for two or three days in the week, and not more than three, or less than two months each year.

That the time is to be from 11 o'clock to 11.20 or 11.30 o'clock.

The occasions, preparation for confirmation, or other sacraments.

And to be given in an apartment quite separate from those in which secular instruction will be communicated at the same time.

The Commissioners direct us to inform you, that there is nothing in your proposal as now presented to them at variance with their rules or the spirit of the National system, provided the following conditions be observed :—

The right must be so exercised as not to impede materially the secular instruction given in the school.

The secular instruction must, in all such cases, be regularly carried on, in the school-room, for the benefit of such children as are not partakers of the "extern" religious instruction.

That the teachers must not permit, on such occasions, any child to absent itself from the secular instruction who is not of the same faith as the person who is giving that "extern" religious instruction to the children of his own Church.

We have, &c.

MINUTES of the BOARD on the same subject, giving the Names of the Commissioners present.

1.—COPY of MINUTE, dated 3 February 1865.

PRESENT:

Rev. Doctor Henry.
The Marquis of Kildare.
The Lord Chancellor.
The Earl of Dunraven.
Rev. John Hall.

John Lentaigue, Esq.
John O'Hagan, Esq.
Honourable Thomas Preston.
Right Hon. Alexander Macdonnell.

Read letter 1034/65, from Mrs. Walsh, manager of the Wexford Female (Convent) National School, asking, "Is it contrary to any rule of the Board to take a class into an adjoining room, off the school, for religious instruction, at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school, and when the latter is not in the least interfered with?"

Ordered, that Mrs. Walsh be informed, that the Commissioners do consider it contrary to the spirit of their rules to withdraw children for religious instruction during the time notified for secular instruction, even though it be arranged to give the former in a separate room.

Further, that Mrs. Walsh be reminded that religious instruction may be given before and after the ordinary school business; and, if necessary, and no practical inconvenience, at one intermediate time during the day.

A copy of the Board's Rules is to be sent to Mrs. Walsh, and her attention called to paragraphs 12 and 13 of Section IV. Part I.

2.—COPY of MINUTE, dated 17 February 1865.

PRESENT:

The Marquis of Kildare.
Right Hon. The Lord Chancellor.
Chief Justice Monahan.
Rt. Hon. The Attorney Genl. (Lawson).

Rev. John Hall.
John Lentaigue, Esq.
Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

Read letter No. 1506/65, from Mrs. Walsh, manager of the Wexford Female (Convent) National School, stating, in reply to the Board's order of the 3d instant, that, when asking was it contrary to the rule of the Board to take a class for religious instruction into a room, off the school-room, while secular instruction was going on in the latter? she omitted to use the word "occasionally."

Ordered, that the head and district inspectors be directed to wait upon and ascertain from Mrs. Walsh, what is the precise nature of the privilege which she seeks, and its extent. Also when, on what occasions, and in what way she means to exercise it.

3.—COPY of MINUTE of the 10th March 1865.

PRESENT:

Rt. Hon. The Lord Chancellor.
James Gibson, Esq.
Right Hon. Judge O'Hagan,

Rev. John Hall.
John Lentaigue, Esq.
Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

The Commissioners postpone the consideration of the letter from Head Inspector Patterson and District Inspector Dugan, reporting the result of their interviews (held as directed by Board's order of the 17th ult.), with the manager of the Wexford Infant (Convent) National School, with the view of ascertaining the precise nature and extent of the privilege she seeks with regard to the occasional special religious instruction of some of the pupils in an adjoining room while the rest are engaged at secular instruction in the school.

4.—COPY of MINUTE, dated the 21st March 1865.

PRESENT:

Rev. Doctor Henry.
 Right Hon. The Lord Chancellor.
 James Gibson, Esq.
 Rev. John Hall.

John Lentaigne, Esq.
 James W. Murland, Esq.
 Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

The Commissioners further postpone the consideration of the head and district inspector's letter in the case of the Wexford Convent National School, where it is proposed to give certain religious instruction to some of the pupils in an adjoining apartment, while the rest are engaged at secular instruction in the school-room.

5.—COPY of MINUTE of the 16th May 1865.

PRESENT:

James Gibson, Esq.
 Right Hon. the Earl of Dunraven.
 Rev. John Hall.
 John Lentaigne, Esq.

John O'Hagan, Esq.
 James W. Murland, Esq.
 Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

The Commissioners postpone the consideration of the head and district inspector's letter of the 24th February, reporting the result of their interview (held as directed by Board's order of the 17th February) with the manager of the Wexford Infant (Convent) School, with the view of ascertaining the precise nature and extent of the privilege she seeks with regard to the occasional special religious instruction of some of the pupils in an adjoining apartment, while the rest are engaged at secular instruction in the school-room.

6.—COPY of MINUTE of the 30th May 1865.

PRESENT:

Rev. Doctor Henry.
 Right Hon. Judge Longfield.
 Right Hon. Judge O'Hagan.
 John Lentaigne, Esq.

John O'Hagan, Esq.
 James W. Murland, Esq.
 Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

The Commissioners again postpone till next meeting the consideration of the case of Wexford Convent National School, when the manager (Mrs. Walsh) proposes to give occasional religious instruction to a class of pupils in an adjoining apartment, off the school-room, while secular instruction is going on in the latter.

7.—COPY of MINUTE, dated the 13th June 1865.

PRESENT:

The Marquis of Kildare.
 Honourable Judge Longfield.
 Right Hon. Judge O'Hagan.
 Chief Justice Monahan.
 Lord Chief Baron (Pigot).

Rev. John Hall.
 John Lentaigne, Esq.
 John O'Hagan, Esq.
 Right Hon. Judge Fitzgerald.
 Right Hon. Alex. Macdonnell.

The Commissioners defer, until the meeting of the Board on the 27th instant, the consideration of the application from Mrs. Walsh, manager of Wexford Convent National School, for leave to take a class occasionally into an adjoining apartment, off the school-room, for religious instruction while secular instruction is going on in the latter.

8.—COPY of MINUTE, dated the 27th June 1865.

PRESENT:

Marquis of Kildare.
Hon. Judge Longfield.
Right Hon. Judge O'Hagan.
Rev. John Hall.

John Lentaigne, Esq.
Hon. J. Preston.
J. W. Murland, Esq.
Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

The secretary again submits the different papers in the case of the Wexford Convent School, the manager of which has applied for certain liberty in regard to the imparting of religious instruction as follows:—

Letters 1,034/65 1,506/65 from Mrs. Walsh, the first asking permission “to take a class into an adjoining room, off the school, for religious instruction at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school, and when the latter is not in the least interfered with.” And the subsequent letter, dated the 10th February, explaining (on the permission being refused by Board's order of the 3d February) that the liberty sought is only intended to be used “occasionally,” Also letter dated the 24th February, from Head Inspector Patterson and District Inspector Dugan, reporting that, as directed by the Board's order of the 17th February, they waited on Mrs. Walsh, from whom they obtained the following explanation as to the precise nature of the privilege she seeks, its extent, when, on what occasions, and in what way she means to exercise it: viz.

1. Mrs. Walsh seeks the privilege of giving special religious instruction to some of the pupils, when the rest are engaged at secular instruction, in addition to the religious instruction given to all the pupils under the arrangements hitherto existing.

2. This special religious instruction is to be restricted to those pupils who, being most backward in religious knowledge, require special preparation for the sacraments of their church, and is to occupy from 20 to 30 minutes, two or three days weekly, not more than three nor less than two months of the year.

3. The time for it is to be from 11 to 11.20, or 11.30 o'clock.

4. The occasions being the preparation for confirmation or other sacrament.

5. The special religious instruction is to be given in an apartment quite separate from those in which the secular instruction will be, at the same time, communicated.

The secretary further submits letters, Nos. 2,458, 2,469, and 4,826/65 from the Bishop of Derry, the Attorney General, and Mr. Gibson respectively, setting forth the reasons why, in their opinion, the permission requested by Mrs. Walsh should be refused. The Resident Commissioner moves that the applicant be informed, “that there is nothing in her proposal of the 10th February, as now presented, at variance with the rules or spirit of the National system, provided that the following cautions are observed:—

“1. The right must be so exercised as not to impede materially the secular education of the school.

“2. That the secular education must, in all such cases, be regularly carried on in the school room for the benefit of such children as are not partakers of the ‘extern’ religious instruction.

“3. That the teacher must not permit, on such occasions, any child to absent itself from the secular instruction who is not of the same faith as the person who is giving that ‘extern’ religious instruction to the children of his own Church.”

The Rev. John Hall proposes, as an amendment to the foregoing, that Mrs. Walsh be referred to the secretaries' letter of the 6th February, conveying the order of the Board of the 3d February, and be informed that the Commissioners adhere to that decision.

Mr. Hall's amendment is not seconded. The motion of the Resident Commissioner is accordingly carried.

DISSENTS OR PROTESTS OF COMMISSIONERS.

- 1.—COPY of LETTER from the Bishop of Derry, setting forth the reason why, in his opinion, the permission requested by Mrs. Walsh should be refused.

Gentlemen,

Palace, Derry, 18 March 1865.

As it will not be in my power to attend the meeting of the Board on Tuesday next, the 21st instant, I beg to forward a memorandum expressive of my opinion on the subject, marked No. 9, on the programme of business for that day, and, in doing so, I cannot but express my surprise that the decision arrived at, as I may fairly suppose, on due consideration, on a former occasion, should now be sought to be disturbed.

I am, &c.

(signed) William Derry.

The Secretaries of the

MEMORANDUM.

"The Bishop of Derry is of opinion that the liberty sought for by the presiding nun of the Wexford Convent is contrary to the spirit, and, he thinks, to the letter also of the Board's rules; that it is a direct innovation on their obvious and acknowledged bearing, and, if conceded, can only lead to further demands, creating great dissatisfaction in the minds of several of the Commissioners and establishing what ought to be carefully avoided, a general persuasion that there is no stability in the principles or practice of the National system of education."

- 2.—COPY of LETTER from the Attorney General to the same effect.

Lifford, 19 March 1865.

OBSERVING in the programme for Tuesday a matter relating to the Wexford proposal to give occasional religious instruction, intermixed with the secular hours, and, as I am not able to attend, I think it right to state that my objection to the proposal remains in full force, and I hope no change will be made without very full consideration.

Yours, &c.

The Secretaries of the Education Board.

(signed) J. A. Lawson.

- 3.—COPY of LETTER from James Gibson, Esq., to the same effect.

Gentlemen,

35 Mountjoy Square, S., 10 June 1865.

As I cannot be at the meeting of the Commissioners of National Education on Tuesday, I beg to record, through you, my very decided opinion against the application made by Mrs. Walsh, manager of the Wexford Infant (Convent) National School, and the practice reported on by Mr. Hunter (head inspector) as having hitherto taken place in Fenagh National School, County Leitrim, the application of Mrs. Walsh being also of the same purport as that made by F. La Touche, Esq., in respect of the Leitrim Model School.

I consider that the Board should not sanction the withdrawal of children attending the schools during the regularly notified hours for secular instruction, from the school for the purpose of special religious instruction, and am of opinion that, during the period of school business, the only opportunities of religious instruction should be at those times, mentioned in the time table as specially appropriated to such instruction.

If the Board should give their approval to the practice which is now suggested, I am of opinion that great danger will result to the system, so far as the secular instruction is concerned, and that the security which it has hitherto afforded against any undue interference with the religious principles of the children attending the schools, will be very much weakened, if not altogether removed; I have, therefore, to express my strong conviction against the concession now sought for by Mr. Walsh, and Mr. La Touche, and the practice reported by Mr. Hunter.

The Secretaries.

4.—For the Rev. John Hall's dissent, see his amendment in latter part of the Minute, dated the 27th June 1865.

3. In what branches, if any, did you observe, either in the amount or quality of the instruction given, any defect deserving of notice?—Class II. backward in grammar and arithmetic.

4. Is vocal music taught; upon what system; for what time; and has the teacher a certificate of competency?—No.

5. If agriculture is taught, what time is devoted to it?—No.

6. If needlework is taught, state the time devoted to it, and with what success?—About three-quarters of an hour daily; attended with fair success.

7. Days for general or combined ordinary instruction?—Monday to Friday.

The number of hours each day given exclusively to such combined instruction?—From 9 to 12 o'clock, and 12.30 to 2.45 o'clock in summer; 9.30 to 12 o'clock, and 12.30 to 2.45 o'clock in winter.

(I.) Specify the course of religious instruction given to the children, and (II.) state precisely the arrangements, as to time, &c., for giving such, and (III.) whether of a nature to interfere with, or impede the secular business of the school?—(I.) Twelve to 12.30 o'clock on above days. A few minutes spent in prayer, at dismissal after 2.45 o'clock. (III.) No.

Are these arrangements (I.) satisfactory to the parents of the children, and (II.) publicly notified on the time table?—Yes.

8. Are the Board's rules observed as to (I.) Inscription; (II.) General Lesson; (III.) Commissioners' rules; (IV.) Practical rules; (V.) School programme; (VI.) Time table; (VII.) Movable tablet for notification of religious instruction; (VIII.) Books for secular secular instruction; (IX.) Religious exercises and use of books of religious instruction?—Yes.

9. Is school bonâ fide open for children of all denominations?—Yes.

10. Teachers, &c.:—

Male.—School conducted by nuns of the Order of Mercy.

Female.—Monitors Joanna Devereux, Margaret Prendergast, M. A. Mathews, Mary Corcoran, senior; Alice Armstrong, junior.

11. State your opinion of the teachers as to (I.) acquirements, (II.) character, and (III.) method of conducting the school?—Satisfactory.

12. If a change of teachers, monitors, &c. have taken place since last inspection or report, give the name, and state the precise date of the resignation of the former, and (II.) that also of the appointment of the present?—

13. If the new teacher ever before taught in a national school, give the Roll number, and name of the last school wherein he or she taught?—

14. Give the name, age, religious denomination, class, and date of training, if trained, of new teacher, if any?—

15. Has this school been in constant operation since last inspection? If not, state the exact times, vacations, &c., included, for which it was closed, and the reason of its being so?—During Christmas and Easter vacations; also from the latter vacation up to 30th May last schoolhouse repairing.

16. Is the free stock of books in the school?—Yes.

17. When given?—November 1862.

18. What is the present state of free stock?—Good.

19. Is the school sufficiently supplied with books and other requisites for sale to pupils?—Fairly.

20. Are the accounts of the proficiency and attendance of the scholars, the receipts of fees, &c., kept neatly and accurately, and according to the prescribed forms? If not, state the nature and extent of the inaccuracy or neglect?—Fairly kept.

21. Are Rules VI. and VII. of the “Practical Rules for Teachers” observed?—Yes.

22. State of repair of house, as to roof, walls, glazing, flooring, and fitting up?—Good.

23. In what state are the privies as to repair and cleanliness?—Good.

24. Are there any defects in house or premises, requiring alteration or special attention?—No.

25. Has any change taken place in fitting up since last inspection? If so, what?—No.

26. Is present fitting up (I.) suitable, (II.) adequate, and (III.) in proper repair? If not, in what respect defective?—Yes.

27. (I.) State if you have observed any violation of rules not mentioned in the foregoing part of this report; (II.) your opinion of the course of instruction given in the school, and of the proficiency attained by its pupils; and (III.) whether on the whole you think it stationary, retrograde, or progressing?—(I.) None. (II.) Fairly in accordance with the programme, with exception of the infant classes, owing to defective methods. I considered the general proficiency attained very fair. (III.) Progressing.

28. State the subject of your interview with the manager or correspondent, and result of such interview. If you did not see him, state why?—She was present during inspection. I drew her attention to the following:

29. What suggestions or observations did you leave for the teacher's attention on the subjects following, or others? As (I.) course of instruction; (II.) mode of teaching; (III.) discipline, order, &c.; (IV.) accounts; (V.) schoolroom and premises; (VI.) supply of books and apparatus; (VII.) industrial training; (VIII.) observance of former suggestions?—(I.) Junior classes to be improved in reading. Class 1 to be taught to read easy sentences from the outset. Only a few of the letters to be taught at a time. Attention drawn to the principle upon which the first or earlier lessons are arranged in Book I. Class 2 to be improved in grammar and arithmetic. Analytical table of answering for each class given in Observation Book.

30. If any points calling for notice by the Board, or communication by letter from Office, specify them and describe their nature. If none, say so?—None.

24. Are there any defects in house or premises requiring alteration or special attention?—No.

25. Has any change taken place in fitting up since last inspection? If so, what?—Partially glazed partitions have been erected so as to divide the entire into four separate schools or class rooms: 1. Infant boys; 2. Infant girls; 3. Junior school; 4. Senior school.

26. Is present fitting up (I.) suitable, (II.) adequate, and (III.) in proper repair? If not, in what respects defective?—Yes.

27. (I.) State if you have observed any violation of rules not mentioned in the foregoing part of this report; (II.) your opinion of the course of instruction given in the school, and of the proficiency attained by its pupils; and (III.) whether on the whole you think it stationary, retrograde, or progressing?—I. No. II. Programme attended to; minimum proficiency hardly attained by senior classes. III. Progressing; the junior classes show a fair degree of improvement.

28. State the subject of your interview with the manager or correspondent, and result of such interview. If you did not see him, state why?—She was present during inspection. I made several suggestions on the defects in proficiency observed; also, in organization of school adapted to the new and improved arrangements of the schoolrooms. Separate time-tables to be prepared for the boys’ and girls’ infant departments; one time-table to serve for the junior and senior schools; these latter to be conducted as one school on the tripartite system.

29. What suggestions or observations did you leave for the teacher’s attention on the subjects following, or others? As—(I.) Course of instruction; (II.) Mode of teaching; (III.) Discipline, order, &c.; (IV.) Accounts; (V.) Schoolroom and premises. (VI.) Supply of books and apparatus; (VII.) Industrial training; (VIII.) Observance of former suggestions?—

COPIES of the “GENERAL LESSON,” sanctioned by the Board, as it stood before the year 1864, and as it now stands.

1.—COPIES of the “GENERAL LESSON” before 1864.

Christians should endeavour, as the Apostle Paul commands them, “to live peaceably with all men” (Rom. ch. xii. v. 18), even with those of a different religious persuasion.

Our Saviour, Christ, commanded his disciples to “love one another.” He taught taught them to love even their enemies, to bless those that cursed them, and to pray for those who persecuted them. He himself prayed for his murderers.

Many men hold erroneous doctrines, but we ought not to hate or persecute them. We ought to seek for the truth, and to hold fast what we are convinced is the truth; but not to treat harshly those who are in error. Jesus Christ did not intend his religion to be forced on men by violent means. He would not allow his disciples to fight for him.

If any persons treat us unkindly, we must not do the same to them; for Christ and his apostles have taught us not to return evil for evil. If we would obey Christ, we must do to others, not as they do to us, but as we would wish them to do to us.

Quarrelling with our neighbours and abusing them is not the way to convince them that we are in the right, and they in the wrong. It is more likely to convince them that we have not a Christian spirit. We ought to show ourselves followers of Christ, who, "when he was reviled, reviled not again," (1 Pet. ch. ii. v. 23), by behaving gently and kindly to everyone.

EDUCATION (CONSCIENCE CLAUSE.)

RETURN to an Address of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 31 July 1866;—for,

“COPY of the CORRESPONDENCE between the Archbishop of Canterbury and Earl Granville on the subject of the CONSCIENCE CLAUSE.”

Earl Granville to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Council Office,
30 June 1866.

My dear Lord Archbishop,

THE monthly paper of the National Society for July, in report of the proceedings and account of the debate of the annual meeting of the Society, omits all mention of your Grace's speech on that occasion respecting the Conscience Clause.

It appears, however, from a report in the “Times,” of the 7th June, that you spoke on this subject, and, in a manner very courteous to me, stated that my answer in the House of Lords to your question as to the interpretation of the Conscience Clause was, as far as it went, satisfactory, and that if it was ratified by Parliament, more would not be required. Your Grace, however, is reported to have said that the interpretation which I had put upon the Clause was at variance with that which had been put upon it by the Committee of Council on Education.

I should be much obliged to your Grace if you would inquire from the person who informed you of any interpretation differing from mine, where he found it given by the Committee of Council.

I am not aware of their having ever done so. It is a point upon which it is desirable that all doubt should be removed before my successor enters upon his official duties.

His Grace
the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury.

Yours, &c.
(signed) Granville.

The Archbishop of Canterbury to Earl Granville.

My dear Lord,

Lambeth Palace, 6 July 1866.

You have formed a correct idea of the tenor of the observations I made at the close of the annual meeting of the National Society. I then said that while I considered your Lordship's answer to my question in the House of Lords satisfactory, as far as it went, I did not see how it could be reconciled with the language of the Secretary of the Committee of Council on Education, in his correspondence with the Rev. Mr. Scott.

The words of your Lordship to which I alluded were as follows:—“It must be obvious to your Lordships, that not only did the Conscience Clause not interfere with the religious instruction in the schools, but it absolutely required that no interference should take place in that instruction. This was clearly shown in every letter which emanated from the Council Office, and the Conscience Clause did not in the slightest degree touch the religious teaching of the Church of England in schools promoted by the Church of England. The only thing it enforced was that a child should not attend that portion of the religious instruction to which his parents objected.”

Mr. Lingen, for his part, says, in his letter to the Rev. Mr. Scott, dated 26th
487. A March

March 1866, "No child ought to be compelled to receive religious instruction contrary to the professed and declared wish of its parent. It is hardly necessary to add that such compulsion might be applied without the direct use of specific formularies, inasmuch as all that is contained in them might be taught in other words."

This statement of Mr. Lingen's appears to me to be irreconcilable with your Lordship's assertion, that the Conscience Clause does not interfere with the religious instruction in the schools promoted by the Church of England. For to my mind it amounts to a prohibition to any clergyman or schoolmaster to explain any part of Holy Scripture in conformity with the doctrine of our Church, or to touch upon any Christian doctrine, incidentally, in any other lesson, if any parent chooses to require that his child shall never be exposed to such instruction. This being the case, one of two alternatives must be the result, either the clergyman and schoolmaster must feel themselves bound by the Conscience Clause to abstain from all allusion to Christian doctrine and Christian practice founded thereupon, in every lesson, except the Catechism lesson, from which the child may absent himself; or the child must be withdrawn from every other lesson also, for fear of being compelled to listen to Christian teaching. The first alternative imposes upon the clergyman a bondage to which I conceive no one would voluntarily submit; the other deprives the child of such instruction as I believe it to be the object of the Committee of Council on Education to secure to him.

The truth is, that the whole question between us turns upon this: Your Lordship seems to proceed upon the assumption that religious instruction will always be confined to the teaching of the formularies; whereas we think that inasmuch as Christian doctrine is the mainspring and motive of Christian action, a careful and conscientious pastor or master might find occasion at any moment of school hours to inculcate Christian conduct from Christian principles. If he be debarred from that opportunity, whenever it may arise, then follows that interference with religious teaching which your Lordship declares not to exist in connexion with the Conscience Clause.

That this view of religious education, as pervading all branches of instruction, is not confined to the ministers and members of the Church of England, may be seen from the following extract from the Report of the Education Commission, Vol. I., p. 312.

"This Committee believes that the Wesleyan community will never consent that the teaching of religion itself in their schools shall be subject to restriction. Their experience shows that besides the Scripture lesson with which their schools are daily open, and in which it is sought to make Divine truth intelligible to children of all capacities, an able Christian teacher will find throughout the day, when teaching geography, history, physical and moral science, and the knowledge of common things, frequent occasion to illustrate and enforce the truths of religion; and the religious teaching may be made to impart life and spirit to the whole process of education."

Heartily should I rejoice if Mr. Lingen's statement, as above quoted, could be brought into harmony with your Lordship's assurance that the Conscience Clause did not in the least interfere with the religious instruction in our Church schools; but under my present impression it seems to me to deal a serious blow to the cause of Christian education in the schools connected with the Church of England.

The Right Honourable
Earl Granville.

(signed) C. T. Cantuar.

Earl Granville to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

My dear Lord Archbishop,

Bruton-street, 12 July 1866.

SINCE receiving your Grace's letter of the 6th instant, I have referred to the report in the "Times" of what passed in the House of Lords on the 14th of May, and I cannot perceive the contradiction which your Grace finds between what I then said and the letter to Mr. Scott about the Conscience Clause. The letter was written on the 25th of March, and your Grace quoted it in the remarks with which which you introduced your inquiry, whether "A clergyman of the Church of England would meet the requirements of the Conscience Clause by exempting the children of Dissenters from attendance in schools during the reading of the formularies of the Church, or whether he would be bound to abstain from teaching in the school any formularies of the Church of England which the parents of a child might desire not to be taught to a child."

The proposition in the letter of which your Grace complains is as follows :

"No child ought to be compelled to receive religious instruction contrary to the professed and declared wish of its parent. It is hardly necessary to add that such compulsion might be applied without the direct use of specific formularies, inasmuch as all that is contained in them might be taught in other words."

But this was the substance of my answer to the first part of your Grace's inquiry.

Mr. Scott's proposal had been to omit the word "doctrine" from the Conscience Clause. The letter purported to show why this word ought to be retained, and I endeavoured to enforce the same argument by reading an extract from the "Church and State Review," which your Grace will find in the "Times" report, proving that the word "formularies," without the word "doctrine," or some equivalent expression, did not secure the object for which alone it was worth while to discuss the Clause at all.

Before reading the extract, I used these words: "With respect to the first part of the question, whether a clergyman would satisfy the clause by exempting the children of Dissenters who objected from attendance in school during the reading of the formularies of the Church, it is clear that that description does not meet the requirements of the Clause; for it would not be acting justly to the Dissenters if the managers of Church of England schools were to allow the children of Dissenters to withdraw while the formularies of the Church were being read, and to be brought in again to hear the doctrines of the Church taught." It is plain, when, in answer to the second part of your Grace's inquiry, I described the Conscience Clause "As not touching in the slightest degree the religious teaching of the Church of England in schools promoted by the Church of England," I could not contradict the official answer to Mr. Scott without contradicting what I had just said.

Your Grace quotes an extract which is in the evidence, and not, as your Grace states, in the Report of the Commission of Inquiry into Education. It implies that no useful instruction can be given on secular subjects which is not interspersed by religious teaching of a controversial character. I would venture to appeal to your Grace's personal experience at Harrow. I was educated at a private school, at a public school, and at a University, the teachers in all of which were clergymen of the Church of England. I cannot remember an instance during the ordinary school lessons, in which incidental religious or moral instruction was given in any way bound up with the doctrines in dispute between Churchmen and Dissenters.

The Conscience Clause assumes it to be possible, in a strictly denominational school, to give the fullest religious instruction to the children of parents who belong to the denomination of the school, and at the same time to admit into the school the children of parents who do not belong to that denomination, and to instruct them along with the other children, in all those particulars which do not raise any religious difference. That this is possible appears from the statement that a large, if not the larger, portion of the managers of National Schools are already doing all that is sought to be imposed upon them by the Conscience Clause; from the Endowed Schools Act of 1860, which embodies almost the same words as the Conscience Clause, and applies them to a large number of schools, conducted in all respects as Church of England Schools; and from all those schemes sanctioned almost daily for the government of schools by the Court of Chancery, or by the Charity Commissioners, wherein Conscience Clauses are inserted almost as part of a common form.

I have never heard of any of the trivial and vexatious objections being practically raised which your Grace imagines that Dissenting parents might make under the Conscience Clause; such objections would simply recoil on their authors. The objectors, if their remonstrances were not attended to, must go to a legal tribunal for redress; and any one who is conversant with the practice of our courts knows that a plaintiff who comes into court without a plain and substantial grievance is not likely to take much by his suit, excepting paying for it.

The object of the Department responsible to Parliament for the distribution of public money for the purposes of education has been, not to alter the character of the schools of the Established Church, but to enable the Government to extend their benefits to the whole community of districts in which no second school can be maintained.

To His Grace
the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Yours, &c.
(signed) Granville.

The Archbishop of Canterbury to Earl Granville.

My dear Lord,

Addington Park, 20 July 1866.

IN reply to your letter of the 12th instant, I am quite ready to acknowledge that I might as well have pleaded the inconsistency of the latter part of your reply to my questions in the House of Lords with the former part of your answer, as I did with Mr. Lingen's answer to Mr. Scott. But your concluding words were of so decisive and emphatic a character, and you so distinctly stated, that not only did the Conscience Clause not interfere with the religious instruction in the schools, but that it required that no interference should take place with such instruction, that it seemed as though nothing more could be desired, the needed security for religious teaching having been given. It certainly never occurred to me that the principle of the Conscience Clause, thus broadly laid down, could be compatible with the power of interference on the part of any parent with the exposition of Holy Scripture in the Bible class.

It is now, however, evident that such is the case, and that I attached a meaning to your words which they were not intended to convey. It appears that a clergyman, by accepting the Conscience Clause, will be bound to abstain from explaining Holy Scripture according to the tenets of the Church of England, or indeed in any way that shall offend the religious views of any Dissenting or unbelieving parent, if required so to do.

Under these circumstances, I find myself compelled to retract those expressions of satisfaction with your Lordship's answer to which I gave utterance in the House of Lords.

Your Lordship states as your experience at a public school and at the University, that you do not remember an instance, during the ordinary school lessons, in which incidental religious or moral instruction was given, in any way bound up with the doctrines in dispute between Churchmen and Dissenters. I will not doubt the correctness of your Lordship's experience. But that appears to me to be beside the point. The real question is whether a clergyman will be justified in pledging himself to abstain from all exposition of Holy Scripture in the Bible class of his National School, which shall be prohibited by any objecting parent; and it should be remembered that this pledge would not be confined to doctrines in dispute between Churchmen and Dissenters, but would extend to any teaching which might be alleged to be offensive to the Jewish or infidel parent.

I am not insensible to the difficulty in which the Committee of Council on Education finds itself placed, as the dispenser of a fund contributed by the nation at large. But I think your Lordship scarcely makes sufficient allowance for the conscientious objection which a clergyman of the Church of England may naturally feel at the idea of placing his privilege of conveying religious instruction to his scholars at all times at the mercy of any individual in his parish. It would be little consolation to him to think that he might possibly protect himself from such interference at the expense of a lawsuit, the issue of which would be very problematical.

The Right Honourable
Earl Granville, &c. &c.

(signed) C. T. Cantuar.

Earl Granville to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

16, Bruton-street, London, W.,
21 July 1866.

My dear Lord Archbishop,

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Grace's letter of yesterday.

The object of my writing to you was to correct a misunderstanding, and I cannot close the correspondence without attempting, even at the risk of tedious repetition, to correct a misapprehension which seems still to exist in your Grace's mind.

Your Grace says in your last letter, "It appears that a clergyman, by accepting the Conscience Clause, will be bound to abstain from explaining Holy Scripture according to the tenets of the Church of England, or indeed in any way that shall offend the religious views of any Dissenting or unbelieving parent, if required so to do." And, again, "the real question is whether a clergyman will be justified in pledging himself to abstain from all exposition of Holy Scripture in the Bible class of his National School, which shall be prohibited by any objecting parent."

The official answer (signed by Mr. Lingen, as Secretary of the Committee of Council of Education) to Mr. Scott, my answer to your Grace's question in the House of Lords, and the present correspondence have all had the same object, viz. :

1. To explain that the Conscience Clause inserted in school deeds, in districts where only one school can be maintained, does not restrain the clergyman from giving any religious instruction he may think fit to the children of his flock, or of others who do not object :

2. That it does prevent him from extending such religious instruction to the children of those Dissenters who object to their children being taught that which they believe to be erroneous doctrine.

The conscientious difficulty of clergymen, to which your Grace alludes, would be met by their excluding the children of objecting Dissenters from the classes in which they intend to give doctrinal instruction.

To the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, &c.

Yours, &c.

My dear Lord,

I AM much obliged by the farther explanation of your views respecting the Conscience Clause; and I trust you will now allow the correspondence to be published, as it will give the clergy a clearer idea of the meaning of your words in the House of Lords than they could otherwise have formed.

The Right Honourable
Earl Granville, &c. &c.

DURHAM UNIVERSITY.

RETURN of all GRADUATES of the UNIVERSITY of Durham, specifying their several Degrees, and distinguishing those admitted Ad Eundem.

(Mr. Moubray.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
29 May 1866.

AT THE COUNCIL CHAMBER, WHITEHALL,

The 11th day of June 1866

BY THE LORDS OF THE COMMITTEE OF HER MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL ON EDUCATION.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament by Command of Her Majesty.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

1. In order to provide that the general rate of aid intended to be given to Normal Schools, by the Minute of 21st March 1863 * (Articles 98-102^a of the Revised Code), should not be diminished by fluctuations, confined to particular years, in the number of students certificated, their Lordships resolved,—

That an account should be kept from year to year in the following form, and that all sums appearing in column 9 should be applied to the payment of the sums appearing in column 8.

FORM OF ACCOUNT.

2. In order to provide for the case that the number of students resident for continuous training in any year might be greater than the number in the preceding year, their Lordships resolved,—

That the amount appearing in column 5 of the above form of account should be increased proportionately to any increase in the number of students (Article 107) resident for continuous training (Article 120) throughout the year in which the grant was being paid.

3. In order to meet the case of Normal Schools where, in reliance upon Minutes in force before 1st January 1864, students had been admitted into training for one year only,† their Lordships resolved,—

To include under Article 99 all students trained during one year only, who completed such training before 1st January 1864, although such students might not have been specially trained to teach infants, and might not have obtained their certificates after probation in infant schools.

* Report of the Committee of Council on Education, 1862-3, p. xiii.

ARTHUR HELPS.

TWO STATUTES made by the UNIVERSITY of OXFORD, on the 16th and 23rd of March 1866, relating to the PROFESSORSHIP of EXPERIMENTAL PHILOSOPHY, and to the ALDRICH PROFESSORSHIP of CHEMISTRY.

ADDENDA TIT. IV.

Placuit Universitati,

Stat. Tit. IV., Sect. I. § 22 abrogare, et hæc quæ sequuntur subrogare.

§ 22. De Professore Philosophiæ Experimentalis.

1. Professor Philosophiæ Experimentalis eligatur a Vice-Cancellario, Collegii Wadhami Gardiano, Professore Sedleiano, Professore Chemiæ Waynflético, et Professore Astronomiæ Saviliano; et si forte contigerit ut gardianus Collegii Wadhami sit Vice-Cancellarius jus suffragii in electione habeat Vice-Cancellarii deputatus senior.

2. Professor, præter summam triginta librarum in ejus usum a Nathaniele Barone Crewe episcopo Dunelmensi legatam, et summam centum librarum, secundum Stat. Tit. IV., Sect. III., pendendam, libras etiam centum et septuaginta e cista academica quotannis percipiat.

3. Professor quotannis per sex menses in Universitate incolat et commoretur, inter decimum diem Octobris et primum diem Julii sequentis.

4. Physicæ experimentalis quasque partes tractet Professor; nempe, mechanicam, pneumaticam, opticam, thermoticam, electricam, et magneticam; et quasvis alias partes quæ per experimenta commodè illustrentur.

5. Legat professor quotannis duas lectionum series in duobus discretis terminis, scilicet per sex septimanas in utroque termino, et bis ad minimum in una quaque septimana; atque insuper per octo septimanas unius alicujus termini bis ad minimum in qualibet septimana per unius horæ spatium vacet instruendis auditoribus in iis quæ melius sine ulla solemnitate tradi possunt; discipulorum profectum quæstionibus statim enucleandis ad examen revocet, et iis exercitationes, si ipsi ita libuerit, domi in scriptis tractandis proponat.

6. Quod si professor insigniter negligens in officio suo, vel notabiliter insufficiens fuerit, vel si pravis moribus academiam dedecoraverit, vel si statutis ad ipsum spectantibus morem gerere recusaverit, Vice-Cancellario rem proponente, prius conventus, auditus (si ipsi libuerit), et convictus, admoneatur, vel etiam, si aliter malo occurri non possit, a munere suo moveatur per Vice-Cancellarium et delegatos appellationum in Congregatione, aut majorem partem eorum.

7. Si evenerit ut professor ad tempus valetudine impediatur quominus officio suo fungatur, aut si ei necesse fuerit præscripto legendi tempore propter causas urgentes et Vice-Cancellario approbatas extra Universitatem morari, ei deputatum idoneum et Vice-Cancellario probatum, qui professoris muneribus durante infirmitate aut absentia fungatur, nominare liceat; id quod exigere poterit Vice-Cancellarius, si sponte professor in hac parte statuto non satisfecerit.

8. Si professor senio, morbo diuturno, incurabili impotentia, aut debilitate vel animi vel corporis fractus, suæ professioni perficiendæ non suffecerit, virum, secundum ea quæ in hoc statuto decernuntur idoneum, qui professoris muneribus fungatur, hebdomadali concilio, rem proponente Vice-Cancellario, nominare liceat.

9. Si quando deputatus muneribus professoris fungatur determinet concilium hebdomadale quantum ex professoris emolumentis deputato persolvendum sit.

10. Ne alia quapiam professione eodem tempore fungatur professor, nec munus Observatoris Radcliffiani, nec officium prælectoris alicujus in quovis collegio publice legentis cum munere suo conjungat.

11. Si quid statuerit academia de materie, numero aut tempore lectionum de rationibus docendi, et de auditoribus examinandis, id observet quicumque tum erit professor.

De Statuto hoc rogando, re mature perpensa, consensit Concilium Hebdomadale die undevicesimo mensis Februarii. Promulgatum est idem Statutum in Domo Congregationis die vicesimo septimo ejusdem mensis Februarii, et in eadem Domo die octavo mensis Martii probatum; tandem in Convocatione publicatum et confirmatum die decimo sexto ejusdem mensis Martii, anno Domini MDCCCLXVI.

ADDENDA TIT. IV.

Placuit Universitati hæc sancire.

Placuit Universitati Professionem Chemiæ a Georgio Aldrich, M.D., institutam suppressere et abolere; emolumenta autem quibus hodie dotatur, nempe, summam centum viginti novem librarum et decem solidorum e pecuniis à Fundatore ipso legatis provenientes, et summam centum librarum e cista Universitatis, secundum Stat. Tit. IV., Sect. III., pendendam in Apparatum Chemicum, vel in Demonstratoris vel Demonstratorum stipendium, prout Delegatis Musei Academici visum fuerit, nomine Doctoris Aldrich semper conservato, erogare.

De Statuto hoc rogando, re mature perpensa, consensit Concilium Hebdomadale die quinto mensis Martii. Promulgatum est idem Statutum in Domo Congregationis die octavo ejusdem mensis Martii, et in eadem Domo die decimo sexto ejusdem mensis Martii probatum; tandem in Convocatione publicatum et confirmatum die vicesimo tertio ejusdem mensis Martii, anno Domini MDCCCLXVI.

REVISED CODE (1866).
OF
MINUTES AND REGULATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL ON EDUCATION.

PRELIMINARY CHAPTER.

1. A SUM of money is annually granted by Parliament for public Education in Great Britain.

2. This sum is administered by an establishment called the Education Department.

3. The head of the Education Department is the Lord President of the Council, assisted by a member of the Privy Council, who is called the Vice-President of the Committee on Education, and who acts under the direction of the Lord President, and for him in his absence (Order in Council, 25 February 1856, Act 19 & 20 Vict. c. 116).

4. The object of the grant is to promote the education of children belonging to the classes who support themselves by manual labour.

5. The means consist in aiding voluntary local exertion, under certain conditions, to establish or maintain schools, which are either :

(a.) For the instruction of children (elementary) ; or

(b.) For training schoolmasters and schoolmistresses (normal).

6. In elementary schools, the children attend from the homes of their parents, and charge is taken of them during the school hours only.

7. In normal schools, entire charge is taken of the students.

8. Every school aided from the grant must be either :

(a.) A school in connexion with some recognized religious denomination ; or (b.) A school in which, besides secular instruction, the Scriptures are read daily from the authorized version.

9. Aid to establish schools is given by grants towards the cost of building, enlarging, improving, or fitting up, elementary school-rooms and dwellings for elementary teachers.

Aid is not given to establish normal schools.

10. Aid to maintain schools is given by grants to the Managers conditional upon the attendance and proficiency of the scholars, the qualifications of the teachers, and the state of the schools.

11. The aid given to maintain schools is known as "Annual Grants," being annually payable, at a fixed time, to each school allowed to receive them.

12. No grants are made to schools which are not open to inspection by inspectors appointed by Her Majesty in Council on the representation of the Committee of Council on Education.

13. The Committee of Council consults the religious or educational bodies which are mentioned in Article 30 before making representations to Her Majesty for the appointment of inspectors to visit schools in connexion with those several bodies.

14. The inspectors do not interfere with the religious instruction, discipline, or management of schools, but are employed to verify the fulfilment of the conditions on which grants are made, to collect information, and to report the results to the Committee of Council.

15. No annual grant is paid, except on a report from the inspector, after a periodical visit, showing that the conditions of the grant have been fulfilled.

16. The Committee of Council, at the time of agreeing to make annual grants to a school, informs the managers in what month to look for the inspector's annual visit. This month remains the same from year to year, unless the Committee of Council informs the managers of a change. The inspector gives notice of the day of his visit beforehand to the managers.

17. Annual grants are issued to each school only once per annum. The year for this purpose is reckoned as ending with the last day (inclusive) of the month preceding that fixed for the inspector's annual visit.

18. Schools which have received aid for building, but are not receiving annual grants, are inspected as often as the periodical inspection of the schools receiving annual grants permits.

19. The managers of schools fulfilling the conditions of Articles 4, 6, and 8, may apply for the benefit of Article 18, without having received, or applying for, any grant.

20. The duration of the period, over which the right of inspection extends, depends upon the degree of permanency of the object for which the grant is made.

(a.) If the grant is made for erecting, enlarging, or improving a school, the right of inspection is secured by a clause inserted in, or endorsed upon, the school deed, and is co-extensive with the interest conveyed by that deed.

(b.) If the grant is annual only, the inspector's visit may at any time be declined by the managers, on forfeiting the grant depending upon it.

21. No undertaking must be commenced in general reliance upon the aid to be obtained from the Parliamentary grant. Separate applications, in the form of proposals, must, in the first instance, be addressed to the Secretary, Committee on Education, Council Office, London, S.W.

Full instructions are thereupon issued according to the particulars of the application.

The promoters, or managers, must appoint one of their own body to act as correspondent with the Education Department. Teachers cannot act as correspondents for the schools in which they are employed.

CHAPTER I.

GRANTS TO ESTABLISH ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS.

BUILDING.

22. Aid is not granted to build new elementary schools unless their Lordships are satisfied—

(a.) That there is a sufficient population of the labouring class which requires a school in the vicinity.

(b.) That the religious denomination of the new school is suitable to the families relied upon for supplying scholars.

(c.) That the school is likely to be maintained in efficiency.

(d.) That the buildings, at the time of application, have not been begun nor contracted for, and that no trust deed has been executed.

23. The grants made by the Committee of Council for building, enlarging, improving, or fitting up elementary schools, are not to exceed any one of the following limits, viz:—

1st Limit.—The total amount voluntarily contributed by proprietors, residents, or employers of labour in the parish where the school is situated, or within a radius of four miles from the school. Such contributions may be in the form of

(a.) Individual subscriptions;

(b.) Collections in churches or chapels in the same parish, or within the distance of four miles from the school;

(c.) Materials, at the price allowed for them by the contractor, or at which sold off;

(d.) Sites given without valuable consideration (the value to be certified by two professional surveyors);

(e.) Cartage (the value to be certified by the parochial surveyor of roads).

2nd Limit.—2s. 6d. per square foot of internal area in new school-rooms and class-rooms.

3rd Limit.—65l. for each teacher's residence.

24. The site, plans, estimates, specifications, title, and trust deed, must be satisfactory to the Committee of Council.

25. The balance of expenditure which is not covered by the voluntary local contributions and by the public grant, taken together, may be made up from any other sources that are available, such as the proceeds of endowment, or subscriptions which are not local.

26. Grants are not made for rooms intended to be used on Sundays only; nor for rooms under places of worship; nor to pay off debts for building; nor in consideration of former expenditure for building; nor for maintenance of buildings; nor for improving or fitting up schools which have already received the maximum amount allowable under Article 23.

27. The extension of the area of existing school-rooms to receive more scholars, and the addition of teachers' dwellings to existing school-rooms, are treated pro tanto as new cases under Article 23.

28. No application can be entertained if the approved estimate (Article 24) falls below 20% in small rural schools (Article 133), or 50% in other schools.

The Site.

29. The site must be—

- (a.) In extent,
Not less than 1,200 square yards.
- (b.) In situation,
 - 1. Not unhealthy, nor noisy.
 - 2. Within convenient distance from the homes of the scholars
- (c.) In tenure,
Fee simple (Acts 4 & 5 Vict. c. 38., and 12 & 13 Vict. c. 49.)
 - (a.) Without incumbrance, or rights reserved over the surface.
 - (b.) If with reservation of minerals, the party in whom the fee simple of them is vested must covenant to make compensation in the event of damage, and the grant made by the Committee of Council must be the first charge upon such compensation; the whole of which is to be applied as the Secretary of State for the Home Department may direct in furtherance of the trust for a school.
 - (c.) If subjected to powers of leasing, sale, or re-entry, the lease or sale must not be without the written consent of the Secretary of State for the Home Department, nor the re-entry without first repaying any grant which may have been paid in respect of the premises.
 - (d.) Leaseholds are not admissible, if fee simple can be obtained. The term must not be less than 99 years, and there must be no onerous covenants, nor more than nominal rent.
 - (e.) Copyholds must be enfranchised (Act 12 & 13 Vict. c. 49. s. 6.)

The Trust Deed.

30. The trust deed must declare the premises to be granted in trust for the education of the poor, and for no other purpose whatever. It must also provide for the legal ownership of the premises, and for the inspection and management of the school, according to one or other of the precedents settled for: Church of England Schools, British Schools, Established Church of Scotland Schools; Wesleyan Schools, Free Church (Scotland) Schools, Roman Catholic Schools, Jewish Schools, Episcopal Church (Scotland) Schools, Undenominational Schools (belonging to none of the previous classes, but in which the Bible is read daily from the authorized version).

31. When the trust deed has been executed according to a draft approved and sealed by the Committee of Council, and (when necessary) enrolled or registered, a copy of it, including all signatures, attestations, and endorsements, must be made on plain unstamped parchment, and lodged in the Education Office.

32. When the application is for a grant to enlarge, improve, or fit up, an existing elementary school already conveyed in trust, the deed must be a legal conveyance of the land, and not at variance with any of the principles which determine the approval of new deeds. The right of inspection must be permanently secured (Act 7 & 8 Vict. c. 37. sections 1 and 2), and there must be no powers or reservations to which the Act 18 & 19 Vict. c. 131. cannot be applied, and which might become prejudicial to the school.

The Plans.

33. The plans (with specification and estimate), when approved and sealed, may be returned to the promoters for use, but must be lodged in the Education Office before a grant is paid.

Payment of Grants for Building, Enlarging, Improving, or Fitting up Elementary Schools.

34. The amount of the grant is not announced until after the draft trust deed and plans have been sealed.

35. The grant must be accepted or declined within 14 days.

36. The grant is paid on presentation of a certificate (with balance sheet annexed), by the Building and Managing Committees of the school, setting forth that the building and conveyance are completed, and that the money in hand, raised by absolute donations, will, when added to the grant, meet all claims, and finally close the account.

37. Grants under 50% are treated as lapsed, if unpaid at the end of nine months, and grants above 50% at the end of eighteen months, from the date of announcing them.

CHAPTER II.

GRANTS TO MAINTAIN SCHOOLS.

PART I.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS.

SECTION I.

ANNUAL GRANTS CONDITIONAL UPON THE NUMBER AND PROFICIENCY OF THE SCHOLARS, THE NUMBER AND QUALIFICATIONS OF THE TEACHERS, AND THE STATE OF THE SCHOOLS.

38. Schools may meet three times daily; viz., in the morning, afternoon, and evening.

39. Schools which do not meet more than once daily cannot receive grants.

40. The managers of schools may claim at the end of each year, defined by Article 17:

(a.) The sum of 4s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance throughout the year at the morning and afternoon meetings, not being less than 400, of their school, and 2s. 6d. per scholar according to the average number in attendance throughout the year at the evening meetings, not being less than 40, of their school.

(b.) For every scholar who has attended more than 200 morning or afternoon meetings of their school:—

1. If more than six years of age 8s., subject to examination (Article 48).
2. If under six years of age, and present on the day of the examination, 6s. 6d., subject to a report by the inspector that such children are instructed suitably to their age, and in a manner not to interfere with the instruction of the older children.

(c.) For every scholar who has attended more than 24 evening meetings of their school 5s., subject to examination (Article 48).

*40¹. The average number of scholars in attendance for any period is found by adding together the attendances (Article 41) of all the scholars for the same period, and dividing the sum by the number of times the school has been open within the same period; the quotient is the average number in attendance.

41. Attendance at a morning or afternoon meeting may not be reckoned for any scholar who has been under instruction less than two hours, nor attendance at an evening meeting for any scholar who has been under instruction less than one hour and a half.

42. Evening attendances may not be reckoned with morning or afternoon attendances in making up the prescribed minimum of 200 or 24 attendances.

43. Evening attendances may not be reckoned for any scholar under 12 years of age.

44. Every scholar attending more than 200 times in the morning or afternoon, for whom 8s. is claimed, forfeits 2s. 8d. for failure to satisfy the inspector in reading, 2s. 8d. in writing, and 2s. 8d. in arithmetic (Article 48).

*44¹. Evening scholars may be examined by the inspector at the time of his visit (Article 16), or, when more convenient, at another time under the direction of the managers (Articles 142-9.)

45. Every scholar attending more than 24 times in the evening for whom 5s. is claimed forfeits 1s. 8d. for failure to satisfy the inspector in reading, 1s. 8d. in writing, and 1s. 8d. in arithmetic (Article 48).

46. Every scholar for whom the grants dependent upon examination are claimed must be examined according to one of the following standards, and must not be presented for examination a second time according to the same or a lower standard.†

47. Under any Half Time Act, 100 attendances (Article 41) qualify individual scholars for the grant offered by Article 40, b:—

(a.) Upon examination.

(b.) Without examination, after they have passed according to the highest standard, but continue to attend school under the Act.

* Thus numbered, in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of such Articles as are not substantially altered.

*47¹. In calculating (Article 40¹) the average number in attendance, the attendances (Article 41) of half time scholars reckon for no more than those of other scholars.

48.	Standard I.	Standard II.	Standard III.	Standard IV.	Standard V.	Standard VI.
Reading	Narrative in monosyllables.	One of the Narratives next in order after monosyllables in an elementary reading book used in the school.	A short paragraph from an elementary reading book used in the school.	A short paragraph from a more advanced reading book used in the school.	A few lines of poetry from a reading book used in the first class of the school.	A short ordinary paragraph in a newspaper, or other modern narrative.
Writing	Form on black-board or slate, from dictation, letters, capital and small, manuscript.	Copy in manuscript character a line of print.	A sentence from the same paragraph, slowly read once, and then dictated in single words.	A sentence slowly dictated once by a few words at a time, from the same book, but not from the paragraph read.	A sentence slowly dictated once, by a few words at a time, from a reading book used in the first class of the school.	Another short ordinary paragraph in a newspaper, or other modern narrative, slowly dictated once by a few words at a time.
Arithmetic	Form on black-board or slate, from dictation, figures up to 20; name at sight figures up to 20; add and subtract figures up to 10; orally, from examples on black-board.	A sum in simple addition or subtraction, and the multiplication table.	A sum in any simple rule as far as short division (inclusive).	A sum in compound rules (money).	A sum in compound rules (common weights and measures).	A sum in practice or bills of parcels.

49. The grant may either be withheld altogether or reduced for causes arising out of the state of the school.

50. The inspector does not proceed to examine scholars in reading, writing, and arithmetic for the grant, until he has first ascertained that the state of the school does not require it to be withheld.

51. The grant is withheld altogether,—

- (a.) If the school be not held in a building certified by the inspector to be healthy, properly lighted, drained, and ventilated, supplied with offices, and containing in the principal school-room at least 80 cubical feet of internal space for each child in average attendance.
- (b.) If the principal teacher be not duly certificated (Article 67), except in united schools (Article 136), and duly paid. Teachers certificated before 31st March 1864, and who have not otherwise agreed with their employers, are duly paid if they receive not less than three times the grant allowable upon their certificates in Articles 64–5 of the Code of 1860, and they have a first charge to the extent of this grant, being one-third of such due payment, upon the money received by the managers, under Article 40.
- (c.) If the girls in the school be not taught plain needlework as part of the ordinary course of instruction.
- (d.) If the registers and accounts be not kept with sufficient accuracy to warrant confidence in the returns.
- (e.) If, on the inspector's report, there appears to be any primâ facie objection† of a gross kind. A second inspection, wherein another inspector or inspectors takes part, is made in every such instance, and if the grant be finally withheld, a special minute is made and recorded of the case.
- (f.) If three persons at least be not designated to sign the receipt for the grant on behalf of the school.

52. The grant is reduced,—

- (a.) By not less than one-tenth nor more than one-half in the whole, upon the inspector's report, for faults of instruction† or discipline on the part of the teacher, or (after one year's notice) for failure on the part of the managers to remedy any such defect in the premises as seriously interferes with the efficiency of the school, or to provide proper furniture, books, maps, and other apparatus of elementary instruction.
- (b.) By sums of 10%, for every 40 or 80, after the first 50, of the average number of scholars in attendance, unless there be either one pupil-teacher fulfilling the conditions of Articles 81–9 for every such 40 scholars, or one certificated or assistant teacher fulfilling the conditions of Articles 67 and 91–3 respectively for every such 80 scholars.

The forfeiture is reduced from 10% to 5% if the failure to comply with these Articles be confined to the examination of a pupil-teacher (Article 88); but

* Thus numbered, in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of such Articles as are not substantially altered.

† In Church of England Schools the Order in Council of 10th August 1840, and the instructions to inspectors relative to examination in religion, which are founded upon it, are included under this paragraph.

this reduction is made only once for the same pupil-teacher, and not in successive years for the same school.

Pupil-teachers cannot be apprenticed in schools under teachers certificated in the lower grade of the fourth class (Articles 131-2), nor in united schools (Articles 135-140).

(c.) By its excess above,—

1. The amount of school fees and subscriptions ; or
2. The rate of 15s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance,

} in the year defined by Article 17.

(d.) By the amount of any annual endowment (Article 93³.)

53. If the excess of scholars has arisen from increased attendance of children since the last settlement of the school staff (Articles 62, 63), the forfeiture prescribed by Article 52 (b), does not accrue.

*53¹. The reduction prescribed by Article 52 d is suspended, as long as the grant and the endowment together do not make a total sum exceeding the rate of 15s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance in the year defined by Article 17.

54. Pupil-teachers admitted before 30th June 1862, and the masters or mistresses by whom they are instructed, have a second charge for their several stipends and gratuities so long as their service fulfils the conditions prescribed by the Code of 1860, upon the money received by the managers under Article 40 ; and in case the money so received shall not be sufficient to meet the second charge upon it, the Committee of Council will add the sum requisite to make up the deficiency.

55. In every school receiving annual grants is to be kept, besides the ordinary registers of attendance,—

(a.) A diary or log-book.

(b.) A portfolio wherein may be laid all official letters, which should be numbered (1, 2, 3, &c.) in the order of their receipt.

Diary or Log Book of School.

56. The diary or log-book must be stoutly bound and contain not less than 500 ruled pages.

57. The principal teacher must daily make in the log-book the briefest entry which will suffice to specify either ordinary progress, or whatever other fact concerning the school or its teachers, such as the dates of withdrawals, commencements of duty, cautions, illness, &c., may require to be referred to at a future time, or may otherwise deserve to be recorded.

58. No reflections or opinions of a general character are to be entered in the log-book.

59. No entry once made in the log-book may be removed nor altered otherwise than by a subsequent entry.

60. The inspector will call for the log-book at his annual visit, and will report whether it appears to have been properly kept throughout the year.

61. The inspector will not write any report on the good or bad state of the school in the log-book at the time of his visit, but will enter therein with his own hand the full name and standing (certificated teacher of the ——— class, or pupil-teacher of the ——— year, or assistant-teacher) of each member of the school establishment. The inspector will not enter the names of pupil-teachers respecting whose admission the Committee of Council has not yet pronounced a decision.

62. The summary of the inspector's report when communicated by the Committee of Council to the managers must be copied into the log-book by the secretary of the latter, who must also enter the names and description of all teachers to be added to, or withdrawn from, those entered by the inspector, according to the decision of the Committee of Council upon the inspector's report. The secretary of the managers must sign this entry.

63. The inspector before making his entry of the school establishment in the following year will refer to his own entry made in the preceding year, and also to the entry which is required to be made by the secretary of the school pursuant to Article 62, and he will require to see entries in the log-book accounting for any subsequent change of the school establishment.

*63¹. A log-book must be kept in each united school (Article 140 b.)

* Thus numbered, in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of such Articles as are not substantially altered.

SECTION II.

Teachers referred to in the preceding Section.

64. The recognized classes of teachers are,—(a.) Certificated teachers. (b.) Pupil-teachers. (c.) Assistant teachers.

65. Lay persons alone can be recognized as teachers in elementary schools.

Certificated Teachers.

66. Teachers in order to obtain certificates, must be examined (Article 130), and must undergo probation by actual service in school (Articles 73, 74).

67. Certificates are of four classes. The fourth (lowest) class consists of an upper and a lower grade (Article 131), and includes special certificates for teachers of infants (Article 122). No certificate is issued above the fourth class. Certificates are raised to the higher classes by good service only (Article 78).

Examination.

68. Teachers are examined for certificates as means of distributing the Parliamentary grant to schools. The examination is not open to candidates for professional diplomas only.

69. Examinations are held in December of each year at the several training schools under inspection (Articles 119 and 128). The relative proficiency of the candidates according to examination is recorded upon their certificates, but does not affect the class of them (Article 67).

70. A syllabus, for male and female candidates respectively, of the course of study, may be had on application to the Committee of Council.

71. The names of teachers desiring to be examined must be notified by the managers of their schools to the Committee of Council before the 1st day of November preceding the examination.

72. Candidates admissible to be examined for certificates, must (in addition to Articles 68 and 71) fulfil one of the following conditions, viz.:—

(a.) They must have resided for one or more years as students in normal schools under inspection (Articles 94, 119, and 120-1); or,

(b.) Must be upwards of 22 years of age, and either,

1. Have completed an engagement as pupil-teacher satisfactorily; or,
2. Have obtained at least two favourable reports with an interval of one year between them upon the school in which they are still employed.

Probation.

73. Candidates for certificates, after successfully passing their examination, undergo probation (that is to say), they must, as teachers continuously engaged in the same schools, obtain two favourable reports from the inspector, with an interval of one year between them; and, if the first of these reports be not preceded by service of three months (at the least) since the examination, a third report, at an interval of one year after the second report, is required.

74. One favourable report is sufficient after the examination, if the candidate, being continuously engaged in the same school, has obtained two favourable reports in consecutive years immediately preceding the examination.

75. Teachers under probation (Articles 73-4) satisfy the conditions which require that schools be kept by certificated teachers.

76. If the second (or third) report is favourable, a certificate of the fourth class is issued, and remains in force (unless recalled under Articles 79, 80) for the next five years; after which interval, it is open to revision, according to the intermediate annual reports; and so on after each further period of five years until the first class is reached.

77. No teacher who has changed more than once from one school to another during the five years preceding revision can be advanced to a higher class.

78. Re-examination is not permitted to candidates once passed, unless they fall under Article 131.

Concurrence of Managers and Inspector.

79. The managers must annually state whether the teacher's character, conduct, and attention to duty have been satisfactory.

80. The inspector must annually report whether the teacher's school is efficient in organization, discipline, and instruction.

Pupil-teachers.

81. Pupil-teachers are boys or girls employed to serve in a school under inspection on the following conditions, namely:—

- (a.) That the school is reported by Her Majesty's Inspector to be—
1. Under a duly certificated master or mistress (Articles 67 and 131).
 2. Held in suitable premises.
 3. Well furnished, and well supplied with books and apparatus.
 4. Divided into classes, and skilfully instructed.
 5. Under good discipline.
 6. Likely to be maintained during the period of engagement.
- (b.) That the pupil-teachers be not less than 13 years (completed) of age at the date of their engagement.
- (c.) Be of the same sex as the principal teacher of the school, or department of a school, in which they are employed; but in mixed schools, or departments of schools, under a master and mistress, female pupil-teachers may receive instruction out of school-hours from the master, on condition that the mistress be invariably present during the whole time that the lessons are being given by the master, who must be husband, father, son, or brother of the mistress, and not both young and unmarried.
- (d.) Be presented to the inspector for examination at the time and place fixed by his notice (Article 16).
- (e.) Pass the examinations and produce the certificates specified in Article 88
- (f.) That the managers enter into an agreement in the following terms:—

To be stamped with a stamp of 2s. 6d.

⁴ Name in full of the pupil-teacher.

of ⁴_____

herein-after called the pupil-teacher.

⁵ His or her.

The said managers for themselves, their executors, administrators, and assigns, agree with the said surety h ⁵_____ executors, administrators, and assigns, as follows:

⁶ Article 17.

⁷ Preceding month.

⁸ Five full years, but if this falls beyond the candidate's 19th year (completed), any less number of years not under two, may be inserted if the parties wish it, and if the candidate has passed for admission the examination fixed for a later year in proportion to the reduced term of service.

⁹ The sum to be inserted must be fixed at the discretion of the parties, having in view the local rate of wages, and the advantages of the school as a place wherein to learn the business of a teacher.

¹⁰ Week, or as the parties may agree.

1. To engage the said pupil-teacher to serve under a certificated teacher during the usual school hours in keeping and teaching the said school, but so that the said pupil-teacher shall not be obliged to serve therein more than six hours upon any one day, nor more than 30 hours in any one week.

2. This engagement shall begin on the first day of ⁶_____ 186_____, and shall end on the last day of ⁷_____ 188_____, but if the said pupil-teacher shall, with the consent of the other parties hereto, attend one of the examinations held by Her Majesty's inspectors of schools for admission into Normal Schools in December next preceding the last-mentioned date, this engagement may end on the 31st day of the said month of December.

3. The said pupil-teacher shall be paid as wages ⁹_____ per ¹⁰_____ in the first year, and this sum shall be increased by ⁹_____ per ¹⁰_____ in each subsequent year of the engagement, but such increase may be stopped at the discretion of the managers of the said school for the time being for the unexpired remainder of any year after receipt of notice from the Committee of Council that the said pupil-teacher has failed to pass the examination, or to fulfil the other conditions, of a pupil-teacher according to the standard of the preceding year as prescribed in the Articles of the Code of the said Committee applicable to the case.

4. The said pupil-teacher either while the school is not being held, or as one of the scholars (if any) attending the school for instruction in the evening, shall receive, without charge, from the certificated teacher of the said school for the time being, special instruction during five hours per week, of which hours not more than two shall be part of the same day. Such special instruction shall be in the subjects in which the said pupil-teacher is next to be examined pursuant to the said Articles.

5. The said pupil-teacher shall be liable to dismissal without notice for idleness, disobedience, or immoral conduct, of a gross kind respectively ; and this engagement shall be terminable on either side by a written notice of six months, or in lieu of such notice, by the payment on either side of 3*l.* in the first year, 4*l.* in the second, and an additional pound in each succeeding year of the engagement, but never exceeding 6*l.* in the whole ; such payment to be recoverable as a debt by the party entitled to receive it, and to be over and above the settlement of all other accounts between the parties.

6. The said pupil-teacher enters into this engagement freely and voluntarily on h^{is} own part, and with the privity and consent of the said surety.

7. The said surety agrees with the said managers, their executors, administrators, and assigns, to clothe, feed, lodge, and watch over the said pupil-teacher during the continuance of this engagement in a manner befitting the same.

Signed this _____ day of _____ 18 ____

Witness.

N.B.—This agreement should be deposited with the school papers (Article 55). The surety should have either an executed duplicate (which requires a second stamp), or at least a certified copy. The agreement exists only between the persons who sign it. If any of them are changed (by removal of managers, or otherwise), forms and instructions for a new agreement (with stamp) may be obtained upon application (Article 21) to the Committee of Council.

82. The Committee of Council is not a party to the engagement, and confines itself to ascertaining, on the admission of the apprentice and at the end of each year of the service—

(a.) Whether the prescribed examination is passed before the inspector.

(b.) Whether the prescribed certificates are produced from the managers.

83. Whatever other questions arise upon the engagement may be referred to the Committee of Council on Education (provided that all the parties agree in writing to be bound by the decision of their Lordships as final), but, otherwise, must be settled like any other matter of hiring or contract.

84. Vacancies in the office of pupil-teacher, however occasioned, which occur in the course of any year (Article 17), must not be filled up until after the next examination by the inspector. In the meantime, the candidate or candidates must be engaged by the week only as monitors, and the memorandum of agreement, Article 81 (f), must not be executed until after notice from the Committee of Council (Article 62) to the managers that the conditions of admission to pupil-teachership are fulfilled in each case.

85. Temporary monitors engaged by the week, pursuant to Article 84, for the supply of vacant pupil-teacherships during a current year (Article 17), satisfy Article 52 (b), provided that—

(a.) A sufficient number of candidates to complete the requisite proportion of teachers to scholars pass the inspector's next examination for admission (Article 88) to permanent engagements ; and—

(b.) The vacancies have not been occasioned by voluntary causes (i.e., causes for which any of the parties to the agreement can be held responsible) before the fourth year's examination has been passed.

86. Except in the cases provided for by Article 85, each vacancy in a pupil-teachership during a current year (Article 17) works a forfeiture under Article 52 (b.)

87. The qualifications and certificates required of candidates for admission and of pupil-teachers in each year of their service are regulated by the following Table.

88.]	Health.	Certificates of Character and Conduct.		Reading.	English Grammar. [After Admission, Latin Grammar, as alternative.]	Writing and Composition.
		In Church of England Schools.	In Schools not being Church of England Schools.
For Admission.	A medical certificate that candidate is not subject to any infirmity likely to interfere with profession of teacher.	A certificate from the clergyman and managers that the moral character of the candidates and of their homes justifies an expectation that the instruction and training of the school will be seconded by their own efforts and the example of their parents. 89. Female pupil-teachers, before admission to apprenticeship, must produce a written attestation from the schoolmistress and managers that they possess reasonable competency as sempstresses ; and, at the annual examinations, must bring certified specimens of plain needlework to the inspector, together with a statement from the schoolmistress specifying whether they have been receiving practical instruction in any other kind of domestic industry. The inspector, at the time of examination, or afterwards, will obtain the opinion of some competent person upon the merit of the needlework.

Pupil-teachers who have successfully completed their Apprenticeship.

90. At the close of the apprenticeship pupil-teachers are perfectly free in the choice of employment. Any person properly interested in knowing the character of a pupil-teacher may apply to the Committee of Council for a testimonial, declaring that the pupil-teacher has successfully completed an apprenticeship ; or the pupil-teacher, if willing to continue in the work of education, may become an assistant in an elementary school (Article 91), or may be examined as a candidate for admission into a normal school (Articles 103-111), or may be provisionally certificated for immediate service in charge of small rural schools (Articles 132, 133).

Assistant Teachers.

91. Pupil-teachers who can be certified, pursuant to Article 90, to have completed their apprenticeship with credit, may serve as assistants in schools in place of pupil-teachers, without being required to be annually examined. But such assistants cease to fulfil the conditions of Article 52 (b), if at any time the inspector reports them to be inefficient teachers, or if they fail to produce from the managers, and from the principal teacher, of their school, the same certificates of conduct, attention to duty, and obedience, as are required from pupil-teachers.

92. Vacancies caused by the withdrawal of assistants in the course of any school year (Article 17) must be supplied by the appointment of temporary monitors, pursuant to Articles 84, 85 ; but if another assistant, qualified according to Article 91, be appointed before the inspector's next examination, the temporary monitors who preceded such appointment are not required to be examined.

93. Assistants are left entirely at liberty to make their own terms with their employers, both as to hours and wages.

SECTION III.

ENDOWMENTS.

*93¹. An endowed school is one deriving income from property inalienably appropriated to it, or to education.

*93². Endowed schools, in order to be admissible to receive either grants or inspection, must fulfil the conditions of Articles 4, 6, and 8.

*93³. Annual Grants (Article 40) to endowed schools are reduced by the amounts of their income (Article 52 d.) from endowment ; but the reduction is suspended as long as the grant and the endowment together do not make a total sum exceeding the rate of 15s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance in the year defined by Article 17 (*Article 53¹).

PART II.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

SECTION I.

94. A normal school includes—

(a.) A college, for boarding, lodging, and instructing candidates for the office of teacher in schools for the labouring classes ; and

(b.) A practising department, in which such candidates may learn the exercise of their profession.

95. No grant is made to a normal school unless the Committee of Council is satisfied with the premises, management, and staff.

96. No grant is made for building, enlarging, improving, or fitting up the premises of normal schools.

* Thus numbered in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of such articles as are not substantially altered.

SECTION II.

GRANTS TO NORMAL SCHOOLS.

97. To the practising departments (Article 94, b), the same annual grants (Article 40) are made as to other elementary schools fulfilling the conditions of Articles 4, 6, and 8.

98. To the colleges (Article 94, a), annual grants are made of 100*l.*, in five successive payments of 20*l.* per annum for every master, and of 70*l.* in five successive payments of 14*l.* per annum for every mistress who, having been trained in them, during two years, has, since December 1862,—

(a.) completed the prescribed period of probation (Articles 73–6), and become qualified to receive a certificate in a school fulfilling the conditions of Articles 4, 6, and 8, or 94; or

(b.) been reported by the proper department in each case to have completed a like period of good service as an elementary teacher in the Army or Royal Navy, or (within Great Britain) in Poor Law Schools, Certified Industrial Schools, or Certified Reformatories.

99. Masters and mistresses who have been trained for one year only may obtain certificates after probation (Articles 73–6) upon the same terms as others; and five annual grants, of half the amount specified in Article 98, may be made for them to the colleges in which they were trained, provided—

(a) that the training has been previously recognized by the Committee of Council as a complete and special course for teachers of infants; and

(b) that they have obtained their certificates after probation (Article 73–6) in infant schools.

100. The grants specified in the Articles 98–9 will not come into full operation before the year commencing 1st January 1868. Provisional arrangements for the years 1864–7 are included in Article 101.

101. In January 1864 was ascertained—

(a.) What had been the average annual sum paid to each College on account of students examined in December 1860–1–2, and of Queen's scholars, certificated assistants, and lecturers resident in the years 1861–2–3. This sum remains constant in the calculations which follow in this Article.

(b.) What number of teachers trained in it during two years, or during one year conformably to Article 99 (a), had, in 1863, become qualified, or been reported, as required by Article 98, or 99 (b).

The annual grant to each College was—

In 1864 four-fifths of the said average annual sum, together with 20*l.* or 10*l.* (in the case of females 14*l.* or 7*l.*) for each teacher so qualified or reported in 1863;

In 1865, three-fifths of the said average annual sum, together with 20*l.* or 10*l.* (in the case of females 14*l.* or 7*l.*) for each teacher so qualified or reported in 1863–4.

In 1866 the number will be ascertained of teachers so qualified or reported during the three years 1863–5; in 1867, the number during the four years 1863–6; in 1868, the number during the five years 1863–7.

In 1866, the grant to each Normal school will consist of two-fifths of the said average annual sum, together with 20*l.* or 10*l.* (in the case of females 14*l.* or 7*l.*) for each teacher so qualified or reported during the three years 1863–5.

In 1867, of one-fifth of the said average sum, together with 20*l.* or 10*l.* (in the case of females 14*l.* or 7*l.*) for each teacher so qualified or reported during the four years 1863–6.

In 1868, of 20*l.* or 10*l.* (in the case of females 14*l.* or 7*l.) for each teacher so qualified or reported during the five years 1863–7.

* If A = the average sum paid in 1861–3, and T the number of teachers on each of whom £x. is to be allowed, the following formula expresses the result :—

$$\text{Grant for 1864} = \frac{4}{5} A + \text{£}x T (1863).$$

$$\text{„ „ 1865} = \frac{3}{5} A + \text{£}x T (1863-4).$$

$$\text{„ „ 1866} = \frac{2}{5} A + \text{£}x T (1863-5).$$

$$\text{„ „ 1867} = \frac{1}{5} A + \text{£}x T (1863-6).$$

$$\text{„ „ 1868} = \text{£}x T (1863-7)$$

In 1869, and in each subsequent year, the earliest year of the five will be replaced by the year last ended.

102. The annual grant to each college, whether payable under Articles 98-9, or, until 1st January 1868, under the provisional arrangements specified in Article 101, must not exceed—

(a.) 75 per cent. of the expenditure, certified in such manner as their Lordships may from time to time see fit to require, of the last preceding year.

(b.) 50*l.* for each male student, and 35*l.* for each female student, in residence respectively, for continuous training throughout the year in which it is being paid.

*102¹. The number of students in continuous training must not exceed,—

(a.) In England and Wales, the number of students for whom accommodation was provided in 1862.

(b.) In Scotland, the actual number in training in 1862.

*102². The sum payable in each year, conformably to Article 102, is ascertained in January; and out of this ascertained sum an instalment is paid for students examined in the preceding December (Article 119), according to the scale set forth in Article 102³, as soon as the result of that examination has been declared. The remainder of the said ascertained sum is paid in equal parts on 31 March, 30 June, 30 September, and 31 December.

*102³. The instalments payable under Article 102² in respect of each student examined are determined according to the following scale:—

At the End of		For Candidate placed by Examination in each Division.	Instalment to be allowed to College (in the case of Females, Two-thirds of these Sums).
		2	16	0	0
		3	13	0	0
		4	13	0	0
Second year's residence	- - {	1	24	0	0
		2	20	0	0
		4	16	0	0

*102⁴. The payments in respect of students examined in December, as set forth in Article 102³, are paid although the College may not be re-opened in the following year.

SECTION III.

ADMISSION INTO NORMAL SCHOOLS.

103. A competitive examination of candidates for admission into each normal school is annually held at it in December, by one or more of the inspectors during the week following the examination for certificates (Article 119).

104. The examination extends to the subjects required at the end of a pupil teacher's apprenticeship (Article 88).

105. The candidates are selected, and admitted to the examination, by the authorities of each normal school on their own responsibility, subject to no other conditions than that the candidates—

(a.) Intend bonâ fide to adopt and follow the profession of teacher in schools fulfilling the conditions of Articles 4, 6, and 8, or 94, or 98, b;

(b.) Are more than 18 years old; or,

(c.) Have successfully completed their apprenticeship as pupil teachers.

106. All candidates who obtain the minimum number of marks are arranged in order of merit, irrespectively of their having been pupil teachers or not.

107. The authorities of each normal school may propose to the Education Department for admission any candidate declared to be admissible pursuant to Article 106.

* Thus numbered in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of such articles as are not substantially altered.

109. Before candidates are admitted—

(a.) The medical officer of the normal school must certify the state of their health to be satisfactory ; and,

(b.) They must sign a declaration signifying their intention conformably to Article 105.

110. The authorities of each College settle their own terms of admission.

111. Upon proof by the authorities of any College that candidates have not fulfilled the conditions set forth in Articles 98-9, contrary to a declaration signed by them on admission into the College, the Committee of Council will refuse to grant teachers' certificates (Article 76) to such candidates, or to admit them to probation for certificates (Articles 73-5).

* 112-118.

SECTION IV.

EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES ADMITTED INTO NORMAL SCHOOLS.

119. An examination of the resident students is held in December at the several Colleges in the week preceding the examination for admission (Article 103). The day fixed for the commencement of this examination is printed on the syllabus (Article 70) from year to year.

120. No student may be presented who has not been resident throughout the whole year ; and no student who has so resided may be left out.

121. The students have a different examination according as they are males or females, or are at the end of a first or second year of residence.

122. The first year's syllabus for females includes special subjects for the teachers of infants. Candidates who pass in these subjects, and complete their probation (Articles 73-6,) in schools for infants, receive special mention thereof (stamp) on their certificates.

* 123, 124.

125. At the end of the first year's residence, students who fall into the fourth division (Article 102³), are required to take up the first year's subjects again (viz., at the end of the second year), but in such cases the instalments to the College, and the certificates which the students may obtain as teachers (Article 76), are respectively at the rate (Article 102³) and in the form (Article 130) of the first year.

126. The principal is at liberty, by notice in writing to the Committee of Council before 30th June in each year, to designate any student who may have appeared in the third division at the end of the previous (first) year's residence, as proper to be examined again upon the same terms as the students included in the fourth division ; but such designation on the part of the principal does not affect the privileges attached to the student's rank in the previous examination.

SECTION V.

USE MADE OF EXAMINATIONS IN NORMAL SCHOOLS FOR AWARDING TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

128. Teachers qualified to be examined for certificates, according to Articles 68, 71, and 72, receive notice to attend the examination held pursuant to Article 119.

129. Teachers attending examinations pursuant to Article 128 may, at their option, take the papers of the first or second years' students (Article 121).

130. No candidate (Article 72) can obtain a teacher's certificate without passing one of these examinations, but the order of the candidates according to examination, except the fourth division (Article 131), is honorary (Articles 67 and 69).

Students who pass successfully through two years of training in normal schools receive special mention thereof (stamp) on their certificates.

131. Candidates (whether students or acting teachers), who are placed by examination in the fourth division (Article 102³), receive their certificates in the lower grade of the fourth class (Article 67). Such teachers are not recognized, under Article 81a, for the superintendence of pupil-teachers until they have risen to a higher certificate either by re-examination (Article 78), or good service (Articles 76-7).

* Retained, in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of those articles which are not substantially altered.

*131¹. All teachers at present registered as competent to instruct pupil teachers are included in the fourth class, upper grade, of certificated teachers; all other registered teachers, and all scheduled students acting as teachers, are included in the fourth class, lower grade.

PART III. SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

SECTION I. SMALL RURAL SCHOOLS.

132. Pupil teachers who fulfil the conditions of Article 90, may, upon special recommendation by the Inspector, and upon consideration of their last examination papers, be provisionally certified in the lower grade of the fourth class (Article 131) for immediate service in charge of small rural schools (Article 133), but after their 25th year of age (completed) their provisional certificates must have been exchanged for permanent certificates (Article 66), or are ipso facto cancelled.

*132¹. The provisional certificate (Article 132) is confined to an entry of the pupil teacher's name in a register kept by the Committee of Council on Education, and does not involve the issue of any certificate to the pupil teacher.

133. Small rural schools—

- (a) Must not contain more than 1,200 square feet of superficial area in the whole of the school-rooms and class-rooms; or
- (b) Must not have an annual average attendance of more than 100 scholars.

†134. (The Article formerly 134 is now 131¹, which see above.) Schools having an average annual attendance of more than 89 scholars are not exempted by Article 133 from Article 52, b.

135. Any number of schools fulfilling the conditions of Articles 4, 6, and 8,

- (a) Not being less than two, nor more than six;
- (b) Of which no one has within one and a half miles of it, a population of more than five hundred;
- (c) Of which the aggregate number of scholars is not less than forty (annual average); and
- (d) Of which each has its own resident teacher;—

may be united under the superintendence of one certificated master or mistress, who must spend two clear hours at the least in each week at each school during its ordinary time of meeting, or, if the number of united schools be less than six, such longer time per week as twelve hours divided among the united schools will give to each.

136. The resident teacher of each of the united schools is not required to be certificated.

137. The superintending teacher must have been trained for two years in a Normal School (Article 94) under Government inspection, must have been placed not lower than the third division in the examination (Articles 119–121) at the end of the second, year, and must have received a certificate after the usual probationary service (Articles 73 and 76)

138. The day scholars of all the united schools must be assembled once per annum, with their resident and superintending teachers, at some school-room under inspection, for examination by one of Her Majesty's inspectors, in the same manner as if they formed one school (Articles 16, 17).

139. The whole of the united schools must be represented by one official correspondent, and by one treasurer for the receipt of annual grants (Article 40.)

140. Articles 38–63¹ apply to each united school, but

- (a.) pupil-teachers cannot be apprenticed (Article 81) in them (Article 136); and
- (b.) the superintending (Article 137) as well as the resident (Article 135 d) teacher must join in keeping the log-book (Articles 56–63¹) of each united school, and must produce it to the inspector at the time of his visit (Article 138).

†141.

* Thus numbered, in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of articles not substantially altered.

† Retained, in order to preserve (for purposes of reference and quotation) the numbering of those articles which are not substantially altered.

SECTION II.

EVENING SCHOLARS.

142. The managers of any school to which annual inspection has already been promised (Article 16) may apply in writing to the Committee of Council on Education, to be furnished with printed papers and instructions for holding an examination of their evening scholars (Articles 38, 39).

*142¹. Only one examination per annum of evening scholars is held in the same school, and it may be held at any time of the year, provided that, between any two of such examinations, there intervene—

(a) the inspector's annual visit (Article 17); and also

(b) forty, or more, meetings of the school in the evening (Article 40a).

143. The applicants must pledge themselves that (exclusively of all teachers of the candidates) at least two managers—or, if only one manager, then such manager, and at least one other responsible person—shall be present during the whole of the examination, and shall conduct it in every respect according to the instructions accompanying the examination papers.

144. The examination papers are sent under an official seal, and must not be unsealed except in the examination room, and in the presence of the candidates immediately about to use them.

145. The written exercises, all of which must be upon paper, having been securely sealed up in the presence of the candidates before leaving the examination room, under the seals of the two persons holding the examination, must be forwarded, by the next post, to the Education Department, and transmitted thence to the inspector of the School.

146. The exercises of the evening scholars transmitted to the inspector are not returned by him to the Committee of Council except as part of his next annual report on the whole school (Article 16), and the grant for the examination of the evening scholars is not paid except as part of the next annual grant to the whole school (Article 17).

†147. (The Article formerly 147 is now part of *142¹, which see above).

148. In order to ensure the presence of a responsible manager to receive the examination papers, the managers of each school, in which a special examination of evening scholars is to be held, must renew their application (Article 142) every year to the Committee of Council. The day fixed for the examination must allow the interval required by Article *142¹.

149. The inspector of the school is at liberty to attend, without notice, at the time fixed for the examination (Article 142), and to hold it in person.

CHAPTER III.

REVISION OF CODE.

150. The Committee of Council on Education, in the course of each year, as occasion requires, may cancel or modify articles of the Code, or may establish new articles, but may not take any action thereon until the same shall have been submitted to Parliament, and laid on the Table of both Houses for at least one calendar month.

151. In January of each year the Code shall be printed in such a form as to show separately all articles cancelled or modified, and all new articles, since the last edition, and shall be laid on the Table of both Houses within one calendar month from the meeting of Parliament.

(Signed) GRANVILLE.
Lord President of the Council.

APPENDIX I.

Showing separately (for 1866) all ARTICLES cancelled or modified, and all new ARTICLES.

Articles in the Code of 1865 which are cancelled or modified in the Code of 1866.

16. The Committee of Council, at the time of agreeing to make annual grants to a school, informs the managers in what month to look for the inspector's annual visit. The inspector gives notice of the day of his visit beforehand to the managers.

51. The grant is withheld altogether,—

(d.) If the registers be not kept with sufficient accuracy to warrant confidence in the returns.

*53¹ In any small rural (Article 133), or in any united school (Articles 135-140), the reduction prescribed by Article 52 d is suspended, as long as the grant and the endowment together do not make a total sum exceeding the rate of 15s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance in the year defined by Article 17.

81 (f.) Note on Memorandum for Engagement of Pupil Teacher.) This agreement should be deposited with the school papers (Article 55). The surety should have either an executed duplicate (which requires a second stamp), or at least a certified copy.

88. Column "Drawing."

2. The exercises may be worked in any order, but not more than one in the same year of apprenticeship.
3. Pupil-teachers are admitted to study at any of the drawing schools in connexion with the Department of Science and Art, at half the ordinary fees.
4. Pupil-teachers, if attending such drawing schools, are not required to perform an exercise in drawing at the annual examination before the inspector, but have another opportunity of being examined in connexion with the drawing school itself.
5. Pupil-teachers, if not attending such drawing schools, have an opportunity of performing an exercise in drawing at the annual examination before the inspector.
6. Pupil-teachers, although not attending such drawing schools, may be permitted (by arrangements between the managers of the schools in which they are apprenticed and the master of any such drawing school), to be annually examined there instead of at the annual examination of pupil-teachers before the inspectors.

91. Pupil-teachers who can be certified, pursuant to Article 90, to have completed their apprenticeship with credit, may serve as assistants in schools in place of pupil-teachers,

New Articles in the Code of 1866.

16. The Committee of Council, at the time of agreeing to make annual grants to a school, informs the managers in what month to look for the inspector's annual visit. This month remains the same from year to year unless the Committee of Council informs the managers of a change. The inspector gives notice of the day of his visit beforehand to the managers.

51. The grant is withheld altogether,—

(d.) If the registers and accounts be not kept with sufficient accuracy to warrant confidence in the returns.

*53¹. The reduction prescribed by Article 52d is suspended, as long as the grant and the endowment together do not make a total sum exceeding the rate of 15s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance in the year defined by Article 17.

81 (f.) Note of Memorandum for Engagement of Pupil Teacher.)—This agreement should be deposited with the school papers (Articles 55). The surety should have either an executed duplicate (which requires a second stamp), or at least a certified copy. The agreement exists only between the persons who sign it. If any of them are changed (by removal of managers, or otherwise), forms and instructions for a new agreement (with stamp) may be obtained upon application (Article 21) to the Committee of Council.

2. The exercises may be worked in any order throughout the years of apprenticeship.
3. Pupil-teachers may study and be examined (about March in each year) at any of the drawing schools in connexion with the Department of Science and Art.
4. Pupil-teachers, although not studying at such drawing schools, may be permitted (by arrangements between the managers of the schools in which they are apprenticed and the master of any such drawing school) to be annually examined there.
5. An annual examination in drawing is also held in November at each of the Normal Colleges (Article 94a), and pupil-teachers, who obtain permission from the authorities of them, may attend there, if more convenient, for examination.
6. For detailed information respecting the means of instruction, and the places and times of examination, apply by letter to "The Secretary, Department of Science and Art, South Kensington, London, S.W."

91. Pupil-teachers who can be certified, pursuant to Article 90, to have completed their apprenticeship with credit, may serve as assistants in schools in place of pupil-

Annual Grants (Article 40) to endowed schools are reduced by the amounts of their income (Article 52 d.) from endowment; but, in small rural (Article 133) or united schools (Articles 135-140), the reduction is suspended as long as the grant and the endowment together do not make a total sum exceeding the rate of 15s. per scholar according to the average number in attendance in the year defined by Article 17 (Article 53¹).

141. No small rural school (Article 133) nor any united school (Articles 135-140) is subject to the full reduction of the grant on account of any endowment it may be receiving (Article 93³).†

142. The managers of any school to which annual inspection has already been promised (Article 16) may apply in writing to the Committee of Council on Education, at any time not less than one month before the date at which the inspector's next visit is due, to be furnished with printed papers and instructions for holding an examination of their evening scholars (Articles 38, 39) on a day to be named in their application.

146. The exercises of the evening scholars transmitted to the inspector are not returned by him to the Committee of Council except as part of his next annual report on the whole school (Article 16).

147. Only one examination per annum of evening scholars is held in the same school (Article 17).

148. In order to ensure the presence of a responsible manager to receive the examination papers, the managers of each school in which a special examination of evening scholars is to be held, must renew their application (Article 142) every year to the Committee of Council.

142. The managers of any school to which annual inspection has already been promised (Article 16) may apply in writing to the Committee of Council on Education to be furnished with printed papers and instructions for holding an examination of their evening scholars (Articles 38, 39).

*142¹. Only one examination per annum of evening scholars is held in the same school, and it may be held at any time of the year, provided that, between any two of such examinations, there intervene—

- (a) the inspector's annual visit (Article 17); and also
- (b) forty, or more, meetings of the school in the evening (Article 40 a).

146. The exercises of the evening scholars transmitted to the inspector are not returned by him to the Committee of Council except as part of his next annual report on the whole school (Article 16), and the grant for the examination of the evening scholars is not paid except as part of the next annual grant to the whole school (Article 17).

†147. (The article formerly 147 is now part of *142¹, which see above).

148. In order to ensure the presence of a responsible manager to receive the examination papers, the managers of each school in which a special examination of evening scholars is to be held, must renew their application (Article 142) every year to the Committee of Council. The day fixed for the examination must allow the interval required by Article *142¹.

APPENDIX II.

A copy of the following Supplementary Rules is sent to the correspondent of the School by the Inspector at the same time as notice of his visit (Article 16).

RULE 1.—In column II. of the Examination Schedule the names of the qualified scholars must be entered class by class, beginning with the lowest scholar in the lowest class.

RULE 2.—The entries in column VII. must show where one class ends and another begins. The number denoting each Class is to be written only once; dots (" ") are to be put for each repetition of it, until the next higher class begins. There must be no intermixture of classes.

RULE 3.—The entries in column VIII b. will show where one standard ends and another begins. The number denoting each standard is to be written only once; dots (" ") are to be put for each repetition of it until the next higher standard begins. There must be no intermixture of standards.*

RULE 4.—The end of each standard in column VIII b. need not (although, of course, it may) coincide with the end of each class in column VII.* Compare the entries opposite to No. 6 who ends a class, but not a standard; No. 8 who ends a standard but not a class; No. 16 who ends both a class and a standard (this is preferable).

RULE 5.—The managers need not present all the scholars who in each class are qualified for examination by number of attendances; but those whom they present at all must be presented in the classes to which the school registers prove them to belong, unless they fall as "Exceptions" under Rule 6.

RULE 6.—The children who, for whatever reason, are presented under a lower standard than that which an examination of the school according to the above rules assigns to their class, must be entered last in the schedule under the title of "Exceptions," otherwise they will violate Rule 2 or 3. No child is to be placed among the "Exceptions" unless there is some special excuse for doing so, such as previous illness, &c. Primâ facie, every child who is not fit to be examined in its own class has been wrongly placed there for instruction.

RULE 7.—The Inspector is directed to refuse to examine Schools wherein Rule 2 or 3 is violated. He will in such cases proceed to inspect the School, and will report to the Committee of Council why he has left column IX. (his Report on each candidate) in the Examination Schedule blank.

RULE 8.—No grant will be paid to a School (not being one for Evening Scholars or Infants only) unless one class—i.e. all who are to be examined as members of one class according to Rule 5—be presented at least as high as Standard III.

RULE 9.—A deduction of at least one-tenth will be made from the grant to a School (not being one for Evening Scholars or Infants only) unless one class—i.e. all who are to be examined as members of one class, according to Rule 5—be presented above Standard III.

RULE 10.—Entries in column VI. have reference to Article 4 in the Revised Code, and do not exclude children from the grant whose parents, though not supporting themselves by manual labour, yet are of the same means and social level as those who do so; such as shopkeepers who have only petty stocks, and employ no one but members of their own family.

Cases of doubt are to be determined according to the answers to one or more of the following inquiries:—

(a.) Does A.B. work for himself, or for a master? if for himself, does he employ apprentices or journeymen? This will apply to masons, carpenters, tailors, blacksmiths, mariners, fishermen, &c.

The class denoted by Article 4 supports itself by its own manual labour only, and not by profit on the labour of others.

(b.) Would it be unreasonable to expect him to pay 9d. per week for the schooling of each of his children?

This payment equals about 30s. per annum, the estimated cost (Royal Commissioners Report, page 345) of elementary instruction in a day school.

(c.) Does he rank, and associate with, the working men, or with the tradesmen of the place?

Simple policemen, coastguards, and dock and railway porters, may commonly be regarded as labouring men. But petty officers in those services, excisemen, pilots, and clerks of various kinds, present more difficulty, and must be judged of according to the answers to the preceding inquiries.

Every occupation which does not fall within the letter of Article 4, should be entered in column VI., but a well-marked line should be drawn under those entries which are thought to fall within the spirit of Article 4. See No. 12, in specimen Schedule, suprà.

RULE 11.—To find the average number of scholars in attendance at a school for any period, ADD TOGETHER the total number of attendances (see Rule 12) marked in the Class Registers within the period, and DIVIDE the sum by the number of times which the school has been open within the same period; THE QUOTIENT is the average number in attendance.

This calculation should be made first, for the whole school, and then separately for those scholars only who do not fulfil Article 4. See Rule 10, suprà, and note † in pp. 2, 3, 4 of the Form IX. The divisor will be the same in both cases.

RULE 12.—Attendance at a morning or afternoon meeting may not be reckoned for any scholar who has been under instruction less than two hours, nor attendance at an evening meeting for any scholar who has been under instruction less than one hour and a half (Article 41). The Class Registers at each meeting of a school must be marked and finally closed before the minimum time constituting an attendance begins. The inspector will inquire whether this rule has been observed (Article 51, d).

RULE 13.—No child's name should be kept on the Admission Register after a fortnight's continuous absence without inquiry from the parents whether the child has been withdrawn. The names of children withdrawn (whether they are so, the answer of their parents will decide) should be cancelled at once in the Registers, and not included in the returns of age and stay at school; but the attendances (if any) opposite to such names in the Class Registers, must be counted under Rule 11., suprà, and the whole number of such names must be counted for the return "left in past year."

* In the following transcript of part of the Examination Schedule, Columns II., VII., and VIII b., are filled up, by way of example, according to Rules 2 and 3. Of course, the other columns must not, in practice, be left blank; and the actual numbers, presented in each class, will generally be much larger.

I.—COPY of New or Altered RULE on the Subject of RELIGIOUS TEACHING, made in May 1866, by the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION (IRELAND).

“No pupil who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Protestant is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction in case the teacher giving such instruction is a Roman Catholic; and no pupil who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Roman Catholic is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction in case the teacher giving such instruction is not a Roman Catholic.

“And further, no pupil is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of any religious instruction to which its parents or guardians object.”

Note.—In accordance with the Rule of the Board in such cases, application has been made to the Lord Lieutenant to sanction the adoption of the above Rule, which cannot take effect until his Excellency shall have signified his approval, which he has not yet done.

III.—THE PROTESTS.

The Rev. Doctor Henry, Rev. Doctor Hall, and James Gibson, Esq., protest against the change of Rule.

Note.—The Bishop of Derry, in a letter addressed by him to the Board, expressed himself prepared to accede to a change of the Rule, and with that view his Lordship submitted a proposition, which, however, was not adopted by the Commissioners.

SUBSEQUENTLY to the date of the Order of the House of Commons, calling for the foregoing Return, the following "Proviso" was added to the proposed New Rule on the subject of religious instruction; and the Rule, with the Proviso, having received the sanction of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, by letter, dated 26th June 1866, stands as follows:

"No pupil, who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Protestant, is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction, in case the teacher giving such instruction is a Roman Catholic; and no pupil, who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Roman Catholic, is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction, in case the teacher giving such instruction is not a Roman Catholic; and further, no pupil is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of any religious instruction to which its parents or guardians object."

"Provided, however, that in case any parent or guardian shall express his desire that his child should receive any particular religious instruction, and shall record such desire in a book, to be provided in the school, when necessary for that purpose; this prohibition shall not apply to the time during which such religious instruction only is given.* The entry in the book shall be signed with the name or mark of the parent or guardian, and the book shall be submitted to the Inspector so often as he visits the school."

In connection with the foregoing, the Commissioners have passed the following Resolution:

"That whilst the Rule adopted by the Board appears to the Commissioners to furnish the most efficient means for guarding from the suspicion of proselytism a system of separate religious and combined secular instruction, the Commissioners accept, in deference to the wishes of the Lord Lieutenant, the Proviso suggested in the Chief Secretary's letter, in the hope that it will not interfere with the practical operation of the Rule. The Commissioners, however, will feel it to be their duty to propose the repeal of the Proviso, if the Rule, so modified, should prove in any manner inadequate to the accomplishment of its object."

* Such expression of desire may, at any time, be revoked by the parent or guardian, and shall thereupon become inoperative.

“COPY of any CORRESPONDENCE between Her Majesty’s Government and the Commissioners of National Education (Ireland), on the subject of the organisation and government of TRAINING and MODEL SCHOOLS.”

26 July 1866.

JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.
WILLIAM McCREEDY, }

COPY of LETTER, dated 19th June 1866, from the Right Hon. C. S. Fortescue, M. P., Chief Secretary for Ireland, to the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Irish Office, 19 June 1866.

I AM desired by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant to inform you that Her Majesty’s Government have had under their careful consideration several important questions connected with the operation of the National system of Education in Ireland, to which they desire to call the attention of the Commissioners, with a view to the adoption of certain alterations which they believe would produce great public advantage.

The first point which they request the Board to consider is that of the training of teachers in model schools.

It was originally laid down by Lord Derby as a condition of the employment of teachers, that they should have received previous instruction in a Model School, which was accordingly opened in Dublin in 1833.

But the Commissioners of Education having thus one normal school only, and having a large and increasing number of teachers to train, were forced to adopt a very limited course of instruction, a course which at first was spread over three months only, and which has never exceeded five months; and notwithstanding this effort to extend, however imperfectly, the influences of training as widely as possible, it appears that there are still in the National Schools 4,309 untrained teachers out of a total number of 7,472.

It is of course known to the Government that the District Model Schools assist in supplying competent teachers. But the number which they are able to send out does not, it appears, exceed 90 annually, while in 34 out of 60 school districts into which the country has been divided no model school has been established. It is accordingly ascertained that between the training school in Dublin and the District Model Schools in the country, the number of persons prepared annually for the office of teacher is only about 400, whereas the number of new teachers, principals, or assistants, annually required is about 900.

The Government view this state of things with much concern, and are anxious to apply a remedy to the incompleteness and inadequacy of the present training system; but considering the hostility felt and expressed in some quarters, and especially in the Roman Catholic community, to the principle of exclusive State management in the case of model and training schools, they are not prepared to undertake the extension of such schools under such exclusive management. The Government prefer to stimulate private enterprise and private zeal to supply the wants which exist, and they therefore propose to encourage the establishment of model schools under local management.

The following is the outline of the plan which the Government would propose for the consideration of the Board.

A model school, under local management, would consist of two parts :

1st. The domestic establishment, which should have accommodation for at least 15 resident pupils, and which should in every respect be suitable to its purpose as a part of a training institution.

2nd. The school-house, which should be of a superior character, and be capable of accommodating at least 150 pupils.

The domestic establishment should be erected from funds derived from private sources.

The school-house may be built either from private funds, as in the case of ordinary non-vested National Schools, or partly from private funds, and partly from the Parliamentary grant, as in the case of vested National Schools. In the former instance, the school would be called a non-vested model school ; in the latter instance, a vested model school.

To the erection of a vested model school-house the Commissioners would contribute in the same proportion of expense as in the case of ordinary schools. The management and general direction of a vested Model School would be vested in trustees, who, subject to the Board's approval, would appoint the teachers, and would have the absolute power of dismissing them.

The heads of the school should exhibit qualifications for the proper training of students in the art of teaching, and the organization of schools.

The day school must be open to pupils of all denominations, and must be conducted exactly upon the principle of an ordinary National School : a course of study by students in training would be laid down by the Board. For each student who should pass a satisfactory examination a grant should be made by the Board. The Government would look to the Board for advice as to the amount of such grant, and also for the suggestion of all regulations of detail necessary to carry into effect the plan which I have described.

Her Majesty's Government, in the next place, strongly recommend a revision of the arrangements for the reception of teachers in training, in force in the Normal establishment in Dublin, with the view of providing, if possible, an ampler and more practical course of instruction for a larger number of teachers. They desire also to observe, that there is a marked distinction between the position of students residing for a considerable time as boarders in a training institute or model school, and that of day scholars attending an ordinary school ; a distinction which accounts for the fact, that objections are often entertained, especially by the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church, against sending teachers or pupil teachers to an institution where their domestic life is not based, like the family life of a home, upon identity of religious belief.

It appears to the Government that the double object of meeting such objections, and of providing the means of retaining a larger number of teachers for a longer period in training, might, to a great extent, be attained by permitting teachers or pupil teachers, at their own desire, or that of the managers of schools by whom they are sent up for training, to board and lodge out of the official establishment. In such cases teachers and pupil teachers should receive an allowance in lieu of board and lodging, and arrangements could be readily made for their reception in private boarding houses sanctioned by the Commissioners. If a precedent were needed for such an arrangement, I find that in the Scotch Presbyterian training colleges there are no official residences for the teachers in training, who, by means of an allowance from the college, provide board and lodging for themselves.

The Government are further of opinion that, considering the nature of these institutions in which the Commissioners stand, to a great extent, towards the teachers in loco parentis, and in which large number of children of different religious denominations are drawn together without that local supervision, either lay or clerical, which the patron or manager affords to an ordinary national school, some special provision should be made for the religious instruction and supervision of the inmates, and with this view they recommend the appointment of chaplains in connection with the central training and district model schools, upon the following conditions :—

The

The Commissioners, upon the recommendation of the Bishop or other authority of the church to which they belong, should appoint as chaplains resident clergymen of each denomination.

The chaplain should have control, subject to the rules of the Board, over the religious instruction of the teachers in training and pupils of his own denomination.

It would be especially his duty to watch over those teachers who, under the last proposal, should reside out of the official establishment.

The Commissioners should require his certificate as a condition of granting or continuing their license to a boarding house for the use of teachers of his own denomination.

He should be remunerated by a capitation grant for the teachers in training and the pupils belonging to his own church, his total income not, however, exceeding some fixed amount.

Every teacher of a model school would, as at present, be appointed by the Commissioners, subject to the possession of a certificate as to faith and morals from the chaplain of his own religious denomination.

Finally, I am directed by his Excellency to inform you that Her Majesty's Government are desirous of drawing the attention of the Commissioners to the important principle upon which the remuneration of the teachers of schools supported by the State has with such marked success been recently regulated in England and Scotland; I refer to the principle of State payments being apportioned to the ascertained results of education.

The Government do not urge upon the Commissioners the general adoption of this principle as an immediate change in the Irish system. They propose its early introduction in certain cases where it might properly be tried at once, as in that of the model schools, to be followed by its gradual development, not necessarily in the precise form which it has assumed in England, but with such modifications and adaptations as the Commissioners, profiting by English experience, with their knowledge of the wants and circumstances of Ireland, may recommend. I may add that I should hope that, as one effect of the change, the incomes of meritorious teachers would thereby be improved.

The Lord Lieutenant invites the immediate consideration of the Commissioners to the proposals herein contained, and requests to be favoured with their views thereon as soon as possible.

of National Education.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY (IRELAND).

COPY of PATENT granting SUPPLEMENTAL CHARTER to the QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY in Ireland.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, to all unto whom these presents shall come, greeting: Whereas by Letters Patent under the great seal of Ireland, bearing date the 8th day of October, in the 28th year of Our reign, We did constitute, ordain, and found as a body politic and corporate "The Queen's University in Ireland," and did will and ordain that the said University should have power to grant to matriculated candidates, who should have pursued a regular course of study, either wholly in one or more of the colleges of the University, or part of it in such other places or ways as were expressly permitted by certain provisions in the said Letters Patent contained, and the rest in one or more of the colleges of the said University, all such degrees or other distinctions as could be conferred in or by any other University in Our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, provided that the University created by Our said Charter should not confer any degree or other distinction in theology.

And whereas it is expedient to extend the benefits of the said University, and for that purpose to enlarge the powers of the said University created by Our said Charter, by enabling it to grant all such degrees and distinctions as are hereinbefore mentioned to persons who may be deemed qualified to obtain the same, although they may not have matriculated in any of the said colleges of the University, or pursued any part of their studies in such colleges.

Know ye, therefore, that We, of Our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, by and with the advice and consent of Our right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin and Counsellor, John, Earl of Kimberley, Our Lieutenant General and General Governor of that part of Our said United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, called Ireland, and according to the tenor and effect of Our letter, under Our Privy Signet and Royal Sign Manual, bearing date at Our Court of St. James's, the 13th day of June 1866, in the 29th year of Our reign; and now enrolled in the Rolls of Our High Court of Chancery, in that part of Our said United Kingdom called Ireland, have willed, ordained, constituted, and declared, and by these presents to Our heirs and successors, We do will, ordain, constitute, and declare, that the said University, created by Our said Charter, shall have power to grant to any person who may have matriculated in the said University, and who may be deemed qualified by the senate of the said Queen's University in Ireland aforesaid, to obtain the same, all such or any of the degrees or distinctions which, by Our said Charter, the said Queen's University in Ireland is empowered to grant, notwithstanding that such persons may not have matriculated in any of the said colleges, or pursued any of their studies therein.

And We do further will and ordain that all persons, although not educated in any of the colleges mentioned or referred to in Our said Charter, shall be admitted as candidates for matriculation in the said University, and after such matriculation, as candidates for any of the said degrees or distinctions, by the said Charter authorised to be conferred or granted, subject to all such rules and regulations as the senate of the said Queen's University may from time to time make.

And further, of Our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, by and with the advice and consent aforesaid, and according to the tenor and effect of Our aforesaid letter, We do, for Us, Our heirs and successors, further will and ordain, that once at least in every year, the senate of the Queen's University in Ireland shall cause to be held an examination for matriculation in the said University of all such students as may present themselves as candidates for matriculation under this Our Charter.

2 SUPPLEMENTAL CHARTER : QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY, IRELAND.

And, lastly, We do hereby, for Us, Our heirs and successors, grant and declare that these Our Letters Patent, or the enrolment or exemplification thereof, shall be in all things good, firm, valid, and effectual in the law, according to the true intent and meaning of the same, and shall be taken, construed, and adjudged in all Our courts as elsewhere in the most favourable and beneficial sense, and for the best advantage of the said University, any mis-recital, non-recital, omission, defect, imperfection, matter or thing whatsoever to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding : Provided always that these Our Letters Patent be enrolled in the Rolls of Our High Court of Chancery in that part of Our said United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland called Ireland, within the space of six months next ensuing the date of these presents. In witness whereof We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent.

Witness, John, Earl of Kimberley, Our Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland, at Dublin, the 25th day of June, in the 30th year of Our reign.

COPIES of MEMORIAL and STATEMENT of Treasurer of Royal Hibernian Academy to the late Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, dated the 20th day of September 1865, and LETTERS in reference thereto from the Irish Government; and, of REPORT from Mr. Eyre Crowe, on ROYAL HIBERNIAN ACADEMY'S SCHOOLS of ART, 1865, with ANSWER of Academy thereto, and STATEMENT forwarded therewith, with other CORRESPONDENCE between Department of Science and Art and the Irish Government in reference to the ROYAL HIBERNIAN ACADEMY.

— No. 1. —

MEMORIAL of the President and Members of the Royal Hibernian Academy.

To His Excellency John Wodehouse, Baron Wodehouse, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland, &c., &c., &c.

The Memorial of the President and Members of the Royal Hibernian Academy,

Humbly sheweth—

THAT, in July last the Academy received an intimation from the Department of Science and Art that early in the ensuing August the Right Honourable H. A. Bruce, Vice President of the Committee of Council on Education, would make a visit of inspection to the Academy.

That on the 4th of August, Mr. Cole and Captain Donnelly visited the Academy instead of Mr. Bruce, and inquired into the state of the schools, annual exhibitions, &c., and, at their request, tabular statements, setting forth the receipts, expenditure, and pecuniary losses incurred by the exhibitions during the last four years were forwarded to the Department.

That it was shown by those statements, copies of which are herewith submitted for your Excellency's information, that the Government grant of 300 l. annually voted to the Academy is insufficient, and that the Academy has been for years struggling to maintain the institution upon wholly insufficient means.

That, in consequence of these difficulties, arising from the pecuniary failure of the exhibitions, the Academy now seeks through the Department of Science and Art, an additional grant-in-aid of 250 l., to enable it to meet existing liabilities; and feeling assured that your Excellency fully appreciates the importance of such an institution as the Royal Hibernian Academy, a body of professional artists, incorporated by Royal Charter, affording a nucleus and rallying point for the advancement of the fine arts in Ireland, and exercising an important and necessary influence on public taste.

Memorialists therefore pray your Excellency to use your influence with Government to advocate this request, and to urge the necessity, by a permanently increased grant, of placing their institution on a more secure and solid basis.

And Memorialists will ever pray.

Enclosures in No. 1.

Royal Hibernian Academy,
21 September 1865.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Council of the Royal Academy to forward the accompanying statement of the receipts and expenses of the annual exhibitions for the last four years, as Mr. Cole, during his recent visit to the Academy, made some inquiries respecting the losses caused by exhibitions, which, in the absence of the treasurer (at that time abroad) it was not possible then to afford, and expressed a wish to have such returns forwarded.

The losses on the annual exhibitions have necessarily interfered with the efficiency of the institution as the Academy is not possessed of any funds except the annual grant-in-aid, of 300 £, and that is scarcely sufficient for the necessary expenses of the schools.

Thus the Academy is involved in debt, notwithstanding the utmost efforts of the members to render their exhibition remunerative.

In the annual reports the Academy has constantly pointed to the apathy of the public respecting the fine arts, and the necessity of an annually increased grant to sustain the Academy.

I am now therefore to convey through you to the Department of Science and Art, the inclosed statements, showing that during the last four years an average loss of 100 £ has been incurred, and to respectfully urge upon the Department the necessity of an additional grant of 250 £, which will enable the Academy to meet their liabilities and carry on the institution to the end of the current year.

To Norman McLeod, Esq.
Department of Science and Art,
South Kensington, London.

I am, &c.

OBSERVATIONS.

The several amounts in the columns of "unpaid" items are approximate estimates. The gas is calculated according to the number of nights the exhibitions were open to the public. Printing, advertising, and incidental expenses are abstracted from the general account in the ledger, as the amounts fairly chargeable to the exhibition; the other sums are those precisely stated in the annual abstracts rendered. As the accounts run from one year into another, the figures of profit or loss given to each year may not actually belong to it, but the total of loss on four years is correctly given as 391 l. 10 s. 8 d., or an average annual loss during that period of 100 l. nearly.

It is particularly to be observed that during this period no salaries have been paid to officers, and that even at the very moderate scale originally paid to them a sum of 420 l. would have been payable to them; and further, that in the desire of the members of the Academy to maintain the annual exhibition at even a personal sacrifice to themselves, the Committee of Arrangement have received no remuneration for these years past; and their services, if paid on the usual scale, would have absorbed a further sum of 66 l. 3 s.

The Under Secretary for Ireland, to the Secretary, Department of Science and Art, South Kensington.

Sir,

Dublin Castle, 21 November 1865.

I AM directed by the Lord Lieutenant to transmit to you, to be laid before the Committee of Council on Education, a copy of a memorial to his Excellency from the President and Members of the Royal Hibernian Academy, praying for a grant-in-aid of 250 l., in addition to their annual grant of 300 l. to enable them to meet existing liabilities, and also for a permanent increase to that grant.

I am to state that his Excellency would view with regret any failure, from want of funds, of the schools now maintained by the Royal Hibernian Academy, and trusts that their Lordships will give their favourable consideration to this memorial.

I am, &c.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, to forward for the information of the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of their Lordships' minute of the 9th instant, relative to the memorial from the Royal Hibernian Academy, and I am to request you to favour me with any observations on the withdrawal of the grant, or with any suggestions for rendering the continued expenditure justifiable.

COPY of MINUTE, 9 February 1866.

Royal Hibernian Academy.

MY LORDS consider Sir Thomas Larcom's letter of the 21st November 1865, also memorial transmitted therewith from the Royal Hibernian Academy, praying for a grant of 250 l., to pay immediate liabilities incurred in holding unsuccessful exhibitions and for an increase to the present grant of 300 l. per annum. My Lords likewise consider Mr. Eyre Crowe's Report on the annual competition of works at the Royal Hibernian Academy in 1865, and Mr. Cole's account of his visit to Dublin in August last.

With regard to the liabilities of the Royal Hibernian Academy, they appear from the President's statement to have arisen from an excess of expenditure over receipts in the annual exhibitions held during the last four years by the Academy, and the apathy of the public is referred to as the cause of the want of success and loss.

My Lords are of opinion that the Academy's annual exhibition of pictures is not an object on which public money should be expended, similar exhibitions in London, Edinburgh, Manchester and other places being promoted out of private funds.

They are, therefore, unable to recommend either a special or an annual grant for this purpose. As respects the schools, to the maintenance of which the present grant of 300 l. is wholly applied, my Lords observe with regret that the results have been most unsatisfactory. Mr. Crowe states as follows:

"There are 28 students on the books.

"I have no hesitation in saying that all the students should be at work in the sculpture room, and be put to work from casts of the three or four studies from the antique; none were up to the mark of those to which awards are usually made in schools of art.

"In the life school, studies composing the majority of those in competition none were of sufficient merit to warrant a medal being given. This was also the case in the painting school. The suggestions for amendment thrown out last year have not been acted upon in any one particular. No regular attendance on the part of the pupils is enforced, thus while while one pupil sends 17 sketches, another sends one solitary life study, the only work he has produced in the year. In the painting school these students, in spite of all remonstrances, seek to compose genre pictures without knowledge of perspective, anatomy, or of light or shade. Neither in numbers, in present efficiency, or in future promise, can I pronounce that this year's work holds out any advance on former efforts, but rather the reverse."

My Lords cannot, under the circumstances above described, recommend an increased grant for the schools of the Academy. They consider, on the contrary, that the present grant, as now administered, is productive of very little good; and as Dublin possesses an excellent school of art in connection with the Royal Dublin Society, they are of opinion that the interest of fine art would not suffer if the present grant to the Royal Hibernian Academy were wholly withdrawn.

— No. 4. —

The Under Secretary to the Secretary of the Royal Hibernian Academy.

Sir,

Dublin Castle, 26 February 1866.

I AM directed by the Lord Lieutenant to transmit to you, to be laid before the Council of the Royal Hibernian Academy, copy of a letter which has been received by his Excellency from the Committee of Council on Education, enclosing copy of a Minute of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, relative to the memorial of the Academy praying for a grant of 250 l. to pay immediate liabilities, and for an increase to the present grant of 300 l. per annum; and I am to request that the Council will favour me, for his Excellency's information, with such remarks as they may think fit to make thereon.

Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts, Lower Abbey-street,
Dublin, 2 March 1866.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Royal Hibernian Academy to forward to you, for the information of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, the accompanying observations upon the Minute of the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, and upon the report from the inspector, Eyre Crowe, Esq., which accompanied it.

I am, &c.

Enclosure in No. 5.

Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts, Lower Abbey-street,
Dublin, March 1866.

THE Royal Hibernian Academy, having before them a portion of the Report, 1865, of the Inspector from the Department of Science and Art upon their schools, lay respectfully, for the consideration of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, the following:—

Inspector's Report.

"In the life school studies, composing the majority of those in competition, none were of sufficient merit to warrant a medal being given. This was also the case in the Painting School."

Observations.

At the last visit of inspection, Mr. Crowe (in conjunction with the president and keeper) awarded the silver medal to Mr. Francis Walker, and the bronze medal to Mr. Wm. Farrell, for drawings from the life. Mr. Watkins received "honourable mention" for modelling from the life. In the painting school no award was made, as the president and the inspector differed with the keeper in opinion as to the amount of merit shown.

Inspector's Report.

"In the antique none are up to the mark of those to which awards are usually made in schools of art."

In the course of the year Mr. Farrell was passed from the antique into the life school, and was awarded a medal in that school.

There was no division of opinion upon those awards of medals between the inspector and the president and keeper, and therefore the Academy are at a loss to reconcile the statements in the report with the above facts, and with the inspector's expressed opinions to the president and keeper.

"In the painting school the students, in spite of all remonstrances, seek to compose genre pictures without knowledge of perspective, anatomy, or of light and shade."

Extract from Rules and Regulations in the Schools of the Royal Hibernian Academy.

"3. The painting school shall be open five days in each week in the sessions, from ten to one o'clock. On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays the draped model will sit from 10 to 12 o'clock. The visitors (masters) shall attend one month in rotation, and shall always be present while the model sits."

"16. There shall be a special competition at the close of the autumn session, open to all who study in the schools, for which a silver medal shall be awarded, in addition to the bronze medal given in each of the schools.

"For this competition the figure shall be posed in the living model school, to sit for two hours five evenings each week for three consecutive weeks. In the painting school the draped model will sit, and a picture for study will also be selected; and in the antique school a figure (cast) shall be set up. The best performance in any of the schools shall obtain the silver medal."

"The suggestions for amendment thrown out last year have not been acted upon in any one particular."

Extracts from Report of 1864.

"That in future heads, hands, and feet from casts, and carefully elaborated, should be insisted upon no back ground being used.

"That better (female) models be selected, and, if necessary, got from London! especially for works in competition."

Extract from Bye Laws—"Schools."

"7. No person shall be admitted as a student in the schools of the Royal Hibernian Academy, unless he has passed in the four papers of freehand, geometry, perspective

Observations.

The bronze medal was awarded to Mr. McNeill for drawing from the antique, and one study, only partly finished, the inspector commended highly. His attention was directed to drawings by other students, and he agreed that improvement was evident.

The bronze medal was awarded to Mr. McNeill for drawing from the antique, and one study, only partly finished, the inspector commended highly. His attention was directed to drawings by other students, and he agreed that improvement was evident.

3. Mr. Crowe, of course, must mean that without knowledge of perspective, &c., &c., the students seek to compose genre pictures. The Academy deny that this sweeping denunciation applies to the students' works. Some were produced by a student (Mr. Walker), who is also a teacher of perspective in the school of the Royal Dublin Society. The Academy pray for inquiry.

Since his first visit of inspection, Mr. Crowe has constantly objected to the draped model, and refused to award medals. The bye-laws of the Academy and the rules for the conduct of the schools expressly recognise this study. They have been drawn up with the concurrence of the Department of Science and Art, and a copy deposited with them.

The Academy differ in toto with Mr. Crowe's views; they consider the draped model a most useful study to the young artist, who require to practice painting drapery upon the human form quite as much as studying from the nude; and studies of still life are also most necessary.

Such a course of study is part of the instruction given in the Royal Academy of London; and some years ago a similar school was established in London, outside the Academy, and was much resorted to by artists. It was called the Clipston-street School, and the draped model was its principal feature.

In the Royal Dublin Society a draped model occasionally sits, and premiums have been awarded for studies from it.

4. Nearly all the inspector's suggestions are antagonistic to the rules, and made seemingly in ignorance of their existence; yet they have been read to Mr. Crowe.

Studies of heads, hands, and feet were made by the students, and the keeper directed Mr. Crowe's attention to a few of such studies during his last visit.

The greater part of Mr. Crowe's suggestions the Academy consider inexpedient, and some far from desirable.

5. Before the Academy was placed in connection with the Department the students who entered the schools were required to show by specimen drawings that they were

were sufficiently skilled draftsmen to benefit by studying therein, but since 1861 the new bye-laws, drawn up at the instance of the department, require for admission into the schools only that the student should produce the certificate from the department.

It appears strange that such a small number of pupils from the Royal Dublin Society's schools present themselves for admission to the Academy, who can produce the four papers or certificates. The Academy have, however, been constrained to refuse several applicants perfectly competent to study in their schools, merely because they had not passed in those four papers.

In fact the department ties up the Academy by certain rules, the effect of which is to diminish the number and proficiency of the Academy's students, and the inspector then reports against the Academy for adhering to those rules.

"Dublin possesses an excellent school of art in connection with the Royal Dublin Society."

6. A comparison between the Royal Dublin Society's schools and those of the Academy can scarcely be instituted, as the province of one is elemental art instruction and mechanical drawing, whereas the Academy is only open to male students, and the higher branches of art study are alone pursued.

The great majority of the pupils in the Royal Dublin Society schools being ladies practising drawing as an amusement or elegant accomplishment, and the principal portion of the male pupils being in the architectural class, or at mechanical drawing, is, of course, one great cause why so few present themselves as candidates for admission to the Academy schools.

Most of the students of the Academy were pupils in the schools of the Royal Dublin Society before entering those of the Academy; and at present two of the Academy's students are junior masters or pupil teachers in the Royal Dublin Society's schools, and one obtained the Taylor prize, or art scholarship, at the last competition under the provisions of the late Captain Taylor's will, and another obtained the silver medal in the same competition.

The Academy cannot see how the performances of the same individuals can be "excellent," when produced in the Royal Dublin Society's schools, but when seen in the Academy only show that they are "not up to the mark" of those to which awards are usually made in schools of art.

"I have no hesitation in saying that all the students should be at work in the sculpture room, and be put to work from casts."

7. The students of the Academy must be over 18 years, according to the bye-laws, before being admitted into the living model school; some of these students are already commencing to practice as professional artists, and two at least are acting as already pointed out, in the Royal Dublin

Society, as junior masters; and another (Mr. Byrne) obtained the medal from the department in the general competition in London, 1864, for a drawing from the Venus of Milo, executed in the antique school of the Academy.

Extract from Rules and Regulations in the Schools of the Royal Hibernian Academy.

"12. The students in the antique school shall be passed into the living model school on submitting a drawing to the council made in the antique school, and requesting to be so passed."

"No regular attendance on the part of the pupils is enforced; thus, while one pupil sends 17 sketches (sic), another sends one solitary life study, the only work he has produced in the year."

To remove them from the living model school, and send them back into the antique, to draw "heads, hands, and feet," as Mr. Crowe suggests, is a course the Academy hesitate to take, though, in some instances, they might advise such a course of study.

8. The one study was produced for the special competition by a student, Mr. A. J. Mayne, now practising as a professional artist, who wished to obtain the academic silver medal; and only one study is made by any student in the "special competition at the close of the autumn session, open to all who study in the schools" (see Rule 16).

Inspector's Report.Observations.

"Neither in numbers, in present efficiency, or in future promise, can I pronounce that this year's work holds out any advance on former efforts, but rather the reverse."

9. The Academy believe that they have now replied to every point in the Inspector's report for 1865; with the conclusions drawn by Mr. Crowe they cannot agree, but they trust that the explanations given will be deemed satisfactory.

Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts,
Lower Abbey-street, Dublin,
1 March 1866.

OBSERVATIONS respecting the Minutes of the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, refusing to recommend a Grant in Aid to the Royal Hibernian Academy, transmitted to the Academy by order of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

THE following observations are respectfully offered:

The principle of the necessity of governmental support may be taken as established after 30 years' continuance of the Grant from Parliament, and after the Votes for the sustenance of Art by the Irish Parliament; and the Academy feel it unnecessary to urge upon either his Excellency or the Treasury the fact that all governments foster and support similar institutions.

The Minute states that, "My Lords are of opinion that the Academy's annual exhibition of pictures is not an object on which public money should be expended; similar exhibitions in London, Edinburgh, Manchester, and other places being promoted out of private funds. They are therefore unable to recommend either a special or an annual grant for this purpose."

The Royal Academy of London receives no actual grant, but it enjoys the free use of a splendid building, equivalent to several thousand pounds yearly, which it cannot be supposed is given only for the sake of the schools. The annual exhibition is the only other ground upon which this support is given, and yet the annual exhibitions are so well sustained by the admission fees, that the Royal Academy is nearly the richest corporation in London.

The Royal Scottish Academy is similarly magnificently housed at the public expense, and the sole equivalent asked for is the sustenance of a living model school.

The Royal Hibernian Academy, from the private munificence of a former President, has a building of its own, a fine collection of casts, a small library of works of art, and a collection of prints and pictures, either acquired or bequeathed to it. It receives only a small grant of 300 l. yearly, and the officers administer its application and expenditure, and conduct the entire business of the institution without any salaries whatever.

Thus in England and in Scotland, the Royal Academies are munificently assisted by the Government, and liberally supported by the public, but the Royal Academy of Ireland only receives a grant of 300 l.; and it is the opinion of my Lords that "the interests of Fine Arts would not suffer if it were wholly withdrawn," although the Arts are but indifferently supported by the Irish public.

The Royal Zoological Society, the Museum of Irish Industry, and the Museum of the Royal Dublin Society, are largely sustained by annual grants; and the Royal Irish Academy, with its Museum of Antiquities, receives 500 l. annually, and the Irish National Gallery is also liberally supported by the Treasury. These exhibitions are all liberally supported by the State, but the annual exhibition of the works of living artists by the Royal Hibernian Academy "is not considered a fit object for such support" although it is an exhibition of all others the most calculated to elevate and improve public taste, and to spread those refining influences so much wanted in this country.

It has been urged in favour of the establishment of public galleries and museums that from the annual exhibitions of modern paintings the poor are necessarily excluded by reason of the admission fees exacted, but the Royal Hibernian Academy has been the first to meet this difficulty by opening their exhibition, for a portion of each season, at the almost nominal charge of a penny; and during 17 years in which this arrangement has prevailed, over 450,000 persons have been admitted at that rate, and there is every reason to think that the exhibition receipts were impaired by the adoption of this liberal and popular proceeding. Latterly the Academy have opened their exhibition for a portion of the Sundays at the same nominal rate of admission.

The expenditure consequent upon the annual exhibitions will show that great economy has been practised; a large portion of the expense is caused by the carriage of works from England, Scotland, and abroad, and is a charge which neither the Royal Academy of London, nor the Royal Scottish Academy incur; but, from the limited patronage for art in Ireland, a sufficient inducement to artists to exhibit would not exist unless the expenses of transmission were defrayed; and it is of importance that such works should be obtained, as they stimulate artists, and improve the taste of the public. Sales of works in the exhibition have much increased of late years.

The Academy has never received any additional aid from the Treasury over and above the annual grant of 300 l. voted by Parliament. But at the time the awarded charter was granted, it was strongly but ineffectually represented by the Academy that 300 l. was wholly inadequate, and that the institution could not be efficiently carried on with such inefficient means, having no other source of revenue but the exhibitions, and those proving generally unremunerative. Had that representation obtained a favourable consideration, the Academy would now be in a very different position.

The Royal Hibernian Academy is the only institution expressly established for the sustenance and promotion of the Fine Arts, and it is obvious that a body of professional artists are more capable and more fitted to control Art Education than any committee of non-professional amateurs.

If a national institution having a public object, like the Royal Hibernian Academy, is worthy of a charter it is surely worthy of such support as will preserve the dignity of that charter, and it ought not to be left altogether dependent upon the necessity of making income, which might be suitable for a private speculator or a voluntary association.

The Academy holds the building with its schools, exhibition rooms, and council hall, on the condition of having an annual exhibition; if it fails in this, the building lapses back to the heir-at-law of Francis Johnston; and if the Treasury refuse the grant in aid asked for, the institution will probably become dissolved.

Nevertheless, the Academy respectfully urge the reconsideration of this, to them, vital question. They would hope that their institution being placed in Ireland, will not therefore occasion a less considerate treatment than those situated in other parts of the empire. And they anticipate that from the foregoing statements his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant will be induced to recommend to the Government that an increased grant be given to the Academy, and that the institution be placed on its former footing, receiving its grant direct from Parliament.

Mr. M. Angelo Hayes to

Royal Hibernian Academy.

Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts, Lower Abbey-street,
Dublin, June 1866.

Sir,

I AM directed to acquaint you that the Academy have determined to seek a more extended support for their annual exhibitions, by granting certain advantages to yearly subscribers to the institution.

In Edinburgh, Glasgow, Manchester, Liverpool, and other cities in England, the fine art institutions are sustained and assisted by such annual supporters; but in Ireland the Academy has not hitherto sought for this co-operation. Yearly subscribers in those cities for one and five guineas receive corresponding admissions for themselves and families to the annual exhibitions; and in Edinburgh the Royal Scottish Academy hold, during the exhibition, conversaziones, the admission to which varies from 5 s. to 7 s. 6 d. each ticket.

In Ireland there is a large number who unquestionably take much interest in art, and whom the Academy suppose would be most willing to aid and sustain a national institution like the Royal Hibernian Academy.

The Academy therefore propose to give to annual subscribers of 10 s. a personal admission to the exhibition, and a catalogue; also an admission for self and one friend to the annual conversazione, held during the period of the exhibition, with the privilege of purchasing additional admissions to the conversazione at the same rate allowed to members of the Academy.

Subscriptions may be forwarded to the Secretary at the Academy, and may be obtained on the opening day.

It is intended that this year the exhibition shall open on the 2nd July.

Sir,

Dublin Castle, 8 March 1866.

I AM directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 12th ult., transmitting copy of a Minute, dated 9th February, of the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, relative to the grant to the Royal Hibernian Academy; and I am desired by his Excellency to transmit to you, to be laid before their Lordships, the accompanying copy of a communication munication which has been received on the subject from the Royal Hibernian Academy, and I am to state that his Excellency would see with much regret the withdrawal of the small grant now made to the Academy, considering the cultivation of high art is not rendered less necessary by the art education carried on in connection with the Royal Dublin Society. His Excellency, therefore, is glad to perceive by the published Estimates that it is not proposed to withdraw the grant for the year 1866-67, and hopes that before the next year's Estimates are prepared, a full inquiry into the subject may be had.

Mr. N. Macleod to the Under Secretary.

Science and Art Department,
London, W., 9 May 1866.

Sir,

I AM directed to state that your communication of the 8th of March last has been referred to the Inspector General for Art, and the Official Inspector, who consider that it is clear that whether from the like sources or not, the Royal Hibernian Academy is, in regard to its premises, in a position as advantageous as the Academies of London or Edinburgh, while it also is in receipt of of a pecuniary grant not made to either of these.

They observe that the State maintains a National Gallery in Dublin as well as in London. This Gallery is open to the public, and the Royal Hibernian Academy is left free to regard its exhibition as a means of obtaining revenues, as suggested in Mr. Macleod's Report in 1858, and of selling the works of its members.

They think it, however, desirable that the grant of 300 l. should be continued to the Royal Hibernian Academy.

It seems that the Academy, as securing the tenure of its building, is obliged to continue its exhibitions which do not pay; no doubt partly from the expense of obtaining contributions from a distance (although this expense is borne by all the provincial exhibitions of modern pictures).

They think that one source of failure has arisen from the scale of charges being too much opposed. One shilling is too high for the general charge; 1 d. being too low for the reduced charge.

They would suggest 6 d. and 2 d., but this is merely suggested.

As to the schools, they would advise that the rule that students should necessarily have taken the four papers of the second grade be for the present suspended; and that all students, before admission, should be obliged to submit a drawing from an antique figure; and that the admission works of the season be laid before the inspector at his annual visit.

They would recommend also that students competing for the silver medal should be required to send in a figure from some antique statue, with the figure from the life; and that the merit of the joint works be taken into consideration in the award.

They wholly concur with Mr. Crowe in the necessity of a thorough course of study from the antique, and that it should be only on proved success in this school that admission should be granted to a draped or living model.

I am further to state for the information of the council of the Royal Hibernian Academy, that my Lords would regret to be obliged to withdraw the grant, and they trust that no exertions will be spared on the part of the Academy to avert such a course.

IN reference to your letter of the 2nd March last, forwarding observations respecting the Minute of the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, relative to the withdrawal of the grant in aid of the Royal Hibernian Academy, I am directed by the Lords Justices to transmit to you copy of a letter from the Lords of the Committee on the subject, and to request that you will lay the same before the Council of the Academy for their consideration of the suggestions therein contained.

— No. 9. —

M. Angelo Hayes to the Under Secretary.

Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts, Lower Abbey-street,

Sir,

Dublin, 25 June 1866.

I AM directed by the Council of the Academy to acknowledge your letter of the 12th May, inclosing a communication from the Department of Science and Art, dated the 9th May.

The Council are not aware, from the tenor of that communication, whether the additional grant prayed for will be conceded. They find it almost impossible to render the institution thoroughly efficient with its present resources and income.

The communication states that the Department "trusts no exertion will be spared on the part of the Academy to avert the withdrawal of the grant." No exertion hitherto has been spared, and the Academy is prepared to continue such exertions; at the same time, the Council cannot but observe upon the hardship of requiring members of the body to give their time and services gratuitously, and, in point of fact, sustain a public institution, having a public object, at their own private loss, as it is only the visitors or masters of the schools who receive payment; the officers receive no payments whatever, although a large portion of their duties are in connection with the Educational Department.

The Council cannot agree with or admit the conclusion that because the Royal Hibernian Academy has received from its own members similar advantages, although on a smaller scale, to those which the Royal Academies of London and Edinburgh have received from the State, that they are on a par, and that the Royal Hibernian Academy is therefore not entitled to the small additional aid they seek for.

The Council cannot but feel that a different rule of action is adopted towards the Academies of England and Scotland than to the Academy of Ireland.

The great complaint that the Department prefers against the Royal Hibernian Academy in its educational function is as respects the antique school; yet that school does not receive one penny of support from the State or from the grant, but is altogether supported by the Academy, and by the gratuitous services of members of the Academy.

The Council are now engaged in carrying out some of the suggestions made by Mr. Cole during his visit to the Academy in September last, and also intend to adopt most of the suggestions in the last letter of the Department.

The Council are prepared to recommend to the Academy that a special silver medal should be awarded for studies from the antique, to be made by students in all the three schools; but they think the annual silver medal should not be given for anything but the best study in oil from the living model as laid down in the rules.

They would also beg to observe that in a former correspondence the Department declined to interfere in any way with the silver medal, which they looked upon as appertaining peculiarly to the Academy.

The expense of the medal is borne by the Academy.

SCIENTIFIC INSTITUTIONS AND INSTRUCTION IN DUBLIN.

COPY of MINUTE of COMMITTEE of COUNCIL on EDUCATION relative to SCIENTIFIC INSTITUTIONS and INSTRUCTION in DUBLIN.

Science and Art Department of the Committee of Council on Education, South Kensington.

At South Kensington, 21 September 1865.

By the Right Honourable the Lords of Her Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council on Education.

PRESENT:

The Right Honourable the Earl Granville, K.G.

The Right Honourable H. A.
Bruce, M.P.

SCIENTIFIC INSTITUTIONS AND INSTRUCTION IN DUBLIN.

1. MY LORDS take into consideration the Report of the Select Committee of the House of Commons on Scientific Institutions in Dublin, 1864; the Report of the Treasury Commission of 1862, and the correspondence and various documents, &c., on the subject.

2. The Vice-President stated the result of the investigations on the spot he had recently made into the several institutions in Dublin.

3. The Report of the Treasury Commission of 1862 recommended the abolition of the Museum of Irish Industry and the concentration of all its collections under the charge of the Royal Dublin Society, except that of the Geological Survey, which was to remain under its own officers. The Society was also to be entrusted with direct scientific instruction in certain subjects, by means of public lectures, which the Commission considered it advisable should be continued in Ireland as supplementary to the ordinary instruction in science provided for by the Science Schools and Classes of the Science and Art Department, and applicable as well to Ireland as to other parts of the United Kingdom.

4. The Select Committee of the House of Commons of 1864, on the other hand, recommended the retention of the Museum of Irish Industry as a separate institution, and a redistribution of duties between it and the Royal Dublin Society, and stated it as their opinion that the technical and scientific instruction given in Dublin at the expense of the State should not be entrusted to a body of private gentlemen like the Royal Dublin Society, but rather to a public scientific institution as in London, under a proper system of responsibility, with examinations and prizes or certificates of competency. They recommended that the Royal Dublin Society should be confined to the arrangement proposed in 1854, and altogether relieved of its educational functions, so called, pointing out that "much of the substance of their resolutions may be found represented" in a memorandum submitted by Mr. Cole to the Science and Art Department in January 1854. This memorandum suggested that the promotion of direct instruction should be confided to a College of Science proposed to be founded on the Museum of Irish Industry, and that the Royal Dublin Society should take charge of those objects which partook of the nature of public exhibitions, such as the Botanic Gardens, the Zoological Museum, &c.

5. The Select Committee of 1864, however, while thus broadly indicating the division which should exist between the functions of these two departments, modified in several respects the application of the general principle, and proposed that the Royal Dublin Society should still remain charged with educational functions in respect of agriculture. Their report also recommended the establishment of a veterinary school, on the grounds that "a veterinary school and an agricultural chemist are legitimate adjuncts to a society originally formed for the encouragement of agriculture and the improvement of land, and containing so large a body of country gentlemen perfectly capable of forming a judgment in veterinary matters and the application of agricultural chemistry."

6. My Lords are prepared to adopt the general principle of the recommendations of the Select Committee, subject to the approval by Parliament and the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury of the increased expenditure which will be necessary for efficiently carrying out the same. They are of opinion that it is unadvisable to make any modification of the broad principle laid down by the Select Committee, and that a clear line of demarcation between the functions of the Museum of Irish Industry and the Royal Dublin Society should be strictly maintained, so as to avoid future complications. They therefore determine that the grant of public funds shall in future be afforded in Dublin—(I.), to instruction in science applied to industry as one public object administered wholly by one authority; and (II.), to the exhibition of scientific collections as a second public object to be administered by another distinct authority.

7. The other several objects, such as a veterinary college, although they may be fit objects for a private society, such as the Royal Dublin Society, do not appear to be of a character which ought to be maintained out of the general taxation, and are not such as my Lords are prepared to recommend for Parliamentary aid. They see that this contingency has been met by the Select Committee, who suggest in their report, "That a portion of the private contributions of the Society may be applied to the maintenance of this department," namely, the Veterinary School.

8. My Lords propose that the following departments of the Royal Dublin Society shall be wholly supported by public funds, like the corresponding public institutions in London, the Society acting as trustees and being responsible for their administration:—

The Museum of Natural History, including Mineralogy.

The Botanic Gardens and Museum at Glasnevin.

The Library of the Royal Dublin Society.

Leinster Lawn, which should be made a public ornamental garden, instead of remaining, as at present, a waste space between the National Gallery and the Museum of Natural History.

The whole of the premises of the Royal Dublin Society, and the necessary staff of the Society for conducting the business involved in the above-mentioned objects.

9. The theoretical limitation of the amount of public funds to 5,500 £. annually should be abolished, and the annual grants necessary for keeping the above departments in efficiency considered on merits and submitted to Parliament every year.

10. The Royal Dublin Society would thus be relieved of all restrictions on its action in the application—in accordance with the charter and objects of the Society—of the subscriptions of its members and any other private funds, and not be subject to the Audit Office in respect of such private funds. The Society would be thus free to encourage any objects it has at heart—even those of direct instruction—without asking for the sanction of the Science and Art Department, as is necessary under the present arrangement.

Museum of Irish Industry.

11. Turning now to the Museum of Irish Industry, my Lords find that the Select Committee recommended one of two courses, either that the Museum of Irish Industry should have at least the same scope given to it as the Museum in Jermyn-street, and be placed on the same footing as a school of mines as regards its collections, professors, and lectures, or that those lectures and collections might be be extended to the illustration of such other industrial objects as may be sanctioned by the Government. While suggesting, however, that the scope of the Museum should be thus widened, and quoting approvingly the before-mentioned memorandum of Mr. Cole's to that effect, the Committee decline to give any decided opinion on the ground of its being too wide a subject to be dealt with by them, leaving it thus an open question for the consideration of Her Majesty's Government.

12. It would appear that the one School of Mines already existing in Jermyn-street, is not largely attended, and is amply sufficient for the wants of the whole United Kingdom, and there probably would not be sufficient attendance to justify the establishment in Ireland of a second school with a large staff, for this object alone, as the few special mining pupils from that country might easily join the school in London.

13. My Lords consider that, for these and other reasons, the Museum of Irish Industry should have a wider scope given to it than that of a school of mines; that it should become a college for affording a complete and thorough course of instruction in those branches of science which are more immediately connected with and applied to all descriptions of industry, including agriculture, mining, and manufactures; that it should in this way supplement the elementary scientific instruction already provided for by the science schools of the department; and that it should assist in the training of teachers for these schools.

14. The Museum of the College of Science should be entirely subordinate to, and contain only such collections as are essential to the instruction in the College, but should still remain the depository for the Collections of the Geological Survey. It is advisable, therefore, that the Museum should hand over to the Royal Dublin Society its Portlock Collection of Birds and Fishes, and receive from the Royal Dublin Society its collection of Physical Instruments and Apparatus.

15. This arrangement, embodying the spirit of the recommendations of the Select Committee as respects both the Royal Dublin Society and the Museum of Irish Industry, my Lords believe to be based upon a broad, clear, and intelligible principle of action. They trust that it will remove the present causes of controversy, and commend itself to the judgment of Parliament.

16. My Lords do not consider it will be necessary that the Zoological Society should receive their grants any longer through the Royal Dublin Society. The question of privileges between the members of the two Societies will therefore be a matter of private arrangement between them.

17. Transmit a copy of this Minute to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury for their sanction to the arrangements proposed.

Archbishop MacHale to Sir G. Grey.

Sir,

Tuam, 9 August 1865.

It being generally understood that Her Majesty's Government is determined to introduce modifications into the system of University Education in Ireland, I must naturally feel, from my position, a deep anxiety relative to so important a matter. May I then respectfully ask you, if you deem it compatible with your duty as one of Her Majesty's Ministers to do so, to impart to me such information on the subject as may enable me and the Bishops of the Ecclesiastical Province of Tuam to consider it in relation to our weighty responsibility regarding the education of those entrusted to our care.

I have, &c.

(signed) † John MacHale,
Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam.

— No. 2. —

Sir G. Grey to Archbishop MacHale.

Home Office, 12 August 1865.

SIR GEORGE GREY presents his compliments to Archbishop MacHale, and has the honour to inform him, in reply to his letter of the 9th instant, that the general views of Her Majesty's Government on the subject of University Education in Ireland, were stated by Sir George Grey in the House of Commons in his speech upon the motion made by The O'Donoghue in the last session of Parliament.

The principle upon which Her Majesty's Government declared their intention to act was, that the facilities for obtaining a University degree in Ireland should no longer be restricted to students of Trinity College, Dublin, or of one of the Queen's Colleges, and that the Charter of the Queen's University should be so modified as to admit of degrees being conferred by it in Ireland to the same extent to which degrees are conferred in England by the London University.

This would involve, in addition to the modification of the charter, some alteration in the composition of the Senate of the University. Sir George Grey is in communication with the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland as to the steps which may be necessary to give full effect to this intention, but he is unable to give any information as to the details of the arrangements to be made until they have been submitted to and approved of by the Cabinet.

— No. 3. —

Archbishop Cullen to Sir G. Grey.

Sir,

Dublin 27 August 1865.

At a meeting of the Catholic Prelates of Ireland, held in this city on Wednesday last, 22d instant, it was resolved that the four Archbishops should ask you for the favour of an interview, and I am requested to solicit this favour in their name.

Her Majesty's Government having announced its intention of modifying the existing condition of University Education in Ireland, with a view to enable Catholics to partake of its advantages, the Bishops are desirous to ascertain from the Government what alterations are proposed to be made, and they have deputed the Archbishops to ask you respectfully for the desired information.

Whilst doing so, the Archbishops are anxious to impress on Her Majesty's Government the right of Catholics to equality in the matter of education with their Protestant fellow subjects, and to point out to you, if necessary, how far the Government measure may fall short of securing to them that equality.

The Archbishops are also instructed to state that the Roman Catholic Episcopal body, while declining to accept, as satisfactory, any arrangement which will leave preponderating advantages to existing State Institutions, collegiate or university, that have been condemned by the Catholic Church, will not refuse for themselves and their flocks concessions that may diminish the evils and injustice of which they have had so long to complain; it being, however, distinctly understood that such acceptance is not to be construed as an acquiescence in any form of mixed education.

The Archbishops are further charged to urge upon you the consideration, with a view to removal of the grievances involved in the present system of national education in Ireland, by which the Catholics are denied what is granted to the Catholics of England, viz., the right of investing their schools and the whole system of their education with the distinctive character of Catholicism. These grievances are detailed in a letter addressed by the Episcopal Body, on the 18th of March 1860, to the Right Honourable Edward Cardwell, then Chief Secretary for Ireland, and printed soon after by order of Parliament.

Should it be your pleasure to receive us, may I beg you to inform me of the place and time when it may suit your convenience that we may wait on you; allowing me sufficient time to communicate the appointment to the other Archbishops. In conclusion, I deem it proper to add that the Archbishops are not authorised to come to any final arrangement upon the matters referred to in this letter, and that it will be incumbent on them to lay before their Episcopal brethren for examination, the proposals of the Government with a view of determining whether such proposals can be accepted without any sacrifice of Catholic rights and principles.

I have, &c.

Sir G. Grey to Archbishop Cullen.

Most Reverend Sir,

Whitehall, 28 August 1865.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 27th instant, requesting me to receive you and the other Roman Catholic Archbishops in Ireland, at an interview with reference to the modification of the existing conditions of University Education in Ireland.

As I am on the point of leaving London, and shall probably be absent for some time, with the exception of occasional visits to London at uncertain times for special business, it is impossible for me at present to fix a time for such interview, but I will do so when it is in my power, and I shall be happy to consult your convenience, and that of other Archbishops as to the time.

I have, &c.

Sir G. Grey to Archbishop Cullen.

Most Reverend Sir,

Whitehall, 16 November 1865.

WITH reference to my letter of 28th August, I have the honour to inform you that, if you desire it, I shall be happy to receive you and the other Roman Catholic Archbishops in Ireland, as to the proposed interview on the subject of University Education in Ireland, on any day before the end of the present month, which may suit your own and their convenience. I shall be obliged by your informing me of the day on which it will be convenient to you that the interview should take place.

I have, &c.
(signed) G. Grey.

Archbishop Cullen to Sir G. Grey.

Sir,

Dublin, 17 November 1865.

I HAVE been honoured with your letter of yesterday, which I have immediately communicated to the other Archbishops, asking them at the same time to avail themselves of the privilege you have so kindly granted, that they themselves should fix a day within this month to have the proposed interview with you on education in Ireland.

As soon as I shall have received the replies of the other Prelates, I will not fail to let you know the day on which they propose to wait on you.

I have, &c.
(signed) ✠ Paul Cullen

— No. 7. —

Archbishop Cullen to Sir G. Grey.

Sir,

Dublin, 14 January 1866.

I HAVE the honour to forward to you two letters or memorials on Primary and University Education, on the part of the 29 Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops in Ireland whose names are attached to them.

As so many Prelates living at considerable distances from each other wished to examine these memorials, it was necessary to get them printed, but not for publication.

Each prelate has attached his signature to a printed copy, similar to that which I send. I retain the copies with the original signatures.

If it be required that the memorials should be in manuscript, I shall have them copied, and get them signed by each prelate.

I enclose a written petition to Her Majesty, praying for a Charter for our Roman Catholic University, which the same 29 Prelates have given me written authorisation to sign on their behalf.

The memorials contain very little more than the statements which the four Archbishops had the honour of making to you in the interview which you granted to them, and in which they endeavoured to state, as briefly as possible, the many disadvantages pressing on Irish Roman Catholics in regard to education.

I humbly confide that a just and liberal Government will take our memorials into favourable consideration, and commence to remove the grievances which for a long series of years have weighed heavily on the education of Roman Catholics in Ireland.

I have, &c.
(signed) ✠ Paul Cullen.

Enclosure 1, in No. 7.

To the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., M.P., Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Home Affairs, &c. &c.

Sir, I

WE, the undersigned Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops in Ireland, having learned that it is the intention of Her Majesty's Government to make alterations in the system of University Education now existing in this country, beg respectfully to lay before you, and through you before Her Majesty's Government, the following observations on this important subject, in which the spiritual welfare of our flocks is deeply concerned:—

In the first place we have to observe, that the Roman Catholics of Ireland have long laboured under the greatest disadvantages with respect to education. In past times all their educational establishments were suppressed, and laws were enacted prohibiting them to establish schools at home, or to send their children for education to the Continent. The effects of this penal legislation still remain; and Catholics, deprived of the endowments of former times, are left without any institution supported by the State, in which they can, with safety to faith and morals, cultivate the higher studies and take out academical degrees.

Whilst the majority of the Irish people were thus suffering, great educational privileges were conferred by the State on the minority of the nation; and a Protestant University, with subsidiary institutions, was established and amply endowed.

Trinity College, or the University of Dublin, has landed property to the extent of 199,573 acres, or 100th part of the whole acreage of Ireland. These lands, valued according to the very reduced standard of 1851 at 92,360 l. per annum (Dub. Univ. Commis., 1853, p. 268, Evidence), are, it is stated, let at low rents; but still the income and influence derived from such extensive landed property must be considerable.

The advantages offered by an institution so richly endowed have always attracted great numbers to its lecture halls. At present there are 1,500 students on its roll, the fees received from whom are calculated to average the large sum of 30,000 l. a year (Dub. Univ. Commis., ibid.)

Not to speak of the amount originally expended in the erection of the College buildings, the Crown, at the petition of the Irish House of Commons, gave from time to time considerable sums for their extension. Thus, in 1698 we find a grant of 3,000 l., in 1709 of 5,000 l., in 1717 another of 5,000 l., in 1721 a third sum of 5,000 l., and in 1751 a fourth of the same amount, 5,000 l. In 1753 the grant was raised to 10,000 l., and in 1755 to 20,000 l. In 1757 a further grant was made of 10,000 l., and in 1787 of 3,000 l.—("Dub. Univ. Calendar for 1863," page 233 et seq.)

In addition to the large pecuniary resources possessed by the College, and the immense influence resulting from its extensive landed property, it has the right of presentation to 21 benefices, some of them with an income of over 1,000 l. a year.

The advantages enjoyed by the Protestant University of Dublin do not stop here; schools connected with it are scattered throughout Ireland, and possesses extensive property in lands, granted in part by the Crown, the Royal Schools, Endowed Schools, and Erasmus Smith's Schools. They may be considered as intended exclusively for the benefit of members of the Established Church, although a few boys of other religious denominations are occasionally admitted; and they serve very largely as feeders for the Protestant University. A great proportion of the heads and tutors of these schools are members of Trinity College; all the heads, with two or three exceptions, are clergymen of the Established Church; in fine, to these institutions are attached 153 Exhibitions for the pupils who pass from their halls to the University of Dublin.—("Thom's Official Directory for 1865," page 906.)

It is true that for the last few years Roman Catholics, as well as Protestant Dissenters, have been admitted to certain scholarships in the University of Dublin; but these are non-foundation scholarships ("University Calendar," page 18), giving no right to the University Franchise (ibid.), or to a share in the government of the College, which, according to the Royal Commission of 1853 ("Report," page 2), continues "a Protestant institution, in most of its essential characteristics," as it was at its foundation by Queen Elizabeth.

All the heads of Trinity College, the provost, vice-provost, fellows, scholars on the foundation, &c., are and must be members of the Established Church, and the provost, vice-provost, and nearly all the fellows are clergymen. Three Professorships in the University School of Physic, in accordance with a recent Act of Parliament, and some Professorships of a subordinate character, are indeed open to Catholics; but, as a matter of fact, all the Professors are Protestants with the exception of the Professor of Italian and Spanish.

Trinity College was founded by Queen Elizabeth as a bulwark of the Protestant religion in Ireland against Catholicity. Until the year 1793, all its students, as well as others belonging to it, were obliged to subscribe the Thirty-nine Articles. About 33 per cent. of its students even now are Divinity students of the Established Church; its whole teaching is based on the Protestant religion, the works it publishes are imbued with an anti-Catholic spirit, and several who entered its halls as Catholics, have, during their University course, or afterwards, forsaken the religion of their parents.

The

The Emancipation Act of 1829 having placed Catholics on a footing of civil and political equality with the rest of Her Majesty's subjects, it was manifest that the educational ascendancy of a minority could not long be maintained through the monopoly enjoyed by Trinity College.

The Queen's Colleges were established in 1847, with the avowed object of affording to all classes in Ireland University education on equal terms. Over 200,000 £. have up to the present been expended on the buildings, furniture, and repairs of these Colleges, the sum annually voted by Parliament for their support is over 24,000 £., and 1,800 a year is granted to the Queen's University, which exists altogether for their advantage.

Notwithstanding this profuse expenditure, the Queen's Colleges have, as far as Catholics are concerned, not only failed to attain the object for which they were founded, but have been gradually drifting into Protestantism. Belfast College is almost exclusively Presbyterian, and in Cork and Galway, although situated in Catholic districts, the great majority of the heads and professors are Protestants of various religious denominations.

If the Queen's Colleges had corresponded to the objects for which they were established, the great majority of the students should be Catholics, who are 77 per cent. of the inhabitants of Ireland, not Protestants, who are only 23 per cent. of the population, and are amply provided for in Trinity College. But what is the fact? More than 75 per cent. of the students of those Colleges are Protestants, whilst less than 25 per cent. profess the faith of the great majority of the people, a proportion totally inadequate to represent the number of Catholics who, by their social position and preliminary studies, have a right to aspire to a University education. We may add that even of this minority of Catholic students a considerable number frequent the Queen's Colleges, yielding to the pressure of necessity, or tempted by the abundant allurements held out to them. Hence, whether we take into account the total population of this country, or the large sums expended on those Colleges, the number of young men of all denominations attending them is so inconsiderable that they must be admitted to be a signal failure.

The result of the mixed system of education in the Queen's Colleges, excluding, as it does, the influences of religion, is, we believe, to train the youthful mind in indifference to every creed and in practical infidelity, which tend to subvert the throne as well as the altar. We have, therefore, deemed it our duty, in accordance with the teaching of our Church, and the wisdom of this teaching is confirmed by experience, to declare these institutions replete with grave and intrinsic danger to the faith and morals of our flocks. Under these circumstances Catholics have no confidence in them, and can never, consistently with their religious principles, accept them.

We cannot leave this subject without referring to some restrictions with respect to persons aspiring to the learned professions, and they are very considerable, restrictions which tend to force Roman Catholics into one of the two legally recognised Universities.

In 1861 there were in Ireland 6,360 Catholic young men receiving a superior education ("Census, 1861"). Now upon this large number of Catholics, any one of whom may aspire to a liberal profession, the following unfair terms are proposed by those who would maintain in education an ascendancy which the legislature long since abolished in civil and political life, or would give educational equality at the cost of conscience.

All graduates of Trinity College, or of the Queen's University, can be called to the bar at the end of three years, while non-graduates cannot be called until the expiration of five years from the date of their registration as law students.

Graduates are obliged to attend only two courses of lectures, either at the King's Inns, Dublin, or at Trinity College, or (in the case of students of the Queen's University) at any of the Provincial Colleges, while non-graduates are required to attend four courses, viz., two at the King's Inns, and two others at Trinity College. Moreover, graduates are required to attend twelve terms' commons, viz., six in the King's Inn, and six in any Inn in London, while non-graduates are required to attend seventeen terms' commons, viz., nine in the King's Inns and eight in England. Finally, the fees payable by graduates are less than those imposed upon non-graduates.

With regard to the apprentices of solicitors and attorneys, all matriculated students of Trinity College and of the Queen's Colleges are exempt from the preliminary examination imposed upon others. If graduates, they are admissible to the practice of their profession two years sooner than non-graduate apprentices, and are exempt from one of the courses of lectures appointed by the benchers for such apprentices.

All Catholics aspiring to the professions just mentioned must submit to these inconveniences, or if they wish to avoid them must enter a University founded to maintain the ascendancy of the Established Church in Ireland or Institutions condemned by their own Church. It is to be added that these unfair conditions are imposed quite irrespectively of proficiency in literature, science, or law.

With respect to the medical profession, every one knows the high value practitioners and the public set on the degree of "Doctor of Medicine." But no person can obtain that high distinction in Ireland without becoming a member of one of the two Universities recognised by law; and Catholic medical students must either give up all chance of that honour and professional advantage, or trample under foot their self-respect, by entering, contrary to their religious principles, one of the institutions which their Church condemns.

As to professors in colleges and tutors, besides the injustice to the persons themselves, every one must see the injury inflicted on the education of the nation at large, when more than one-half of the teachers in superior schools and colleges are obliged to forego a University education, or to secure it at the risk of endangering the most important interests.

It being evident from the statements just made that the existing institutions recognised by the State do not put University education within the reach of Irish Roman Catholics on terms of which they can safely avail themselves, or on principles approved by their religion, we, their pastors, aided by their generous contributions, determined to supply this great want, and established the Catholic University of Ireland.

For the foundation and maintenance of this institution, we have within the last few years collected a sum of 125,000 l. We have purchased premises in the city of Dublin, gathered together a library of about 30,000 volumes, scientific collections, &c., and appointed a body of professors of great eminence.

The institution thus established comprises five faculties, viz., theology, law, medicine, philosophy and letters, and mathematical and physical science, and is presided over by a rector named by ourselves and removable at our pleasure. While retaining in our own hands the supreme authority, we have delegated to twelve of our body the immediate government of the institution; but we leave to the rector and to the University the direction of all academical matters. In the exercise of his office the rector is assisted by a Council, consisting of the deans of faculties and some other members of the academic body, and at stated times he is obliged to lay before us a full report of the working of the institution. In fine, every possible means is taken to secure a succession of the most distinguished professors. Our University, therefore, while affording to Catholics the best religious guarantees, will offer them all the advantages of the highest literary and scientific education.

Several of its students are at present studying philosophy and letters, science, or medicine, under the immediate care of its Professors in Dublin; others, having passed a matriculation examination before the Examiner appointed by the authorities of the University, are pursuing their studies in Colleges or Schools, of which 24 in various parts in Ireland are connected with it. In these Schools they prepare for further examinations, and compete for some of the prizes and honours of the University, passing into residence in Dublin at a later period of their course, should they desire to do so.

Cramped, however, in many ways, and especially by its inability to give degrees recognised by law, our University has had to encounter serious difficulties. The injurious effects of the restrictions imposed upon it may best be estimated by considering the development of its only branch which was in some measure free from them. In the Faculty of Medicine, the certificates of the Professors of our Medical School being recognised by the various licensing bodies, the number of students attending lectures (at present 93), nearly equals, and in some sessions has exceeded the number in the School of the richly-endowed University of Dublin. The growing disposition, however, of the authorities in the army, navy, and other departments of the public service, not to rest satisfied with a mere medical license, but to require a University degree, has already begun to operate injuriously on this branch too of our Institution.

Considering these, and the other circumstances we have mentioned, and calling to mind all the past sufferings and privations to which Catholics have been subjected, we respectfully submit that our University is entitled to all the privileges conferred upon other academical institutions, and especially to that of conferring academical degrees, a privilege enjoyed for nearly 300 years by the Protestant University of Dublin, for the advantage of a small minority of the people of Ireland.

However, understanding that Her Majesty's Government does not intend for the present to advise Her Majesty to grant us what we have a claim to, but proposes to introduce modifications in the existing system of academical education, which will enable Catholic students to obtain University degrees without that sacrifice of principle or conscience of which we complain, we shall be thankful for such changes if they do not interfere with Catholic teaching, and if they tend to put us on a footing of equality with our fellow-subjects of other religious denominations. While expressing these feelings, we deem it our duty again to declare emphatically our condemnation of the system of united academical education, on which the Queen's Colleges are founded, and which in accordance with the repeated declarations of our Church, we hold to be intrinsically dangerous to the faith and morals of Catholics.

In the changes referred to, as we understand them, we recognize a token of the willingness of Her Majesty's Government to grant an instalment of the justice in educational matter to which our flocks are entitled; but, if unaccompanied by an endowment of our Catholic University, and a reconstruction of the Queen's Colleges, we cannot regard them as satisfactory to the Catholics of Ireland. If Trinity College, with its immense wealth and influence, is left as it is in Protestant hands and for Protestant education; if the Queen's Colleges are left as they are, largely subsidized by the State for State education; and if at the same time Catholics, who are taxed for the support of these same Queen's Colleges, have further to tax themselves for the support of the Catholic University, they are not treated with justice, nor placed upon a footing of equality with others. Without an endowment, the proposal of the Government would confer but little, if any, substantial benefit upon our Catholic University; for degrees can be obtained through the London University, and property can be acquired and transmitted without a Charter by availing of certain legal expedients. Without re-arranging the Queen's Colleges on the principles of the denominational system, so as to meet the conscientious objections of Catholics, much of the evils and injustice of which Catholics complain will remain unredressed. These

Colleges

Colleges will continue to be, what they are, a failure as regards the purpose for which they were originally intended—the education principally, though not exclusively, of Catholics—and a failure costing the public 24,000 l. per annum. They will continue to hold out their scholarships, prizes, &c. as so many bribes to Catholic young men to induce them to become disobedient children of their own Church; and they will continue to be a standing cause of disunion between the Catholic Bishops of Ireland and the Government of the country, which policy, not to speak of any other consideration, would put an end to. With our Catholic University unendowed, and with other university arrangements still hostile to us, the proposal of the Government could not, we respectfully repeat, be regarded as satisfactory to the Catholics of Ireland.

But, looking on the proposal of the Government as an earnest of good-will towards our flocks in the matter of education, we profess our willingness to co-operate, as far as we can, in carrying it out, because we entertain the confident expectation that, when the Government come finally to consider it, they will embody in it the following concessions:—

1st. That the University founded by the Roman Catholic Bishops will be chartered as a college within the new University, in such a manner as to leave the department of teaching Catholics altogether in the hands of Catholics, and under the control of their Bishops, its founders.

The following draft of a Charter, borrowed in its main details from that of King's College, London, would, in our opinion, be suited for the Catholic University College, as it embodies the system on which it has been conducted for several years.

“ Draft of Charter.”

“ Whereas it has been represented to us by N. N. that there has existed during the last eleven years, and does now exist in our Kingdom of Ireland, in the City of Dublin, a Literary and Scientific Institution, established for the higher education of youth, and known under the style and title (or commonly called) ‘ The Catholic University of Ireland; ’ and whereas the said Institution comprises classes of instruction in science and literature, taught by able Professors, and frequented by a large number of students, and possesses extensive and valuable libraries, rich and costly collections requisite for imparting a knowledge of the sciences, &c.: And whereas considerable sums of money have been subscribed and collected for carrying on the said undertaking: And whereas it has been set out in the petition presented to us, that the said undertaking would be more effectually prosecuted, and that complete success would be the more easily attained, if it were protected by our Royal Sanction, by means of a Royal Charter of Incorporation,” &c. &c. &c.

“ That for the purpose of establishing and maintaining the said College, to be called ‘ The Catholic or Roman Catholic University College of Ireland,’ the four Roman Catholic Archbishops, exercising jurisdiction in Armagh, Dublin, Cashel, and Tuam for the time being respectively, shall by virtue of their respective offices be perpetual Governors of the said College.

“ That the various branches of Literature and Science, of Medicine, and of Law, shall be taught in the said College, under the superintendence of a Rector or other Head, Vice-Rector, Professors and Tutors, or such other Masters or Instructors as shall from time to time be appointed in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

“ That the four Roman Catholic Archbishops, for the time being, shall be Visitors of the said College, and their authority be supreme in questions regarding religion or morals, and in all other things in the said College.

“ That whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of Life Governor, the ex-officio Governors shall by writing nominate such other person as to them shall seem meet to be a Governor for life.

“ That the Governors shall appoint the Rector and Vice-Rector.

“ That there shall be five Faculties in the College, viz.:—Theology, Law, Medicine, Philosophy and Letters, and Mathematical and Physical Science.

“ That each Faculty consist of all the Professors actually engaged in teaching in its own Department, and of as many other persons skilled in the subject-matter of that Faculty, as to the Governors, having consulted the Faculty, shall seem meet.

“ That each Faculty shall annually elect a Dean, subject to the Rector’s approval; and that he shall be re-eligible.

“ That each of the Faculties shall be empowered to make and change rules and statutes regarding the government and advancement of its own Department, subject to the approval of the Governors.

“ That they shall hold examinations, and be the ex officio advisers of the Governors in all matters appertaining to their several Departments.

"That whenever a Professorship shall have to be filled up, the Rector, having consulted the Faculty in which the vacancy occurs, shall present to the Governor the names of at least three candidates, to be determined by published works, or public reputation, or, if it seem fit to the Governors, by public examination.

"That the perpetual Governors, Life Governors, Rector, Vice-Rector, and Faculties, be constituted one body, politic and corporate, to be called 'The Catholic (or Roman Catholic) University College of Ireland.'

"That the Governors for the time being shall have full power, from time to time, to appoint, and as they shall see occasion, to remove, as well the Rector, Vice-Rector, the Professors, and other members of the Faculties, the Tutors and Masters, as also the Secretary, and all officers, agents, and servants of the said College.

"That there shall be a Council of the College, consisting of the Rector, Vice-Rector, five Deans of Faculties, a Dean of Discipline, and three other members of the Corporation, the last four to be selected by the Governors; and that five form a quorum.

"That, subject and without prejudice to the powers given by this Charter to the Visitors and Governors, the Council for the time being shall have, with the exception of finances, the entire management of, and superintendence over, the affairs of the College; and in all cases unprovided for by this Charter, it shall be lawful for the Council to act in such manner as shall appear to them best calculated to promote the welfare of the College; provided always, that all their acts shall be submitted, at least once each year, to the Governors and Visitors, and that no act of theirs shall be of any weight or value, if, within twelve months after it has been submitted, it be deemed by the said Governors or Visitors injurious to religion or morals, or otherwise of detriment to the College.

"That the four Visitors shall be the Trustees of all property belonging to the College.

"That the Governors shall have the power of appointing a Treasurer or Treasurers, and that there shall be an audit of accounts at appointed times."

2ndly. That in order to place this new Catholic College on a footing of equality with other institutions, a suitable endowment be given to it; since it will be frequented by the great mass of Catholics, and it would be manifestly unfair to oblige them to tax themselves for the support of their own College, while institutions which they on conscientious grounds condemn and shun are supported out of the public funds, to which they contribute equally with others.

3rdly. That for the same reason Burses and Scholarships be provided, either by the application of existing, or the erection of new endowments, so as to place the rewards of merit equally within the reach of all.

4thly. That the Catholic University College be empowered by charter to affiliate Colleges and Schools to itself.

5thly. That the tests of knowledge be applied in such manner as to avoid the appearance of connecting, even by the identity of name, those who avail themselves of them, or co-operate in applying them, with a system which their religion condemns.

6thly. That these tests of knowledge be guarded against every danger of abuse, or of the exercise of any influence hostile or prejudicial to the religious principles of Catholics; that they may be made as general as may be consistently with a due regard for the interests of education, the time, manner, and matter of examinations being prescribed, but not the books or special authors, at least in mental and social science, in history or in cognate subjects; and that, in a word, there be banished from them even the suspicion of interference with the religious principles of Catholics.

7thly. That the Queen's Colleges be re-arranged on the principles of the denominational system of education.

In concluding this communication, we beg you to lay before Her Majesty the accompanying Memorial for a Charter for our College, and to pray that Her Majesty will be graciously pleased to grant its petition.

Enclosure 2, in No. 7.

To the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart, M. P., Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Home Affairs, &c., &c.

Sir,

WE, the undersigned Archbishops and Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland, beg to submit, through you, to Her Majesty's Government, the following statement respecting changes which we think ought to be made in the National System of Education in Ireland.

We premise that while we indicate certain necessary changes in the National System of Education, we wish to be understood as not in any sense expressing approval of the principle of Mixed Education, even in schools of primary instruction.

The schools under the National Board divide themselves into two classes, the ordinary National Schools and the Model Schools; and again, the ordinary schools may be subdivided into such as are attended by pupils of one religious denomination only, and those attended by children of different denominations, the former exclusively Catholic or Protestant, the latter mixed.

First, then, as to schools exclusively Catholic or Protestant, be they vested or non-vested, a change of great importance ought to be made, and can be made without any difficulty. It is simply to remove all restrictions upon religious instruction, to permit the fulness of distinctive religious teaching to enter into the course of daily secular education, with full liberty for the performance of religious exercises and the use of religious emblems, and to recognise the right of the lawful pastors of the children in such schools to have access to them, to regulate the whole business of religious instruction in them, and to remove objectionable books, if any. This would be simply to recognise the fact that these schools are Denominational, and to shape the rules of the Board so as to deal with them as such:—rules which, so far as regards religious instruction in this large class of schools, are not merely vexatious but absurd; for they prohibit the fulness of religious teaching, and all religious teaching during the hours of secular instruction, upon the assumption that the schools are mixed, whereas the pupils are exclusively of one religion or another. In one and the same town, in one and the same street, will be two National Schools, one exclusively Catholic, the other exclusively Protestant. In the Catholic School, because in the contemplation of the Board's rules a Mixed School, which is a pure fiction, no distinctive Catholic teaching is allowed to mingle with the secular instruction; the practices of piety, which the Catholic Church considers of so much importance in order to implant the love of God in the hearts of youth, are during far the greater part of the day interdicted; the children are not free to mark themselves with the sign of the cross; the cross itself, the symbol of redemption, is a forbidden thing within and without; and the images of our Divine Lord and of His Blessed Mother are kept under lock and key, while birds, and beasts, and fishes, are freely exhibited upon the walls of the school-room. This is felt to be a very great hardship, and all the greater that there is not a shadow of reason for continuing it.

The application of the Denominational principle to the large class of schools in question would go far to remove one of the greatest objections against the national system of education, by correcting to a great extent its very worst feature, namely, its godless character. At once, under the proposed change, religious instruction could be blended with secular; and religion, as it ought to be, made the groundwork of education in the vast majority of the existing National Schools in Ireland; for, according to a Parliamentary return in 1862, since which time the proportions cannot have changed much, not more than one per cent. of the country schools were really mixed, the rest being of one religious denomination. Were the proposed change adopted, not only would the great majority of schools now in connection with the Board assume a religious character, but many Catholic schools of nuns, monks, and others, could be taken into connection with the Board, which schools are now excluded from all participation in the grants of money for education, because their conductors will not accept aid from the Board on condition of observing the rules restricting the liberty of religious instruction. Under the proposed change, in exclusively Catholic schools the teachers should be Catholic; the books treating of religious, moral, or historical matters, Catholic; the Inspectors Catholic, and if objectionable, subject to the veto of the Catholic Bishop in the diocese in which their duties would lie. The Managers, too, should be at liberty to choose what books they might please for secular instruction under the veto of the Board; and the Board's grants for books should be grants of money, not, as now, of books, in order that the Managers might be free in making a selection of the books to be used. The full freedom thus accorded to religion would be associated with a due supervision on the part of the State, which could satisfy itself by inspection that the secular education imparted came fully up to the mark, and that the public money was not misapplied.

In England the Denominational principle pervades all primary education; none other would be tolerated. Seeing it is so good for England, why not apply it in Ireland too, only adapting it to the different circumstances of the country? Here and there let there be the same denominational distinction, Catholic schools for the Catholic, Protestant schools for the Protestant, that in their respective schools the distinctive teaching of each religion may be blended with the secular, and that in all, to use the words of the Vice-President of the Committee of Privy Council, "the religious element may underlie the whole system."

of education. But, as regards the allocation of the grant for education, there is this difference between the two countries, that, whereas in England local contributions bear a certain proportion to the Government grant, that proportion could not be required in Ireland without taxing the people beyond their ability. England is a rich country, Ireland a poor country. Moreover, were the same proportionate amount of contributions required in Ireland, the undue pressure would fall principally upon the Catholic masses of Ireland, and but little upon the Protestants; for, while the Protestants who would be called upon to contribute possess most of the wealth of Ireland, and the Protestants who have to look to others for help for their education are comparatively few in number, with respect to Catholics these conditions are reversed. Therefore, to tax local resources in Ireland all the same as in England, would be not only to lay too heavy a burden on Ireland, but furthermore to place that burden principally upon the Catholic portion of the community, and would have the effect of putting the National School out of the reach of many a poor Catholic. Nor is it to be forgotten that, having been deprived of the foundations for religion and education which they formerly enjoyed, the Catholics of Ireland have also to bear many burdens not felt by others, who are in possession of ample public endowments. To say nothing of the erection of a vast number of churches, and of the support of their clergy, the Catholics have built at their own expense, within a period of not many years, a large proportion of the schools in connection with the National Board, and they support a very considerable number of admirable schools both of nuns and Christian brothers, which receive no portion of the public grant for primary education. Under these circumstances, it would not be equitable to call on our flocks to contribute to the building or support of schools in the same proportion as our more favoured fellow-subjects, or to deprive us of the advantages of a financial nature in regard to education which Ireland has enjoyed for the past.

But, would not these Denominational Schools, in which there would be free scope for religious instruction of only one kind, every day in the week and every hour of the day, be so pleased—would they not be ready instruments for carrying on the work of proselytism? What security for the faith of a stray child of another religion finding its way into one of them? This: to deprive such schools of the Government grant when they cease to comply with the condition upon which they asked and obtained it, that of being schools of one particular religious denomination; or, to class them with Mixed Schools, and require them to observe the rules of the Board in reference to religious instruction in Mixed Schools, altered, as will by and bye be suggested, so as to provide better security than now is against interference with the religion of the pupils in Mixed Schools. Whether the one or the other safeguard be adopted, the public money should never be used in the work of proselytism.

Next come Mixed Schools in places where one religion would be in a minority so small as not to be entitled to a grant for a separate school, or in places where, in other circumstances, people might choose a common Mixed School in preference to two separate schools—a preference of which it may well be doubted whether a single instance would ever occur. In Mixed Schools the spirit of proselytism is to be guarded against, and securities devised for the protection of the faith of the minority more effectual than the existing rules of the Board of Education. The national system of education, as sketched out in Lord Stanley's celebrated letter, and as first established, possessed several safeguards against interference with the religion of the pupils. Not to speak of other safeguards, there was the clergyman of each child recognised in each school as the person to impart and to regulate religious instruction; there was the rule obliging patrons to make due provision for the religious instruction of all the pupils under their respective clergy; there was the rule requiring teachers to exclude children of one creed when there was religious instruction of another; there were these safeguards for the faith of the children. But, one after another, they have been removed by concessions to Protestant prejudices; and now not only can proselytising practices be carried on with facility under cover of the Board's rules, but may be justified by them. The pastoral authority of the clergyman is ignored, and he himself may be excluded from every non-vested school; the manager of a non-vested school may have any religious instruction he pleases, or none at all; the teacher may permit Catholic children to be present at Protestant religious instruction, catechism, and reading of the Bible, and vice versâ, may permit Protestant children to be present at Catholic instruction and pious practices. As to the last expedient devised as a protection against attempts at tampering with the children's religion, namely, the new rule requiring the teacher to hand to a child a notice for his parent the first time, and only the first time, the child attends religious instruction with children of another creed,—as a security against interference with the religion of the pupils, this expedient is simply ludicrous. In point of fact, returns obtained by Major O'Reilly in 1864 prove that in one year, 1862, so many as 16,000 such notices were served in schools in the Province of Ulster; that is, the faith of 16,000 children was interfered with in that one year and in that one province. And we have another striking test of the inefficiency of the Board's rules as safeguards for the religion of pupils in Mixed Schools in a Report of 1855 from one of the Inspectors, which appears in a Parliamentary Return in 1859. He says that in all the schools he visited in Belfast taught by Presbyterian teachers, and having a mixed attendance, it was the practice that the teacher gave common religious instruction to all the pupils of different denominations, and that the same practice was pretty general throughout the counties of Antrim and Londonderry. From all this it is manifest that none of the Board's rules now in force can be deemed anything like adequate protection for the religion of children in a Mixed School

School, and that some more stringent regulation is necessary. What then is suggested? To fix the time for religious instruction at the end of school hours, strictly requiring that it should not commence for the majority of the pupils, or any of them, till after the departure of every one of the minority professing a different creed, and, in any case of proved interference with the faith of any belonging to the minority, to strike the school off the list of schools entitled to aid from the Board.

Next come the Model Schools, of which the Commissioners of Education are the patrons, and over which the Catholic Bishops and clergy have no manner of control as to teachers, books, or anything else, and to which, as being far the most objectionable part of the system, Catholics do give, and will give, the most determined opposition. But one thing can be done with these schools—to do away with them altogether. Nothing else will satisfy the Catholic Bishops, clergy, and people. A regard to public economy, too, calls for their suppression. If money was lavishly expended upon the erection of these buildings, the many thousands annually spent on their maintenance is so much thrown away. Nor is this all. The worst in the eyes of Catholics remains to be told of them. Not only have they been erected in despite of the remonstrances, but they are maintained in defiance of the authority of Catholic Bishops in their respective localities, and every effort is strained on the part of the teachers in those schools, and other officials of the Board of Education, to incite Catholic pupils and the parents of Catholic pupils to schismatical acts of insubordination against Catholic Priests and Catholic Bishops. On this account no small degree of unpopularity, even of odium, attaches to these Model Schools, and is reflected from them upon the whole system. Nothing remains but to do away with them altogether. But then, it may be asked, what is to be done with the buildings? Is the money expended on their erection to be so much lost? No. These buildings might be turned to various useful purposes; some of them might be turned into training schools of a denominational character, others might be converted into reformatories, others utilized in some other way. Whatever becomes of them, the having squandered money in erecting them is no reason for wasting more in maintaining them. A portion of the money spent in maintaining them could be applied to far better purpose, in supporting training establishments of Catholic teachers, male and female, a thing of the very first importance. The teachers who are destined not only to instruct the minds but to mould the moral nature of the youth of Ireland, themselves pass through no wholesome discipline, are formed by no moral training that would fit them for their important duties. Catholic training establishments are not merely desirable, they would be a national benefit; and the money expended in maintaining the model schools could not be turned to better purpose than the support of such establishments.

Enclosure 3, in No. 7.

To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty.

The Petition of the undersigned Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops in Ireland,

Sheweth,

THAT in the year 1854 your Petitioners established in the City of Dublin a literary and scientific institution for the higher education of youth.

That the said institution is commonly called "The Catholic University of Ireland."

That it comprises classes of instruction in the highest branches of science and literature, of medicine and surgery, taught by able professors, and frequented by a large number of students; and that it is the intention of your Petitioners to establish in it also classes of theology and of law.

That it possesses extensive and valuable libraries, and rich and costly collections of minerals, of philosophical apparatus, and of other things requisite for imparting a knowledge of the arts and sciences.

That your Petitioners have subscribed and collected considerable sums of money for the purpose of carrying the said undertaking into active operation.

That your Petitioners have been advised that the said undertaking would be more effectually prosecuted, and complete success therein sooner attained, if they were protected by your Most Gracious Majesty's Royal sanction, by means of a Royal Charter of Incorporation.

That it is proposed that the corporate body of the said institution shall consist of four perpetual governors, namely, the four Roman Catholic Archbishops for the time being in Ireland; eight life governors, namely, the Right Rev. John Derry, Roman Catholic Bishop; the Right Rev. John Kilduff, Roman Catholic Bishop; the Right Rev. Dominic O'Brien, Roman Catholic Bishop; the Right Rev. James Walshe, Roman Catholic Bishop; the Right Rev. Lawrence Gillooly, Roman Catholic Bishop; the Right Rev. Thomas Furlong, Roman Catholic Bishop; the Right Rev. Michael Flannery, Roman Catholic Bishop, and the Right Rev. John Pius Leahy, Roman Catholic Bishop, and such persons as may hereafter from time to time be nominated in their stead as such life governors; the rector and vice-rector for the time being of such institution, and the deans and professors for the time being of the various faculties established or to be established therein.

Your Petitioners, therefore, most humbly supplicate your Most Gracious Majesty to grant for the purpose aforesaid your Royal Charter of Incorporation to the several persons hereinbefore mentioned as being proposed to constitute the corporate body of the said institution, and your Petitioners will ever pray.

Dublin, 13 January 1866.

Signed on behalf and by authority of the following Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops:

Paul Cullen, Joseph Dixon, P. Leahy, John Cautwell, C. Denvir, Thomas Feeny, E. Walsh, W. Delany, John Derry, F. Kelly, W. Keane, P. Durcan, P. Fallon, J. Kilduff, D. Moriarty, John P. Leahy, D. O'Brien, James Walshe, Laurence Gillooly, Daniel McGettigan, Thos. Furlong, John McEvilly, M. O'Hea, P. Dorrian, George Butler, Nicholas Conaty, Thos. Nulty, James Donnelly, and Nicholas Power.

— No. 8. —

Sir G. Grey to Archbishop Cullen.

Most Reverend Sir,

Whitehall, 10 January 1866.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, forwarding to me two letters, or memorials, on Primary and University Education, on the part of the 29 Roman Catholic Bishops and Archbishops whose names are attached to them.

I have also to acknowledge the receipt of the petition to Her Majesty, signed by you on behalf of the said Prelates, praying for the grant of a Charter of Incorporation for the Institution therein mentioned, established in the City of Dublin for the higher education of youth.

Taking this petition in connection with the statement contained in the memorial on University Education, I understand it to ask for a Charter for that Institution as a College in connection with the University, of which the constitution is being revised for the purpose of enabling it to confer degrees on other students equally with those who have been members of one or other of the Queen's Colleges.

While Her Majesty's Government are willing to advise Her Majesty to grant a Charter of Incorporation for this institution as a College, it will be previously necessary that the terms and provisions of the Charter should be carefully examined.

I need not now advert to those points which may require revision in the draft of the Charter contained in the memorial on University Education, as I shall have the honour of addressing you again when Her Majesty's Government shall have given the proposed draft the consideration which it requires.

I have, &c.
(signed) G. Grey.

Sir G. Grey to Archbishop Cullen.

Most Reverend Sir,

Whitehall, 30 January 1866.

I HAVE the honour to inform you, with reference to my letter of the 18th instant, that Her Majesty's Government have had under their consideration the memorial from the Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops in Ireland whose names are subscribed thereto, on the subject of University Education in that country.

They have also considered the draft of the proposed Charter of Incorporation as a College for the Institution founded in Dublin by the Roman Catholic Archbishops for the higher education of youth.

With regard to the general question of University Education, whatever difference of opinion may exist as to the system of education in the Queen's Colleges, and the results which have attended their foundation, there can be no doubt that those Colleges were established, and the Queen's University was subsequently founded, with the sincere desire, and the real object on the part of the Government, of affording to all classes in Ireland higher or University education on equal terms.

Her Majesty's Government are still of opinion that the principle upon which those Colleges were founded, namely, that of offering such an education in common to the Protestant and Roman Catholic youth of Ireland, as a sound one, and they are unable to concur in the belief expressed in the memorial that these Colleges have been a signal failure.

They have, therefore, no intention of proposing any alteration in the principle on which those Colleges are conducted.

Her Majesty's Government, at the same time, freely admit the fact that a large number of persons in Ireland entertain a conscientious objection to the principle on which the Colleges were established, and to the mixed system of education adopted in them. Neither are they insensible to the disadvantages to which such persons are exposed if they aspire to a liberal profession, by their inability to obtain a degree from any University in Ireland, unless they connect themselves either with Trinity College, Dublin, or with one or other of the Queen's Colleges. It was with a view to relieve such persons from these disadvantages, and to place them on an equal footing with their fellow subjects in Ireland by enabling them to obtain a University degree on terms of which they could avail themselves without any sacrifice of principle, that Her Majesty's Government felt it to be their duty to advise Her Majesty that the Charter of the Queen's University should be revised so as to admit of degrees being conferred by it in Ireland on other students besides those connected with Trinity College, Dublin, or one of the Queen's Colleges.

They propose for this purpose to assimilate the Queen's University in principle to the London University, by which lay degrees are conferred on students of every religious denomination, without any suspicion, as far as the Government are aware, of any interference with their religious principles.

Her Majesty's Government are glad to observe that the Roman Catholic Prelates recognise in this decision, on the part of the Government, an intention to place Roman Catholics on a footing of equality as respects University Education with their fellow subjects of other denominations, and they trust that when the Charter of the Queen's University, which is now under revision, shall have been amended, and the requisite alteration in the composition of the Senate shall be completed, the objects which Her Majesty's Government have in view will be attained.

I have already informed you that Her Majesty's Government are willing to advise Her Majesty to grant a Charter of Incorporation as a College to the Institution founded in Dublin by the Roman Catholic Archbishops, for the higher education of youth.

But having had under their consideration the draft of the Charter contained in the Memorial, Her Majesty's Government regret that they are unable to advise Her Majesty to grant it in the form which is there proposed.

Without adverting to other points which will require revision, Her Majesty's Government think it essential that while due precaution is taken for the protection of the faith and morals of the students in such a college, for which purpose the Archbishops might be constituted visitors, its governing body, if it is to receive a Charter from the Crown, should not be entirely composed of ecclesiastics, but that it should contain a considerable proportion of laymen. Her Majesty's Government hope that no practical difficulty will be found in a revision of the terms of the Charter with a view to meet the objections to the form in which it has been proposed. They are willing, if it should be desired, to suggest the form in which they think the Charter might properly be granted.

With reference to the other points adverted to in the memorial, I have to inform you that Her Majesty's Government do not intend to propose to Parliament that an endowment should be given to the Roman Catholic College, but they are willing favourably to consider the proposal that Parliament should be asked to grant a sum, as is done in the case of the London University, for the purpose of providing bourses or scholarships open to competition to all students without distinction who are members of the University.

Her Majesty's Government are not aware that power has ever been granted by Charter to any college to affiliate to itself colleges or schools. A Charter giving such a power appears to be appropriate exclusively to an university.

Her Majesty's Government are not sure that they clearly apprehend the meaning of the two paragraphs in the memorial as to "the tests of knowledge," but if as they desire the senate of the university should be so constituted as to entitle it to the confidence of persons of different religious denominations, they think that it may safely be entrusted with the regulation of all matters of detail as to the time, manners, and matter of examinations.

Sir G. Grey to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

My Lord,

Whitehall, 30 January 1866.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to you a copy of a letter or memorial addressed to me on the part of the Roman Catholic Prelates in Ireland, on the subject of the national system of education in that country.

Your Excellency is no doubt aware that a memorial on this subject was addressed in 1859 to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland by the Roman Catholic Prelates in that country. I enclose a copy of that memorial and of the answer given to it on the part of Her Majesty's Government by Mr. Cardwell, who then held the office of Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant. To the opinions expressed in that answer Her Majesty's Government adhere, and they would regard with sincere regret any step tending to the overthrow of a system of education which they believe to be well adapted to the peculiar circumstances of Ireland, and to have been the means of conferring very great advantages on that country. The large and increasing number of children, both Protestant and Roman Catholic, attending schools in connection with the National Board of Education is in itself a gratifying proof that the instruction offered in the schools is appreciated by the great body of the people, and that it involves no interference with the distinctive faith of persons of different religious denominations.

Her Majesty's Government, however, think it right that this memorial should be communicated to the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland; and that they should be invited to offer their observations upon it. Their attention should be particularly directed to the statements contained in the memorial as to the Model Schools.

Her Majesty's Government would be glad to receive, together with the observations of the Commissioners of National Education, the opinion which your Excellency may desire to express, or any remarks which you may think fit to offer on the memorial.

I have, &c.

Sir,

Dublin, 11 February 1866.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your reply of the 30th January last, to a memorial on University Education, addressed to you on the 14th of the same month, by the Roman Catholic Prelates of this country.

Having communicated your reply to those prelates, I regret to say that they are all of opinion that the promises held out to them in that document are far from corresponding to the hope which they had entertained; that the present Government, so liberal and enlightened, would have taken some effective step to place them and their flock on a footing of equality with their fellow subjects of other religious denominations in regard to education.

However, they are not willing to give any decided opinion upon this matter until they shall have seen the proposed Charter of the new University, and the draft of a Charter for the Roman Catholic University College in the form in which the Government would consider it admissible. May I take the liberty to request of you to give orders that copies of these two documents should be sent to me.

I have now to add that the Roman Catholic Prelates are anxious to receive an answer to their memorial on national education, which was forwarded on the same day as the memorial on University Education.

Most Reverend Sir,

Whitehall, 14 February 1866.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant. I hope in a very short time to be able to comply with your request by transmitting to you the copy of the new Charter for the University, and the draft of a Charter which Her Majesty's Government would be prepared to advise Her Majesty to grant to the Roman Catholic University College. I forwarded on the 30th ultimo to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland a copy of the Memorial from the Roman Catholic Prelates on national education in Ireland, with a request that it might be communicated to the Commissioners of National Education for their observations, their attention being specially called to the statements contained in the Memorial with reference to the Model schools.

Mr. Porter to Lord Wodehouse.

16, College-square, East, Belfast,
22 July 1865.

May it please your Excellency,

I AM instructed by my brethen, the members of the Northern Presbytery of Antrim, to transmit to your Excellency the annexed copy of a resolution, which was unanimously adopted at a recent meeting of the body, with reference to certain statements made during the last Session of Parliament by the Secretary of State for the Home Department and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the subject of an intended change in the regulations of the Queen's University in Ireland. In doing so, I venture to add the expression of my earnest hope, that Her Majesty's Government, on a deliberate review of the manifold inconsistencies and inconveniences which the contemplated plan would entail, will see the wisdom and propriety of desisting from the further prosecution of a measure so directly opposed to the principles of education free from creeds and tests, for which the enlightened friends of public instruction have contended during upwards of half a century, and which the Legislature so emphatically sanctioned in the "Act for Colleges in Ireland."

I have, &c.

Clerk to the Northern Presbytery of Antrim.

Enclosure in No. 1.

Resolution.

At a stated Quarterly Meeting of the Northern Presbytery of Antrim, held at Ballydare, on Thursday the 6th July 1865,

The Rev. Wm. Bruce, Moderator, in the Chair,

It was resolved unanimously—"That we have learned with deep regret of certain statements made in the House of Commons, by the Secretary of State for the Home Department and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the part of Her Majesty's Government, from which it appears that a plan is in contemplation by which the highest academic distinctions in connection with the Queen's University in Ireland, shall in future be awarded to students who have been educated in strictly sectarian seminaries, and under strictly sectarian auspices; and that we should deplore the adoption of any measures for accomplishing that purpose as adverse to the principles of united and non-sectarian education on which the Queen's University was founded, as calculated to weaken the influence of those principles throughout the country, and ultimately to destroy the efficiency of those admirable institutions, the Queen's Colleges, which have already conferred such important benefits on Ireland."

May it please your Excellency,

I RESPECTFULLY beg leave to lay before your Excellency the annexed copy of a resolution which was unanimously adopted at a recent meeting of the General Committee of the Non-Subscribing Presbyterian Association, with reference ference to certain changes in the plan and management of Queen's University, which are understood to be in the contemplation of Her Majesty's Government. And I have been instructed by the Committee most earnestly to solicit your Excellency's attention to a subject so closely connected with the intellectual, moral, and social improvement of Ireland.

Presbyterians of Ireland.

Enclosure in No. 2.

Resolution.

AT a Meeting of the General Committee of the Association of the Non-Subscribing Presbyterians of Ireland, held in Belfast on the 11th of October 1865,

The Rev. J. Scott Porter, President of the Association, in the Chair,

It was moved, seconded, and resolved unanimously,—

“That inasmuch as the Association of the Non-Subscribing Presbyterians of Ireland, has always been friendly to the principles of united and non-sectarian education, and has frequently expressed its attachment to that principle, we, its Committee, acting on its behalf, feel bound to record our deep regret at an announcement which we understand has been made by Her Majesty's Government, intimating an intention to reconsider the Regulations of the Queen's University in Ireland, with a view to modify them in such a manner that young men who have been educated in a seminary which is under the control and patronage of one particular Church, and whose directors and teachers are required to be members of that Church, may be enabled to receive degrees and other literary and scientific distinctions in connexion with that University; that we deprecate the adoption of any measures for the purpose above set forth as a direct infringement of the great principle on which the Queen's University was founded, as likely to lead to further and still more objectionable changes in its constitution and management, as disadvantageous, if not fatal, to the prosperity of the Queen's College in Ireland, and as calculated to counteract the wise and beneficent measures which the Imperial Parliament has, during the last thirty years, repeatedly sanctioned with reference to public education in Ireland; to produce a deeply injurious effect on the feelings and habits of the rising generation, and to foster and perpetuate sectarian jealousies, alienations, and animosities, in this already distracted land.”

MEMORIAL from Members of the Queen's University.

To His Excellency John, Baron Wodehouse, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, the undersigned members of the Queen's University, beg respectfully to address your Excellency with respect to certain changes in the constitution of the Queen's University, which have recently been the subject of discussion in Parliament, and which, we understand, are now under the consideration of the Government.

The constitution of the University has, as your Excellency is aware, hitherto been based on two principles—

1. Its studies have been regulated by purely scientific considerations, to the exclusion of all interference on the part of religious sects.

2. It has admitted no candidates for its degrees who have not pursued a regular academic course in one of the Colleges of which it consists.

The wisdom of these principles, and their adaptation to the circumstances of Ireland, are, we believe, abundantly proved by the success of the Queen's Colleges and University. As this success has lately been questioned, we may be permitted very briefly to advert to the recent history of these institutions.

In the year 1857 a Royal Commission was appointed to inquire into the condition and progress of the Queen's Colleges. At that time there were 445 students in the Colleges; and the Commissioners, after a laborious investigation, reported that "the Colleges could not be considered otherwise than successful, when, notwithstanding opposing causes, they had in their halls attending lectures nearly 450 students." Seven years have since elapsed, and the number of students has within this period amounted to 837; and it is worthy of note that each year of the period shows an increase on the preceding. The numbers in the successive years have been as follows:—

1859-60	-	-	546		1863-64	-	-	810
1860-61	-	-	657		1864-65	-	-	835
1861-62	-	-	758

It is also to be observed that the increase is not confined to any one College, but is shared alike by all. Thus the numbers in Belfast, Cork, and Galway were, in 1857-58, respectively, 204, 140, and 99: last year they were 406, 263, and 169.

This rapid development of the Queen's University, unprecedented, we believe, in the annals of education, is all the more remarkable when it is borne in mind that not only were several of the years in which it has taken place years of great depression, but further, that the enforcement of academic residence, which is the rule in the Queen's University, is an innovation on the Irish University system—an innovation of so bold a character that the Commissioners who inquired into the condition of Dublin University, though concurring in the view expressed by Dr. Lloyd, that the encouragement of residence was "one of the most urgent of all academic reforms," did not venture to recommend its enforcement for the comparatively wealthy students who came within the scope of their inquiry.

It is gratifying to add that the success of the Queen's has not been purchased at the expense of the Dublin University, but is a clear gain to the higher education of the country. In the year 1848—the year which preceded the opening of the Queen's Colleges—the number of students who entered Trinity College, Dublin, was 353; last year, notwithstanding the decrease which has in the interval taken place in the population, it was, by a curious coincidence, again 353, the number of entrances in the Queen's Colleges being 288.

But it is not numbers alone which evince the success of the Queen's Colleges.

They have been found available for all religious sects, and their success has been conspicuous in that object which they were especially designed to promote—the bringing together of students from various religious denominations for common education in the same halls. Thus, of the 3,330 students who have entered since the foundation of the Colleges, 957 have been members of the Established Church, 938 have been Roman Catholics, and 1,197 Presbyterians, while the other denominations have been represented in fair proportion to their numerical importance.*

It has, indeed, been urged that these figures do not sustain the conclusion which they are adduced to prove, and that, taken in combination with the returns of Trinity College, Dublin, they indicate a deficiency in the extent of University education amongst Roman Catholics. Adopting this line of reasoning, the originator of the recent debate in Parliament contrasted the 268 Roman Catholics receiving University education in Ireland with 1,569 Protestants. But in this comparison it was overlooked that the Roman Catholics in the Dublin and the Queen's Universities are all lay students, while the Protestant total includes those intended for the ministry of the various Protestant churches, and that, if we would make

make the comparison fair, we must add to the former aggregate about 1,000 candidates for the Roman Catholic priesthood.*

Turning to the Colleges situated in the Roman Catholic provinces—and to these we should naturally look to ascertain the sentiment of Roman Catholics—the numbers of Roman Catholic students have, we believe, exceeded what we had reason to expect from their wealth, education, and social importance. Of 1,698 students who have entered these Colleges since their opening, nearly one-half, or 831, have been Roman Catholics, the great majority of whom would, but for the Queen's Colleges, have been wholly shut out from superior education.

The ratio which they have borne to other religious communions during the last Session is shown in the subjoined Table :—

— —	English Church.	Roman Catholic.	Presbyterian.	Wesleyan.	Others.	TOTAL.
Cork - - -	114	129	6	12	2	263
Galway - -	50	78	31	2	8	169

Instituting for this section of the students the comparison we have already made of the aggregate numbers, we find that the numbers of Roman Catholic students in the Colleges of Galway and Cork, which are now 78 and 129, were in the year in which the Commission reported (1857-58) 42 and 55 respectively.

It may assist your Excellency in estimating the contribution which the Queen's University has made to Roman Catholic education to recall, that during the debate on the Colleges Bill it was publicly stated in Parliament that there were then about 100 Roman Catholics [intended for secular pursuits] receiving University education in Ireland; that is, less than one-half those included in the Colleges of Cork and Galway alone.

Another test of the success of a University is the results of its teaching, and on this point it will probably be sufficient to state the following facts:—From a document now before us, containing a most imperfect account of the destination of former students, it appears that the Queen's University has educated nine professors, of whom three hold chairs in the Queen's Colleges; ten inspectors of schools; 39 selected candidates for the Indian Civil Service, besides 12 of the successful candidates for the Department of Public Works in India; 11 members of the Consular Service; and upwards of 70 medical officers for the army and navy; four of its students have held the Barrington Lectureship in Political Economy; three have obtained the high distinction of a studentship in the Inns of Court in London, and one has just received the first of the prizes recently instituted by the Benchers of the King's Inns, Dublin. We add, that the students of the Queen's Colleges have distinguished themselves not less by the quality of their answering than by the number of prizes they have obtained. Thus, at a late examination for the Indian Civil Service, one of them obtained the highest marks ever awarded in mathematics; at the examination two years before, one had been first and another third in the same subject; equally conspicuous has been their merit in the natural and moral sciences, and in English, and they have well sustained their ground in the ancient and modern languages; in three of the last four years they have stood first in the competition for the Consular Service, and in the present year they have won the first and fourth places at the examination of civil engineers for the Indian service.

Such success seems to justify the language of the "Times," reviewing in October 1864, the work of the Queen's University: "For the results [of the teaching of the Queen's Colleges] we have only to look to our various competitive examinations, and we shall soon discover them. Owing either to the acuteness of the Irish mind, or to the comparative scarcity of preferments at home, Irish students have been remarkably successful in competing for Indian and Civil Service

* There are in Ireland, according to the Census Commissioners, four establishments, with 387 students, for the special education of the Roman Catholic clergy; and four others, with 274 students, which, though they open the secular or non-professional part of their courses to lay students, are primarily intended for the same purpose.

Service appointments. In these opportunities, indeed, they have found those rewards which fellowships offer to our own Universities, and have been recompensed for their labour by competence and distinction.”*

To complete this brief survey, we may observe that the number of degrees conferred by the University shows the same steady progress as the other criteria we have applied. Taking the years which we have compared throughout, we find that the number of degrees which, in 1857, was 55, amounted, in 1864, to 122.†

In presence of these facts, your Excellency will pardon us for saying that we are deeply mortified that the Government should, on the alleged failure of the Queen's Colleges, have entered on a course which, if followed out, can only have one result, the surrender of the principle of united education.

The principle was not lightly adopted. The late Sir Robert Peel, in recommending the Colleges Bill to Parliament, urged that the State would be “counteracting the objects for which it founded the National System of Education,” if education in common were not made the rule for the proposed foundations. “Surely,” he said, “it will be admitted that the education in the new Colleges ought, if possible, to be given in common. . . . If I am to plant new academical institutions here and there throughout the land, making each of them an exclusive character, with professors of their own faith, of course I shall have a separate and exclusive education in each, and I shall forego the advantage I hope to gain. . . . I should relinquish with the deepest regret the prospect of having education in common for the Protestant, Presbyterian, and Catholic youth of Ireland.”

What was to Sir Robert Peel a prospect is to us a reality. After years of uninterrupted progress, the number of our students, notwithstanding the more rigorous conditions of studentship, almost equals that of those in the ancient University of Dublin; united education is carried out in the most perfect form, especially in those Colleges which are the immediate objects of attack; lastly, the practical results of the teaching of the Colleges are such as to call forth the admiration of the leading exponents of public opinion. We cannot but deplore that these facts should have been found less convincing than the allegations of men who would subject the education of the people to ecclesiastical control; and we should view, to borrow the language of Sir Robert Peel, with the deepest regret, even the partial relinquishment, in deference to such allegations, of a system which has produced such fruits.

We have thought it our duty to make these observations at this crisis in the history of the University; but we feel that we speak at great disadvantage from our very imperfect information with regard to the intentions of the Government. We conclude with the earnest hope that in any changes which may be made in the constitution of the University, its two distinctive features may be preserved inviolate.

The first we regard as essential to the very existence of a mixed university. That a University may be available alike for all religious communions, it is plain that it must be free from the control of any. We would, therefore, deprecate, with all the emphasis we can employ, any modification of the University curriculum in deference to ecclesiastical opinion, and no less strongly the appointment of Examiners on the score of religious belief. The former measure would be the signal for the disintegration of the University: the latter would not be objectionable on the ground of its sectarian character merely; it would fatally degrade the University, that its honours and degrees should be awarded by Examiners chosen on other grounds than fitness for their office.

Passing to the second principle on which our University is based, we beg to observe that the maintenance of our collegiate system is intimately bound up with the maintenance of united education, and that any departure from it would be the subversion of the objects for which the Colleges were founded.

All who know anything of the history of the Colleges are aware that the College, not the University, is the pivot of the system; that the Colleges were not affiliated to the University, but the University formed an aggregation of the Colleges; and that its degrees were designed to be, not a substitute for, but a certificate of, that “education in common” which it was the main purpose of the Colleges to bestow.

Looking

* Compare the remarks of the Civil Service Commissioners in their Sixth Report, p. 81.

† We observe that the present year indicates a yet further increase.

Looking at the matter merely from an educational point of view, we can conceive nothing more retrograde than to abandon the now firmly-established system of collegiate education which commands the approval of all competent judges, for a system condemned even where it is tolerated.

Such a measure, under any circumstances to be deplored, would be peculiarly unfortunate for our students, who, as a rule, having had fewer social advantages and an inferior preparatory training, stand more urgently in need of academic influences than the students of the older Universities. The lectures in the Queen's Colleges supply the place of private tuition, which is wholly out of the reach of the great mass of the students. But apart from this, from what we have seen of the humanising power of the lecture room, and of the intercourse of the students with their teachers and amongst themselves, we have no hesitation in saying that we regard these influences as a no less important training for the business of life than that which the direct inculcation of science and literature imparts.

These advantages are, we believe, understood and appreciated. The high estimation in which the degrees of the Queen's University are held is, considering the recency of its foundation, not a little remarkable; and it is to be attributed, we doubt not, in no small measure to the fact that they attest not simply literary and scientific attainment, but, besides these, academic training and all that it implies.

To deprive these degrees of their peculiar value for the sake of those who wish to reach an academic title by a more compendious road, would, in our opinion, be most unwise; more than this, it would be gratuitous, for the case of such persons is already provided for by the London University. It is provided for, it may be further observed, in the most advantageous way; for if a University is to be a mere Examining Board to test the attainments of candidates, there is an obvious gain in extending the sphere of its operations, since, just in proportion as this is comprehensive, the great desideratum of a uniform standard is attained.

In every aspect of the case, therefore, whether we regard the purpose for which the University was founded, the interests of higher education, or the existing educational machinery, it would, we are convinced, be a fatal error to destroy the distinctive character of the Queen's University by severing it from the Queen's Colleges, and to find for it work by dividing functions which are infinitely better discharged by a single agency.

The Rev. J. Tobias to Lord Wodehouse.

My Lord,

Roscrea, 30 November 1865.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Excellency the inclosed Memorial of the Committee appointed to watch over the civil privileges of the Wesleyan Methodists of Ireland, in the hope that you will take the earliest opportunity of giving it its full proportion of effect with Her Majesty's Government, of which you are the Representative.

I have, &c.

Enclosure in No. 14.

MEMORIAL.

To his Excellency John Baron Wodehouse, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

May it please your Lordship,

THE Memorial of the Committee to whom the Conference of the connection established by the late Rev. John Wesley, A.M., in Ireland, has in the interval of its sittings committed the guardianship of its civil rights and duties :

Humbly sheweth,

That it has been represented to Memorialists that it is the intention of Her Majesty's Government either to make or to propose to the ensuing Parliament important changes in the principle and government of the Queen's University for Ireland.

Memorialists are aware that such intention has not yet been made public, at least to such extent as to indicate the character of the changes intended; nevertheless enough has taken place to fill the minds of Memorialists with both anxiety and alarm.

Memorialists therefore humbly beg permission to lay their views, and those of the denomination which they represent, before your Excellency, and to ask that they may be submitted submitted to Her Majesty's Government, or dealt with in any manner or way in the judgment of your Excellency most likely to give them effect.

Memorialists would specially and in the strongest manner deprecate all such changes as would dispense with the student's attendance upon the lectures of the Professors, or alter in any way the non-sectarian character of the University.

Memorialists regard the establishment of the Queen's University as one of the greatest boons ever conferred upon Ireland, and believe it capable of promoting in an eminent degree the welfare of the country.

Memorialists feel that the Wesleyan body in any such changes would have special cause of complaint, inasmuch as in the faith that the principles of the University would be preserved intact, they have undertaken an outlay very large in itself, large for their means, and large in comparison with any other outlay made to sustain the principle of the Queen's Colleges.

Memorialists therefore feel that any alteration which would make this expenditure valueless for the purposes for which it was intended would be a great hardship to them, and by weakening confidence in the stability of any institution in Ireland, could not but discourage for a long time to come any attempt to promote the education of the people.

Memorialists disclaim in the strongest manner any disposition to interfere with the consciences of others; but at the same time humbly beg to press upon the attention of your Excellency the danger of overthrowing an institution which experience shows is peculiarly adapted to the wants of the country.

And Memorialists will ever pray, &c.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,

Robert Masaroon, Chairman.

James Tobias, Secretary.

MEMORIAL from the Trustees of the Magee Presbyterian College.

To his Excellency John Baron Wodehouse, Lord Lieutenant-General or General Governor of Ireland.

The Memorial of John Brown, Presbyterian Minister, of Aghadoey, D.D., James Gibson, of the City of Dublin, Barrister-at-Law, and William M'Kane, of the City of Londonderry, Presbyterian Minister, Trustees of the Magee Presbyterian College, near the said City of Londonderry :

Most respectfully sheweth,

THAT the late Mrs. Martha Maria Magee, of the City of Dublin, widow, who died on the 22d of June 1846, by her last will bequeathed to your memorialists, John Brown and James Gibson, and to the Rev. Richard Dill, then of the City of Dublin, Presbyterian Minister, since deceased, but now represented by your memorialist, William McClure, the sum of 20,000 l. sterling upon trust, "to apply the same to the building and endowment" of a college for the education of young men in preparation for the Christian ministry in connection with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, "the same to be built where the trustees, or a majority of them, should determine."

That a suit having been instituted in the High Court of Chancery in Ireland for the administration of the trusts of the will of the said testatrix and a decree pronounced thereon, the Lord Chancellor did thereby confirm and sanction a certain scheme for the building and endowment of said College.

That in the said scheme it is declared, that "the curriculum of the said College shall embrace literary, scientific, and theological education, consisting of the following branches, that is to say: 1. Latin and Greek; 2. Logic, belles lettres, and rhetoric; 3. Metaphysics and ethics; 4. Mathematics and natural philosophy; 5. Oriental literature and hermeneutics; 6. Church history and pastoral theology; and 7. Theology; of which the chairs of Latin and Greek, of logic, belles lettres and rhetoric, of metaphysics and ethics, and of mathematics and natural philosophy, shall constitute the literary and scientific department, and the chairs of Oriental literature and hermeneutics, of Church history and pastoral theology, and of theology, shall constitute the theological department, and that the literary and scientific education in said College shall be open to all persons."

D

That

That the Trustees having erected near the City of Londonderry a suitable building, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, on the 5th of July last, elected seven Professors to fill the several chairs mentioned in the said scheme, and the said College was, on the 10th of October last, formally inaugurated and opened for the reception of students, and that 27 regularly matriculated students are now attending the prelections of the several Professors therein.

That the said General Assembly, at its last annual meeting, by a special resolution, requested your memorialists, Trustees for the time being of the said College, "to take steps for having the College affiliated to one of the existing Universities, so that its students may be in a position to receive degrees in arts."

That there is in Ireland no existing University with which such affiliation is now practicable, and the only University in the empire whose constitution admits of any such affiliation, is the University of London.

That your memorialists are reluctant to apply to the University of London for such affiliation, believing that the affiliation of the Magee College with any other than an Irish University must be attended with considerable inconvenience, and would interpose great difficulties in the way of obtaining such degrees, which could not fail to operate much to the discouragement of its students, and to the prejudice of the College itself.

That, under these circumstances, your memorialists beg to submit to your Excellency the expediency and propriety of some modification or change in the constitution of the Queen's University in Ireland, whereby students educated in the Magee Presbyterian College may be enabled, being duly qualified, to obtain degrees of arts from said University, in the same manner as students educated in similar institutions in England can now obtain such degrees from the University of London.

Your memorialists, therefore, in discharge of the trust committed to them by the said General Assembly, beg leave most respectfully to submit to your Excellency's favourable consideration the claim of the Magee Presbyterian College to have such affiliation with the Queen's University in Ireland conceded.

And your memorialists will ever pray.

STATEMENT adopted by the Graduates of the Queen's University in Ireland assembled in Public Meeting in Belfast, on Wednesday 6 December 1865.

Convocation created but yet
unsummoned:

By the recent Charter of the Queen's University in Ireland, a Convocation, consisting of the Chancellor, Senators, Secretary, Professors, and Graduates of the University, was created, with the power of discussing any matter whatever relating to the University and of declaring the opinion of Convocation thereon, but no meeting of the Convocation has been authorised by Her Majesty, or summoned, as provided by the Charter. Under these circumstances, it having been stated that changes in the principles approved of in recent years in public education in Ireland are under the consideration of Her Majesty's Government, and in particular, that the Queen's University in Ireland is intended to be the medium of conferring degrees on the alumni of institutions based on the principle of sectarianism, the Graduates of the Queen's University think it their duty to publicly state their opinion as to changes of the nature above indicated.

Therefore gradu-
opinion as to alleged intended changes.

Difficulty of dealing with undefined
changes.

The Graduates of the Queen's University are aware of the inconvenience and difficulty of combating propositions which are yet known only by vague rumours, and which, so far as they have learned, may be yet undefined. But, bearing in mind that important action may be taken by the Government before those connected with the Queen's University shall have the more favourable opportunity of supporting their views through Convocation, it is considered that the cause of united education, which has been established now for so many years in

Ireland,

Ireland, may be in some degree served by giving a short sketch of the action of the British Parliament and successive Governments in relation to the vexed question of education; and by submitting that the policy of a generation of great and enlightened statesmen ought not to be reversed without the most weighty and well-considered reasons.

Brief Sketch of Public Education in Ireland.

In the year 1791 a Commission of distinguished men, presided over by Pro- Sketch of Public vost Hutchinson, the Secretary for Ireland, made an elaborate report to the Education.
Lord Lieutenant, from which the following is an extract:—

“We beg leave to submit to your Excellency as our decided opinion, that there should be no distinction made in any of the schools [charter, parish, diocesan, and Royal schools] between scholars of different religious persuasions, without meaning, however, to interfere with the peculiar constitution of the chartered schools, or with the intentions of the founders of any other schools, expressed by their wills or other instruments directing such foundations.”— Opinion of Com-(Report of Commissioners of Education Inquiry, 1791. Printed in Appendix missioners of 1791.

The chief immediate result of this report appears to have been the passing Result of Report. of the Roman Catholic Relief Act of 1793 removing certain disabilities as to education, to which persons of the Catholic persuasion had long previously been subject.

After this but little was done for public education in Ireland, save voting money to be expended through the agency of the Kildare-place Society for the Education of the Poor of Ireland, until the establishment of the system of national education in 1831. There were, however, valuable inquiries conducted by means of Commissioners in the years 1807–12, and in the years 1825–27. The Reports of these Commissioners were submitted to a Select Committee of the House of Commons in 1828, and that Committee passed a series of resolutions in favour of the establishment of a system of education in Ireland, in which no attempt should be made to influence or disturb the peculiar religious tenets of any sect or denomination of Christians. They recommended that pupils of all persuasions should be provided with literary instruction in common, and that every facility should be afforded for their religious instruction separately. Committee of 1828.

Acting on the Report of that Committee, Lord Derby addressed a letter to the Duke of Leinster in 1831, which led to the formation of the present National Board of Education. Formation of mittee’s Report.

It is not necessary to say more of the system of the National Board than this, that the schools are open to persons of every religious persuasion, and no pupil is permitted to be deprived of the advantages of the secular education therein afforded on account of non-attendance at religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object. The success of this system, which is principally Principle of Defects in academical education apparent.

Sir Thomas Wyse's Select Committee
of 1838.

Committee recommend a thorough system of public education.

Opinions of Committee.

After the establishment of the National Board it was felt that a great defect existed in the provision made for public academical education ; and in the year 1835 a Select Committee was appointed, to which the entire question of public education in Ireland was referred. Of this Committee the late Sir Thomas Wyse was Chairman ; and, in the year 1838, they reported in favour of a measure for dissolving the Board of Commissioners for the Diocesan, Royal, and other schools of public foundation, and constituting a new Board of National Education, to which should be committed the charge of both elementary and higher class school education. The Committee recommended the establishment of county academies, and of at least four colleges—one in each of the provinces of Ireland—and suggested the advisability of conferring degrees on the students of those colleges by a central Board in Dublin. The Committee state that the objects to be kept in view in the proposed system of public edu- cation are as follows :

“ The system should be in harmony with the real wants and position of the class for which it is intended ; it should, as much as possible, accord with other portions of the education system ; it should be of the most improved character ; it should be general, common to all, without distinction of class or creed ; and once established, it should be rendered permanent.”

And in concluding their Report the Committee say :

“ Your Committee have thus endeavoured to lay before the House as ample an account as was in their power of the conclusions to which they have arrived on the important questions submitted to their consideration. They have aimed at establishing a system, adequate, they trust, to the wants of the country, open to all sects, professions, and classes ; cheap, universal, and, they are willing to hope, durable * * * * Your Committee are not insensible, however, to the difficulties which must necessarily impede its immediate adoption ; they are far from urging precipitate or wholesale experiments, at the same time they consider it of moment that whatever portion be adopted, its relation to others should be steadily kept in view. Without a due observance of this principle, it will be at any period difficult to establish a sound and comprehensive system, and education [will] be exposed to a series of abortive attempts, involving large expenditure with little benefit to the public. If no other result should follow from this Report than to preserve from these errors, it will not be without its use, but your Committee are more sanguine in their expectations ; a portion of the system proposed is actually in operation ; by giving to that portion, with the alterations suggested, a legislative sanction, the country will be enabled to advance gradually with increased confidence to others, and terminate, it is earnestly desired, at no remote period, by the full establishment of one of the most indispensable of all civil institutions—a system of public education, in every particular thoroughly and permanently ‘ National.’ ”—(Report, pp. 80, 81.)

Recommendations
partly carried out
by Sir R. Peel's Government in 1845.

Provisions as to religious instruction modified subsequently to introduction of Colleges' Bill.

The elementary portion of the system of public education recommended by the Committee being to a great extent in operation in the schools under the National Board, the Government of Sir Robert Peel determined in 1845 to carry out further the system recommended by the Committee, and accordingly the Queen's Colleges at Belfast, Cork, and Galway, were founded. It appears at first to have been the intention of the Government not to make any provision for the religious instruction of the students attending the colleges, but this intention was subsequently modified, and finally by the College Statutes every reasonable arrangement was made for facilitating the care of the faith and morals of the students by Deans of Residences. As the provisions on this head are not always fairly put before the public, it may be useful to give them fully. In the chapter chapter of the Statutes as to the Residences of Students, and the Deans of Residences, it is provided as follows:—

“ If the Bishop, Moderator, or constituted authority of any church or religious denomination shall notify to the President his or their desire that there shall be a boarding-house specially licensed for the exclusive use of the students of such church or denomination, and shall specially recommend persons applying for license to establish the same, the President shall, in every such case, grant such license, provided he shall obtain satisfactory evidence of the suitableness of the proposed establishment, and of its means of providing for the health and comfort of the students. Existing provisions as to religious instruction.

“ In the case of collegiate students residing in a seminary or school which is under the special jurisdiction of the Bishop, Moderator, or the constituted authority of any church or religious denomination, the President shall, on receiving a notification from such authority, consider residence in such a seminary or school as equivalent to residence in the house of a parent or guardian, and shall exempt such seminary or school from license or inspection, but shall require the same attendance at entrance as in the case of a student residing with his parent or guardian.

“ For the better maintenance of moral and religious discipline in the licensed boarding houses, such clergyman or ministers as We shall, from time to time, by warrant under Our sign-manual, appoint Deans of Residences, shall have the moral care and spiritual charge of the students of their respective creeds residing in the licensed boarding-houses.

“ The College Council shall have power to assign lecture-rooms within the precincts of such college, wholly or in part, for the use of the Deans of Residences, for the purpose of affording religious instruction to the students of their respective creeds, and also to make rules concerning the days and times when such religious instruction shall be given therein, and for securing that the same shall not interfere with the general discipline of the college; provided always that no student shall be compelled by any rule of the college to attend any theological lecture or religious instruction other than is approved of by his parents or guardians, and that no religious test shall be administered to any person in order to entitle him to be admitted a student of any such college, or to hold any office therein, or to partake of any advantage or privilege thereof.

“ No clergyman or minister shall be competent to assume or continue to hold the office of Dean of Residences unless approved of by the Bishop, Moderator, or constituted authority of his Church or religious denomination.

“ The registrar shall, at the commencement of every collegiate session, furnish each Dean of Residences with a list of the names and residences of the students of his religious persuasion who may reside in the licensed boarding-houses.

“ Each Dean of Residences shall, at the termination of every collegiate session, report to the President on the general conduct of the students under his moral care and spiritual charge, and on the manner in which discipline, regarding such students, has been observed in the several licensed boarding-houses in which they reside.”

And in the Chapter as to Punishments, it is provided as follows:—

“ Any student guilty of any of the following offences shall be liable to expulsion from the College; but it shall be competent to the Council, should they deem it more conducive to the discipline of the College and the reformation of the offender, to impose some lighter punishment for the same:— Students liable to expulsion for neglect of religion.

“ 1. Habitual neglect of attendance for divine worship at such church or chapel as shall be approved by his parents or guardians.

“ 2. Habitual neglect of attendance on the religious instruction provided for students of his church or denomination.

“ 3. Immoral or dishonest practices.

“ 5. Drunkenness.”

It is not always conclusive in favour of any measure to cite the opinions of even the wisest statesmen, as expressed in Parliament. They are often compelled by the exigencies of party to advocate measures which they do not wholly approve of, and, perhaps no less frequently, from the multiplicity and pressing character of their engagements, they are unable to give that care and attention to matters discussed by them in the legislature, which the nature and difficulty men in debate on of the subjects require. But, considering the state of parties when the Colleges Bill was introduced, and the feelings of large numbers of the members of either House of Parliament, it will not be denied that these observations are inapplicable to the carefully considered declarations of the illustrious men whose opinions, as expressed in the debates on the Colleges Bill, it may be useful here to cite, since they can but speak to their countrymen from the grave.

Sir James Graham's.

Sir James Graham, in introducing the Colleges Bill, having explained the principles on which the system of the National Board was based, proceeds:—

"I have now stated to the House what appears to me to be the sound principles upon which we should proceed in this matter; and when I say sound principles, I mean sound principles with reference to the peculiar circumstances of the country with which we are about to deal; and I have demonstrated to you, also, what was the failure of all your attempts to extend to the Irish people the benefits of education until those principles were adopted, and what has been your success since you began to carry them into execution; and, relying alike upon the weight of experience and upon the theoretical soundness of principles such as these, as applied to the state of society, and of the different religious persuasions in Ireland, I am prepared to say that Her Majesty's Government have no hesitation in recommending to the House the establishment of three provincial Colleges in Ireland, all founded upon the principles I have described.

* * * * * The principle—the fundamental principle—on which we ask the House to carry this proposal of the Government is, the absence of all interference, positive or negative, with the conscientious scruples of the students in matters of religion. That is the principle which I contend for, and that is the principle on which alone I can anticipate success for the measure in Ireland.

* * * * * I am strongly and decidedly of opinion that, should the House sanction this proposition, limited as it is, that yet it involves a measure which will have a most favourable effect on the moral and social condition of the Irish people. My belief is, that it will conduce to the concord, the order, the peace, and the virtue of the country. To maintain and to preserve these is the grand object of successful civil government. I believe that if you will consent to this measure, these great and noble objects will be essentially promoted. I have been taunted with former failures in reference to this subject. Sir, I am aware of my inability as an advocate to plead the cause of national education; but I am deeply impressed with its importance, with the soundness of the principle which I have proposed; and I am confident, indeed, of the good which will result from it. I implore, then, your co-operation and general support. I ask for it without reference to religious differences which may prevail in Ireland, without regard to political disputes which may exist here."—("Hansard's Parliamentary Debates," Third Series, vol. lxxx., pp. 353, 357, 365, 366.)

Sir Thomas
Wyse's.

Sir Thomas Wyse, in the debate which followed the introduction of the measure, said:—

"He hailed with infinite satisfaction the propositions that night made by Her Majesty's Government; he regarded it as a great boon that establishments were now to be created for the purpose of communicating that knowledge which would teach men to forget their prejudices—which would remove the scales of ignorance from their eyes—which would make them remember not the differences between them and their fellow men, but the points in which they resembled each other; which would induce them to contend for the wealth that knowledge gave, as well as that which flowed from the Treasury."—("Hansard's Parliamentary Debates," ubi supra, p. 374.)

The late Sir R.
Peel's.

The late Sir Robert Peel concluded a most earnest speech in favour of the Bill, as follows:—

"If you found these Colleges on the plan we propose, I trust that we shall have established, as far as circumstances will permit, a perfect system of secular education. We shall reap the benefit of this. We shall promote social concord between the youth of different religious persuasions, who, meeting to receive the advantages of joint education, will unite in honourable rivalry, and who, hitherto too much estranged by religious differences, will acquire new means of creating and interchanging mutual esteem. I sincerely believe that, as well as receiving temporal

temporal advantage, so far from preventing any advantages with respect to Christianity, the more successfully will you labour to make men good Christians the more they are imbued with that great principle of our faith—a principle which, I am grieved to say, many individuals are too apt to forget—the principle, I mean, of reciprocal charity. By cultivating that principle, you will better serve the cause of true religion, and of peace, morality, and social comfort and concord in Ireland, than by leaving her inhabitants in division and ignorance, in the vain hope that by so doing you are promoting your own religious principles.”—(“Hansard’s Parliamentary Debates,” ubi supra, p. 391.)

And in a subsequent debate the same great statesman declared :

“I should relinquish, with the deepest regret, the prospect of having education in common for the Protestant, Presbyterian, and Roman Catholic youth of Ireland. I wish, then, to establish first the policy of having academical institutions in Ireland on a more extensive scale, and next to have the means of educating there together the youth of Ireland.”—(“Hansard’s Parliamentary Debates,” ubi supra, pp. 1282, 1283.)

The late lamented Premier hailed the measure on its introduction—

“First, as adapted to produce a great moral improvement amongst the middle classes of the Irish people; and secondly, as laying the foundation for concord between persons of different religious opinions, and as being calculated thus to confer the greatest possible benefit on the Irish people.”—(“Hansard’s Parliamentary Debates,” ubi supra, p. 408.)

Lord Palmerston’s.

Mr. Sheil, while urging some objections to the Bill, because provision was not then made for the care of the religion and morals of the students, expressed, in the eloquent language that follows, his approval of the principle of united secular education when due regard was had to separate religious culture:—

“I coincide with my honourable friend the Member for Kerry (Mr. M. J. O’Connell) in thinking that education in Ireland should be mixed—I mean secular education. We must in manhood associate in every walk of life. The Catholic and the Protestant merchant must place in each other that entire reliance which is the foundation of all mercantile transactions. To the Protestant and Catholic solicitor, to the Catholic and Protestant advocate, men differing from them in religious opinions entrust fortunes, life, and honour. At the bar, where our faculties are in collision, and our feelings are in contact, our forensic brotherhood is not interrupted by theological discriminations; in the noblest of all professions—in the army, the Catholic and the Protestant Irishman are comrades, and are attached by a devoted friendship; they stand together in the same field of fight; they scale the same battery; they advance in the same forlorn hope; and, to use a fine expression of the great poet whose remains the first Minister of the Crown lately deposited hard by—from the ‘death-bed of fame they look proudly to Heaven together.’ And if thus, in our maturer years, we are to live and die together, shall we be kept apart in the morning of life, in its freshest and brightest hours, when all the affections are in blossom, when our friendships are pure and disinterested, and those attachments are formed which last through every vicissitude of fortune, and of which the memory survives the grave? But, while I think that our altars should not stand as partitions between us, I do not think that from our altars we should turn with indifference away. Mixed secular education ought to be combined with separate religious instruction, which ought to have been provided by the State.” * * * “You ought to locate in your colleges a Protestant and a Catholic ecclesiastic, pious, learned, and persuasive, by whom the great tenets of Christianity might be enforced, by whom the New Testament—in whose moral injunctions we all concur—in whose dogmas we ought to have no acrimonious difference—should be read and expounded according to the interpretations of their respective Churches—whose eloquence should charm, whose example should allure, and by whom the minds of their young spirits should be elevated to the political contemplation of those subjects, in comparison with which every object of an interest merely human dwindles into evanescent diminution. I do not ask for a chair of divinity; I do not ask for rival theatres of theological disputation—I want a Catholic priest to say prayers for Catholics, and a Protestant priest to say prayers for Protestants.”—(“Hansard’s Parliamentary Debates,” Third Series, vol. lxxxi. p. 358, 359.)

Objections urged in debate subsequently removed.

In the College Statutes, which were long subsequently drawn up by the Board of Colleges, under the auspices of Lord Clarendon, the chief objections urged against the Colleges by Mr. Sheil and Mr. O’Connell* were in a great degree removed by means of the provisions as to the Deans of Residences already alluded to, and the term “Godless,” which has often been so ignorantly or unscrupulously applied to the Colleges, was rendered, as regards them, meaningless.

Foundation of Queen’s University.

The Queen’s University in Ireland was founded in the year 1850, for the purpose of giving degrees in arts, medicine, and law, to students of the three provincial Colleges, and its object was to advance learning in Ireland, and incidentally to promote peace and friendship between the different classes of Her Majesty’s subjects. It will be presently seen that in these objects the Queen’s University has met with gratifying success.

Intermediate Education still unprovided for.

The system of elementary and collegiate education recommended by the Committee of 1838, has thus been for the most part carried into operation, and the principles on which united education is alone possible have been therein thoroughly recognised. But nothing has been done to carry into effect the Report of that Committee with respect to the establishment of intermediate schools or county academies.

Report of Commissioners of Endowed Schools, 1858.

In the year 1854, however, a Commission was appointed to inquire into the endowed schools in Ireland; and by an Act of Parliament passed in the following year, the Commissioners were directed to report to Her Majesty such plans as should appear to them to be expedient and practicable for the general promotion, in connection with the endowed schools, of academical education. The Commissioners having elaborately investigated the entire subject, made their Report in the year 1858. After stating the proposition put forward by the present Mr. Baron Hughes, one of the Commissioners, “That it is right and just that endowments, in which different religious denominations have, or shall have, rights or interests, should be divided among the several religious denominations, according to their wants and numbers in the localities to which such endowments are applicable,” and, after referring to the Synodical Address of the Council of Thurles and the Rescripts on the Queen’s Colleges, the Commissioners say :

Opinions of Commissioners adverse to sectarian education.

“After mature consideration, we have come to the conclusion that we cannot recommend the adoption of these principles. They are completely at variance with those which have been recognised for some years past as the basis of Parliamentary aid to education in Ireland. They are also at variance with the recommendations of the Commissioners of Education Enquiry of 1791, and with the plan proposed by Mr. Wyse’s Committee of the House of Commons on Foundation Schools in 1838.

“We were most anxious to have matured a plan that would have met with the concurrence of Mr. Hughes; but, notwithstanding his dissent from our views, we feel that the demand for intermediate education is so considerable, especially in the North of Ireland, that we are called on to suggest means of supplying it, in accordance with principles that we can approve of, in those localities where it is required by the inhabitants, without providing a Government system of intermediate education in places where it might not be acceptable to the majority of the population.

“We think that this may be effected by the union of local funds, under the management of local trustees, with grants of public money. The provision for local management would enable the trustees to make suitable regulations for religious instruction, provided that the school shall, as a condition of its partaking of the grant of public money, admit of the united education of persons of all religious persuasions; and provided, also, that the local managers shall be subject to the direct control of the proposed Commissioners of Endowed Schools.”—(Endowed Schools Commissioners’ Report, p. 223.)

And

* Vide “Hansard’s Parliamentary Debates,” 3d series, vol. lxxxi., pp. 1357, 1358.

And the Commissioners, when treating of the religious and moral discipline of scholars in the proposed scheme of intermediate education, say :—

“ The paramount importance of a sound religious and moral discipline as the basis of education, might seem to require a more lengthened examination of this subject than we here propose to undertake. We dispense, however, with the discussion of this question, because we regard it as almost an undisputed one. We fully admit the principle, but we insist on the propriety of securing due facilities for its application in such ways as are consistent with a regard to parental authority and responsibility, and the maintenance of the rights of conscience. We also think it right to declare our belief in the possibility of separating the courses of secular and religious instruction, so far as to enable scholars of different religious denominations to receive instruction of the former kind in the same school, without compromise of opinions or risk of offence.”—(Endowed Schools Commissioners’ Report, p. 214.)

It may not be out of place here to refer to the consistent refusal of Parliament to extend to the Church Education Society of Ireland public sanction or support for the simple reason that the ground taken by that Association involved a violation of the principles on which the possibility of united education depends.

Refusal of grants to Church education.

From the foregoing sketch it would appear that the opinions of Committees of the House of Commons and of statesmen, and the action of Parliament and successive Governments, have for many years been in favour of united education in Ireland.

Has any Case been made for a Change of Policy and the Substitution of Sectarian for United Education ?

It has been thought desirable, even at some length, to refer to the history of public education in Ireland, not only in the College and University, but also in the elementary school. It is felt most strongly by the Graduates of the Queen’s University that the entire system, as now existing, stands or falls together. If sectarian education in colleges is recognised by the State, and placed in a position in which the powers and privileges granted by the State can be used against the system of free and liberal education (a system which the Graduates entertain no doubt is incomparably the best for Ireland), it will be impossible to prevent the triumph of denominationalism in every part of public education in this country. Then the struggle between rival denominations will not be restricted to those centres of intelligence where enlightenment and intercourse with the world tend, in some degree, to mitigate sectarian animosities ; but, in every parish and district in Ireland, the national schools, which are now so many local citadels for the protection of civil and religious liberty, will be turned into strongholds of intolerance, recognised, inspected, and in the main supported by the State.

Entire system of public non-sectarian education stands or falls together.

It may be fairly asked, what is there in the temper of the age to justify so retrograde a measure as the introduction of a system of sectarian education into Ireland, to be at least encouraged and privileged, if not endowed, by the State ?

Why should sectarianism be introduced into Ireland ?

In England, test oaths have been recently abolished in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, and the degrees, and many of the prizes, have been thrown open to all ; while, in elementary education, the introduction of a Conscience clause points to the just limitation of the powers of managers and patrons of public schools.

Tendency of changes in England ;

In Scotland, the Universities have been lately freed from ecclesiastical control.

In Scotland ;

In Trinity College, Dublin, it is often made a matter of glorification that Dublin University is the “ national ” University, and that the halls of Trinity College are open to every Irishman without any reference to his creed. And, although this is only in one sense true, few intelligent observers will doubt that that venerable institution is slowly tending in the direction of freedom and real nationality.

In Trinity College, Dublin.

Is there anything, then, in the circumstances of the Queen’s Colleges and University, or of Ireland, to justify the threatened change ? It has, indeed, been often said that the Colleges are a failure ; but can this position be maintained ?

Do circumstances justify such a change ?

Report of Commissioners of 1857.

In the year 1857, a Royal Commission examined into and reported on the progress of the Colleges, and after a most careful examination the Commissioners say,—

The Colleges then successful.

“ We think that the Colleges cannot be regarded as otherwise than successful, when, notwithstanding opposing causes, to which we shall presently allude, they have in their halls, attending lectures, nearly 450 students.”

Their progress since great and constant.

Since that Report was presented to Parliament, the progress of the Colleges has been great and constant, as will appear from the following Table :—

Number of Students attending the Three Queen's Colleges :

1857-58 (Year of Commissioners' Inquiry)	445	1861-62	-	-	-	-	-	-	758

Educational success.

The Commissioners refer with unqualified satisfaction to the educational success of the Colleges, and they conclude their Report with a paragraph which we give in full, as it expresses, we believe, with authority and truth, some of the many benefits connected with the system of education as at present existing :—

Good done by the Colleges.

“ We think, however, that the good done by the Queen's Colleges as great public institutions in Ireland cannot be estimated merely by the number of students in their halls, or by the successful candidates whom they may send to the great public contests of the educated youth of the empire. We believe that beyond this they are, by the honourable competition existing between the students and Professors of the several Queen's Colleges amongst themselves, and also by the healthy, and we hope friendly, competition with the University of Dublin, materially aiding in advancing learning in Ireland. We believe that the Colleges are calculated, and we trust the association of students of various creeds and opinions within their walls does operate to soften those feelings of party antagonism and sectarian animosity which have heretofore unhappily had too extended an existence in Ireland, and that they are rapidly generating a feeling of local self-reliance and of self-respect, and exciting an interest in the culture of literature and science throughout the community at large.”

Union of different creeds.

The union of the several religious denominations in the Colleges continues satisfactory.

The number of students who have entered the Colleges up to the end of last session was 3,330, thus classified :—

Established Church	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	957
Roman Catholic	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	938
Presbyterian	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,197
Other persuasions	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	238

TOTAL - - - 3,330

The numbers of the several persuasions attending the Colleges in the last three years were as follows :—

	Established Church.	Roman Catholic.	Presbyterian.	Other Persuasions.
1862-63	212	214	277	84
1863-64	210	237	260	103
1864-65	221	229	273	112

The representation of Roman Catholics more adequate than is supposed by some.

So much misuse is made of statistics on this subject, that it may be not improper here to state that the foregoing numbers furnish a much more adequate representation of Roman Catholics than has been sometimes publicly stated. Although it appears from the last Report of the Census Commissioners (Part iv., p. 46) that the number of male scholars receiving instructions in “superior” schools was 12,785, of whom 5,792 were Roman Catholics, and from these numbers alone a larger proportion of Roman Catholics might be looked for in the Queen's Colleges, yet on turning to p. 62 of the same Report it will be seen that while while the entire number of members of the "learned professions" (exclusive of clergymen), and "other liberal professions," is 6,482, the number of Roman Catholics included therein is 2,219, or about one-third. No inconsiderable proportion of the comparatively large number of Roman Catholics at "superior" schools is absorbed by the demands of the Catholic Church at home, in the United States, and in the British colonies; and this class of scholars never will be represented in non-theological Colleges. It is to be remembered at the same time that, owing to the fact that the clergy of the Presbyterian Church for the most part pursue their under-graduate course in Queen's College, Belfast, the numbers of Presbyterians are proportionately large in the foregoing Table, and that, owing to the social position of members of the Established Church, persons of the latter communion will always be numerous in any College open to all classes in Ireland.

With regard to the amount of public sympathy that is enlisted in favour of the Queen's Colleges and University, the Graduates believe that it is much greater than is generally supposed. They are convinced that, notwithstanding the not inconsiderable amount of enforced agitation on the education question, the system is yearly becoming better understood and more appreciated by moderate men of all classes, and that the feeling that it would lead to proselytism or infidelity, as contra-distinguished from other systems, is steadily decreasing. If the Deans of Residences were paid for their services, as recommended by the Commissioners who inquired into the Queen's Colleges, any lingering fear on this head in the minds of moderate men would be entirely removed, and a convenient sneer at the Colleges could no longer be ventured on.*

The system rising in the estimation of moderate men.

Success of the University.

The Graduates of the Queen's University do not wish to separate the case of the Colleges from that of the University. They believe that the success of the Colleges is the success of the University, inasmuch as the success of the Colleges is to no inconsiderable extent the result of the existence of the University. Attempts have often been made to show that the entire system is a failure, on account of the alleged paucity of the degrees granted by the Queen's University. While not admitting, for the reason above stated, that the mere number of degrees granted by the Queen's University is a sufficient test of the success of the University, it may not be improper, in order to ascertain what the University has done directly, to call attention to the numbers graduating in the Queen's University and in the London University, for the first fourteen years after each University commenced to grant degrees.

It thus appears that in the two periods taken above, the Queen's University, with its three affiliated Colleges, compares not unfavourably with the London University, with its large number of its affiliated institutions. The total numbers, it is true, are not strictly comparable, inasmuch as Diplomas in Law and Engineering neering (which, however, are degrees in all but name) are placed to the credit of the Queen's University. Still, a comparison of the two Universities is not without interest; and considering their circumstances—on the one hand the great and wealthy community from which the London University drew its supplies of students, the large number of intermediate schools giving more or less classical education in England, and the general interest felt in the Institution by the English dissenting bodies; and, on the other hand, the poverty of Ireland, the admitted deficiency in the means of intermediate education, the strict enforcement of residence and attendance at lectures in the Queen's Colleges, while non-residence is permitted by Trinity College, Dublin, the periods of distress and almost of social revolution through which Ireland has been passing for the last twenty years, and the opposition of the authorities of the Roman Catholic Church—the result of the comparison is satisfactory, and justifies the proposition that the Queen's University, by itself and without reference to the Queen's Colleges, has been a decided success.

Unwillingness of graduates to intervene.

The Graduates of the Queen's University do not hesitate to avow that it is most painful for them to be obliged to come forward to protest against measures which they believe to be mainly desired by one Order, but that they admit a very influential one, of their Catholic countrymen. But they have no alternative. Numerous as were the attacks that have been made on the Colleges and University, the Graduates, as a body, never resented them, though in many instances assured that their opponents did wrong to Institutions that they loved. They have been content to leave the Colleges and University to be defended by their results, and hope that time would mitigate, if not destroy, the hostility of opponents. But if, as alleged, radical changes are under the consideration of the Government that has hitherto befriended them, they cannot silently allow the adoption, in connexion with the National University of the Queen in Ireland, of a principle which more than any other will perpetuate sectarian differences among those who ought to be the leaders in what would promote friendship and social peace. It is vain to conceal that the reform that is asked for in the Queen's University is a measure proposed by those in this country who have denounced united education and the intercourse of Irishmen with Irishmen, and who now demand the proposed change as an instalment of complete denominationalism. The Graduates would indeed be unworthy of the Institutions in which they were educated, were they not solemnly to raise their voices against any change in the system of public education in Ireland, involving the State recognition of sectarian education, or its incorporation into the system of which the Queen's University has hitherto been the head.

Allegation that they are opposed to freedom of education considered.

It has indeed been said that the advocates of the Queen's University are opposed to, instead of being the friends of, freedom of education, since they seek to impose their conceptions of what is right on others who, it is alleged, conscientiously differ with them.

It is the duty of the State not to recognize or encourage sectarianism in Ireland.

The answer to this is simple: they do not impose their notions on others; but they say that, at all events in Ireland, it is the duty of the State, while allowing perfect freedom to all persons to work out their own ideas on the subject of education at their own expense and risk, not in any way to recognize or encourage sectarianism in education; and they assert, as a proposition too plain for argument, that the refusal of such recognition or encouragement to all parties is no violation whatever either of the rights of conscience or of civil rights. They cannot for a moment admit that the State can be required, on the plea of conscientious scruples, to adopt a measure the natural result of which is, as felt by all, to debar each class of Irishmen in their youth from friendly and equal intercourse with their fellow-citizens.

The privileges of a degree attainable by those who prefer sectarian education.

For those who prefer sectarianism in education the London University is open, and any privileges belonging to a degree are there attainable. But the Graduates of the Queen's University maintain, that a system avowedly based on sectarianism should not in Ireland be equally honoured and encouraged by the State as a system which is based on the principle of equality to all and unfair privileges to none—a system which, by the opportunities it affords for youthful intercourse and intimacy, while duly recognizing religion, makes students not only know but feel that they are fellow-beings, endowed with equal gifts, and subject to equal weaknesses, as well as fellow-citizens, with equal rights before the law. The Graduates of the Queen's University cannot forget that, in the history of Ireland, the painful record of intestine strife or religious contests occupies already too great a space. They do not wish that the now happily abating hatreds of the past should be renewed and rendered perpetual by training up as it were in hostile camps the youth of Ireland. They therefore call on all true patriots here, and on the friends of Ireland in Great Britain, to aid in opposing any change which will sectarianise public education in this country, and thereby indefinitely postpone the social and civil union of their countrymen.

Admission to a Degree of Persons not Academically Educated.

The Graduates of the Queen's University do not deem it necessary to do more than briefly refer to the proposal, that the Queen's University should be assimilated in all respects to the London University, and that no academic undergraduate education should be required for admission to a degree, since they understand that it would not be acceptable to some of those seeking affiliation with the Queen's University. But it derives some importance from being advocated in an unpublished but widely-circulated pamphlet by an eminent medical authority, who is also a senator of the Queen's University. Against the scheme, however, the authority of the author may be fairly cited, since in his own more special department of study he disapproves of its adoption. By those who have enjoyed, as the Graduates of the Queen's University have done, the benefits of the Professorial system of lectures in Arts combined with strict examinations and other exercises in the classes, it may be truly declared that the advantages to be gained from Collegiate training are not less in Arts than they are in medicine. Disregard or contempt for Academic education in Arts can only be accounted for by an experience of a comparatively worthless system of mere lectures, or of a lifeless attempt at purely Tutorial instruction.

Academic education should be insisted on for a degree.

Assuming, then, that the academical course of training is superior for men of average or fair ability (men of extraordinary gifts who cannot attend College being independent of the encouragement to learning given by a University degree), it follows that it is the duty of those to whom is entrusted the power of encouraging the highest kind of education not to do anything that would tend to degrade the value of the arts and other degrees granted by the Queen's University. But even if the assumption made were doubtful, there is no necessity whatever for making the change referred to in the Queen's University, inasmuch as in the London University anyone can get a degree subject to examination tests alone. The degree of the London University will thus be, in the estimate of the public, considered the stamp for one kind of training, that of the Queen's University and such Universities as insist on academical education of another.

In conclusion, the Graduates of the Queen's University would guard themselves against being taken to be opposed to change simply because the present system of public education exists. They think that everything should be done consistently with a firm opposition to sectarianism (no matter by whom or in what form advocated) to enlist all classes of Irishmen in favour of a complete system of public education. But in considering the question whether any and what change is to be made, it is not to be hastily assumed that those who drew up and sanctioned the Statutes of the Queen's Colleges, and recommended the University Charter, acted without great consideration for the feelings and opinions of those who were thought to be opposed to the Colleges. If, on a careful examination of the whole matter by those in authority, any modification of the existing system of Collegiate and University education shall appear practicable, it is submitted that, in accordance with the provision in the recent Charter, the intended modification should be referred to the Convocation of the Queen's University for their opinion before final approval; but if, on the other hand, any such modification shall appear impossible without destroying or endangering the cause of non-sectarian education, it would seem to be the solemn duty of those entrusted with the government of the country with firmness to refrain from change, and to maintain and develop a system which has been already fruitful in good to Ireland.

APPENDIX.

RESOLUTIONS adopted by the Graduates of the Queen's University, assembled in Public Meeting in Belfast, on Wednesday, 6 December 1865.

I. That in the opinion of this Meeting the success which has attended the Queen's Colleges and University in Ireland has more than realised the expectations of their founders, and affords sufficient grounds for the maintenance of those Institutions in their integrity.

II. That the recognition of a College under the control of the Roman Catholic Church, based upon principles of sectarianism, and its affiliation with the Queen's University in Ireland, would necessitate similar concessions to other religious bodies, would inflict serious injury on the already existing Queen's Colleges, and would ultimately tend to their conversion into denominational institutions, and the consequent destruction of the system of united education.

III. That while a system of non-sectarian university education should alone be encouraged by Government recognition and support in Ireland, no person who prefers a system of sectarian education is debarred from any of the advantages or legal privileges of a degree—the University of London being open to all who are prepared to pass its examinations.

IV. That the statement now read be adopted, and that the Committee of the Graduates' Association shall have it and the foregoing resolutions pressed on the attention of the Government.

MEMORIAL from the Ulster National Education Association.

To His Excellency Baron Wodehouse, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, the undersigned Members of the Ulster National Education Association, belonging to various churches, and holding different political opinions, yet warmly attached to the principle of united education as eminently suited to the peculiar circumstances of our country, beg respectfully to address your Excellency on the subject of certain changes in the constitution of the Queen's University that are now under the consideration of Her Majesty's Government.

We assure your Excellency that the experience of years has deepened the conviction in our minds that the principle on which the national education of Ireland is based is a sound and satisfactory one, and that its operation in connexion with the Queen's College and the Queen's University has been most beneficial and successful.

We lament the frequent assaults that have been made on these noble institutions, and the undisguised efforts to engraft on them a sectarian and denominational character, and would strongly urge it on your Excellency, that threatenings of change, and any apparent encouragement given to those who are opposed to the present constitution of the University, must prevent the great experiment of attempting to educate the youth of Ireland in one University from being fairly carried out, and must discourage the true friends of united education who desire that every sectarian element should be excluded from the constitution and management of the Queen's Colleges and University.

As the special changes that may be contemplated by the Government, or that are specially urged upon them have not been made public, we address your Excellency on the assumption that they are those indicated in a recent debate in the House of Commons, and in the announcements made by some of the leading journals of the day; and in the belief that these intimations are substantially correct, we are constrained by the sense of the duty we owe to our country and to the great cause of education, most strongly to declare that to recognise a College under the direct control of the Hierarchy of Rome, or of any other Ecclesiastical Body, and to affiliate it with the University founded by Government on broad and liberal principles, would counteract the object for which the Colleges were designed, introduce into them a thoroughly sectarian character, deprive the youth of the country of that hallowing and harmonising influence which free intercourse at College naturally produces, and intensify in Ireland that spirit of bigotry and division from which we fondly hope a system of education in common would very largely help to deliver her.

We assure your Excellency that in our humble judgment the same objections must be made to any proposal to introduce to the Senate, or to the Board of Examiners, any person or persons because they hold the dogmas of some special creed, or are the members or nominees of some particular Church ; such admission besides its own vitiating nature must issue in other changes that would be fatal to the entire system. Or, if the proposed or purposed alteration be to separate the University from the Colleges in the matter of degrees, and allow the honours of the University to be bestowed, either when there has been no College training, or where the training has not been under the guidance and direction of professors of the Queen's Colleges, we would venture to state to your Excellency our objection to either proposal, because it would tend to injure the Queen's Colleges by withdrawing what is at present a strong inducement to young men of all religious denominations to attend the classes in these Colleges, and thereby greatly lessen the advantages that the community derive from the present system of mixed, or rather united education.

May it therefore please your Excellency to submit these our conscientious views to Her Majesty's Government, with the earnest prayer that they would refuse all countenance to the efforts of those who desire to tamper with the principle on which the Colleges and University are based, and allow these noble institutions, hitherto so happily and so largely successful, a full and fair trial. And your Memorialists will ever pray.

RESOLUTIONS passed by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland.

At Belfast, the 8th day of February, 1866, which day the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, specially convened, being met and constituted,

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

1. That the General Assembly re-affirms the resolution adopted at its meeting in July, 1863, viz. :

“That the Assembly regard it to be a sacred duty, by every means in its power, to preserve the fundamental principles on which the Synod of Ulster, in 1840, agreed to receive aid from the National Board, according to which religious instruction is daily given in all our schools, while at the same time the rights of conscience and the sacredness of parental authority are duly respected, and no children are required to be present at any religious exercises to which their parents or guardians object.”

2. That the Assembly regard the establishment of the Queen's Colleges and their connexion with the Queen's University as having been productive of great advantages to the country, and rejoices in the large measure of success which has attended them, notwithstanding the obstruction and opposition they have encountered.

3. That the Assembly deprecates the many evils that must arise from the changes proposed to be made in these valuable institutions, by which the character of the University and the constitution of the Senate will be altered, the denominational elements largely introduced, and to that extent the usefulness of the Colleges and University impaired.

4. That inasmuch as the General Assembly in July last requested the Trustees of the Magee College to take steps for having the College affiliated to one of the existing Universities, so that its students may be in a position to receive degrees in arts, thereby warranting the Trustees in seeking to have the Magee College affiliated with the Queen's University, they are hereby declared to have had the warrant of the Assembly in seeking such affiliation; yet, inasmuch as the aspect of the educational question is materially altered since the meeting of the Assembly in July last, and as the constitution proposed for the Senate of the Queen's University is not yet before the Church, the Trustees are required to suspend further action in this matter.

5. That the Government Committee be instructed, and they hereby are instructed, to present to the Lord Lieutenant these resolutions, and to take such other steps as may be necessary to arrest further progress in the matter of affiliation.

UNIVERSITY EDUCATION (IRELAND).

COPY of a LETTER dated the 26th March 1866, from the SECRETARY OF STATE TO THE HOME DEPARTMENT to the LORD LIEUTENANT OF IRELAND, on the Subject of UNIVERSITY EDUCATION in IRELAND.

Presented by Command of Her Majesty.

MY LORD,

26th March 1866.

YOUR Excellency is aware that the subject of the alteration to be made in the Charter of the Queen's University in Ireland has for some time past engaged the attention of Her Majesty's Government.

I should have sooner informed you of the course which, after full consideration, they had decided to adopt with reference to this subject, had it not been for a question which required careful consideration as to the means by which the object they had in view could be legally effected.

The existing Charter of the Queen's University was granted in 1864, the Letters Patent by which it was originally constituted, and those by which its powers were subsequently enlarged, having been in that year revoked and determined, and a new Charter having been granted.

By the Charter of 1864 an essential change was made in the constitution of the University. Under the original Charter the Chancellor and Senate only were incorporated; but under the present Charter the Corporation consists, not of the Chancellor and Senate only, but also of the Professors, Graduates, and Students.

Before I advert to the legal consequence of this change as bearing upon the present question, I will shortly refer to the existing condition of University education in Ireland.

There is no University in Ireland capable of conferring degrees except the Dublin University and the Queen's University. The former is exclusively connected with Trinity College, and the latter is exclusively connected with the Queen's Colleges, and with any other College or Colleges which may hereafter be founded by virtue of the provisions of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. cap. 66. It is empowered to grant degrees only to matriculated candidates who shall have pursued a regular course of study, either wholly or in part, in one or more of such Colleges, and the President of each of the Queen's Colleges is by the Charter an ex officio member of the Senate.

Under these circumstances no person can obtain a degree from a University in Ireland unless he has studied either at Trinity College, Dublin, or at One of the Queen's Colleges.

This, as is well known, has been complained of by many persons in Ireland on account of its subjecting them to a serious disadvantage, as compared with their fellow subjects, owing to their conscientious objection to become members of either of the above-named Colleges.

The subject was brought before the House of Commons last year by a motion for an address to Her Majesty, praying that steps might be taken to redress the grievance arising from many of Her Majesty's subjects being at present prevented from enjoying the advantages of University education in Ireland. On that occasion Her Majesty's Government, while declaring their own unshaken conviction of the advantages of a system of mixed secular education, admitted as a matter of fact the existence of the disadvantage which was complained of; and they proposed to remedy the grievance, not by advising the grant of a Charter to a Roman Catholic University, which had been asked for, nor by an alteration in the character of the Queen's Colleges, but by enlarging the powers of the Queen's University, so as to enable it to confer degrees, not only, as at present, on students from the Queen's Colleges, but, in addition to these, either on candidates for degrees who had pursued a course of study in other Colleges, to be affiliated to the University, or on all matriculated students applying for degrees, and passing the required examination, irrespective of their place of education.

It was intimated at the same time, and it is obviously a necessary consequence of this change, that some alteration would be made in the composition of the Senate of the University.

In order to give effect to the declared intention of Her Majesty's Government, it appeared to them that the most expedient course to take would be that which was adopted in 1864, viz., the revocation of the Letters Patent by which the existing Charter was then granted, and the grant of a new Charter with the extended power which it is proposed to confer upon the University. This would of course require the surrender of the present Charter, and the acceptance of the Charter which is to be substituted for it.

Assuming that such a surrender could be made, the first question which presented itself was, whether the University should be empowered to grant degrees, as was the case originally with the London University, only to students from Colleges in connexion with the University, and from those which may from time to time be affiliated to it, power being given to the Senate, if they should think fit, to admit students as candidates for degrees unconnected with such Colleges; or whether the right should be at once given, as is now the case in the London University, to all matriculated students to become candidates for degrees, irrespective of their place of education. The latter course appeared to Her Majesty's Government to be the preferable one.

In the case of the London University, a large number of Colleges and Schools is affiliated to the University, and by the 36th section of its Charter persons not educated in any of the affiliated Colleges are admitted as candidates for matriculation and degrees, subject to the conditions therein mentioned.

The adoption at once of this latter provision in the Charter of the Queen's University in Ireland would have made it unnecessary that any Colleges should be affiliated to the University.

If students might be matriculated and admitted as candidates for degrees, irrespective of their place of education, no special advantage would accrue to any College from its being expressly connected with the University.

The degrees to be conferred by the University would of course have been exclusive, as at present, of degrees in theology.

The next question for consideration related to the mode of constituting the Senate.

It appeared to Her Majesty's Government obviously important that the Senate should be so constituted as to secure as far as possible the confidence of all those who were to share in the advantages of the University, to whatever religious denomination they might belong, and that it should not be liable to the suspicion of partiality or exclusiveness.

The provision in the present Charter by which the President of each of the Queen's Colleges is ex-officio a member of the Senate, though very proper so long as degrees could be conferred only on students from those Colleges, would not be defensible when that exclusive system was abandoned, without extending the same privilege to others.

Her Majesty's Government were of opinion that such an extension of ex-officio seats would lead to serious embarrassment, and that the better course would be that there should be no ex-officio members of the Senate.

The object, before stated, of so composing the Senate as to entitle it to general confidence, would, they thought, be better attained by some enlargement of the present Senate, and by a judicious selection of persons of different religious denominations.

In a country in which the great majority of the inhabitants are Roman Catholics, it might fairly be expected that a considerable portion of the Senate should consist of members of the Roman Catholic Church.

In the composition of the Board of National Education, the number of Protestants and Roman Catholics is equal; while of the seventeen members of whom the Senate of the Queen's University at present consists, four only are Roman Catholics, of whom one is an ex-officio member as President of the College at Cork.

Her Majesty's Government felt that it would be desirable to remove this great inequality of numbers as between Protestants and Roman Catholics, and that they could safely rely upon your judgment and discretion in recommending for Her Majesty's approval, as members of the Senate, those persons who were best qualified for the efficient performance of the duties which would devolve upon the Senate, and who were most likely to conciliate general confidence and respect.

In doing this you would not fail to bear in mind the deep interest felt in this question by the large body of Presbyterians in Ireland.

Her Majesty's Government therefore had decided to request that your Excellency would give directions for the preparation of the draft of a Charter in conformity with the opinions above expressed; and that when this had been done the draft should be communicated to the governing body of the Queen's University, in order that it might be ascertained whether it would be willing to concur in the proposed change. But before doing this, Her Majesty's Government thought it necessary to refer for the joint opinion of the Law Officers of the Crown for England and Ireland the question whether the proposed change in the Queen's University could be effected with the consent of the existing corporation, and if so, by whom and in what form such consent could be given. The Law Officers were also asked in what other way, if any, the proposed change in the power and constitution of the University could be legally effected.

They have reported that it is undoubtedly in the power of Her Majesty, by a supplemental Charter, to enable the Queen's University to grant degrees to persons who have not received any part of their education as students in any of the Colleges of the University; and that if the object in view can be sufficiently attained by granting such degrees only without giving to this class of graduates the status of members of Convocation, or introducing them into the corporation of the University, a surrender of the present Charter will not be necessary for that purpose; but that if it be desired to make these graduates members of the University Corporation, and to give them the same rights and privileges in the University which now belong to graduates educated wholly or in part in the Colleges of the University, or if it be thought necessary to make changes in the present constitution of the Senate of the University for either of these purposes, a valid revocation or surrender of the existing Charter will be indispensable.

After a careful examination of the existing Charter, the Law Officers have come to the conclusion that the powers both of the Chancellor and Senate, and of the Convocation, are too limited to enable both or either of these bodies to make any valid surrender.

It thus appears that it is impossible, under present circumstances, to give full effect to the intentions of Her Majesty's Government. The degrees to be conferred under the power which would be given by a supplemental Charter would fail to place the recipients of such degrees on a footing of equality, as members of the Convocation, with other graduates of the University. The inferiority of their position in this respect would give rise to well-grounded dissatisfaction.

Her Majesty's Government therefore propose to submit a Bill to Parliament, with a view to remove the obstacle which at present prevents the accomplishment of the object which they have in view.

I am, with great truth and regard,

My Lord,

Your Excellency's obedient Servant,

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM AND SUMMARY.

THE Returns made to the Secretary of State, pursuant to the Local Taxation Returns Act of the 23 & 24 Vict. c. 51, for the latest period of Twelve Months for which the accounts of the different Vestries, Commissioners, Boards, &c. were made up preceding the month of June 1865, have been arranged and abstracted for the information of Parliament, as required by the Act, in the same form as for preceding years, and comprise Church Rates, and Returns from the same Commissioners and Boards as heretofore.

The Church Rate Returns are arranged under the different Dioceses, alphabetically for each Diocese, and are preceded by the usual summary of the total amounts. Church Rates.

The total amount of Church Rate collected, as shown in the Abstract, was 243,523 l., being an increase of 1,563 l., as compared with the amount for the preceding year. The number of Returns received was 12,146, being an increase of 72, as compared with the number for the preceding year. In 9,101 of these, accounts of receipt and expenditure are given; 3,045 are blank, showing a rather higher proportion of blanks than in the preceding year.

From about 1,947 Parishes, &c., for which Forms were issued, no Returns have been obtained.

In addition to the places named in the Abstract for 1864, Returns for the following Commissions of Sewers are given for 1865, viz., Letton and Staunton-on-Wye, Herefordshire, Martham and Repps-cum-Bastwick, and Winterton, and East and West Somerton, in Norfolk, and Kingston-on-Thames, in Surrey. Sewers Rate.

The amount of Rates levied for the year, as shown in the Abstract, was 42,318 l. (exclusive of the City of London), being less than the amount for the preceding year by 1,691 l. The amount for the City of London was 17,771 l., exceeding the amount for 1864 by 529 l. Money was borrowed during the year on the security of the Rates to the amount of 9,805 l.; 3,213 l. of debt was paid off; and 24,468 l., including arrears of interest and outstanding accounts, remained due at the close of the accounts.

Under the Land Drainage Act of 1861, eleven Commissions have been issued, chiefly renewals, or for places included in former Commissions or Drainage Districts. For Wormbrook Valley, in Herefordshire, and Langorse, in Brecon, for which Commissions were issued in 1862, no Returns have been received. Land Drainage Act, 1861.

For Crowle, &c., in Lincolnshire, for which no Return was made for 1864, and for all the other places under Drainage and Embankment Acts included in the Abstract for that year, Returns have been made for 1865, excepting Martham and Somerton, which are now under Commissions under the Land Drainage Act, and for which Returns are given under the head of Sewers. Drainage and Embankment Acts.

The amount of Rates levied as shown in the Drainage and Embankment Abstract for 1865, is 143,109 l., being less by 3,996 l. than the amount for the preceding year, and by 6,174 l. than the amount for 1863; 7,100 l. was borrowed during the year, against 27,365 l. in the preceding year, and 61,550 l. in 1863; 12,040 l. of debt was paid off. The Secured Debt remaining at the close of the year amounted to 1,183,549 l.

In consequence of the adoption of the Local Government Act, 22 places, hitherto lighted under the 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 90, the names of which appeared in the List for 1864, are omitted from the present Abstract, while three places not before included appear now for the first time, the total number of places under this Act for which Returns have been received for 1865 being 305. Lighting and Watching Act.

The amount of Rate collected for the year, as shown in the Abstract, was 41,845 l. 16 s. 2 d., being less than the amount for the preceding year by 348 l. 6 s. 6 d. The amount borrowed during the year on the security of the Rate appears to have been 2,359 l. 9 s. 3 d., leaving a secured debt of 6,590 l. 11 s. 1 d. at the close of the year, with 902 l. 10 s. 7 d. of other liabilities, at the same time that a balance in hand is shown amounting to nearly 10,000 l.

In the Abstract for 1865, 131 Returns will be found for places having Improvement Commissioners, including the whole of the places given for the preceding year, excepting Bedford, where the Town Council have ceased to act as Improvement Commissioners; Improvement Commissions.

Portsmouth, with Landport and Southsea, and Portsea, and Workington, where Local Boards have been formed; and excepting also Leominster, for which no Return has been received.

The amount of Rates, Taxes, Tolls, and Dues collected was 324,840 l. 4 s. 7 d., being less than the sum shown for the preceding year by 8,143 l. 1 s. The amount of Secured Debt remaining, as shown in the Abstract, is 1,699,632 l., being higher than the amount for the preceding year by 62,374 l.

Metropolis Local Management.

In the amount of Rates levied by the different Vestries and District Boards under the Metropolis Local Management Act, as shown in the present Abstract, there is an increase, exclusive of the Main Drainage Rate, of 73,811 l., or 8·6 per cent. above the amount for the preceding year. The amount of Main Drainage Rate is less by 992 l. than the amount for the preceding year. The receipts on account of Highways, Streets, Roads, &c., show an increase of 8,400 l., or upwards of 34 per cent., following an increase of 10,831 l., or 78 per cent. in the preceding year. The sum of 46,888 l. was borrowed within the year, against 51,523 l. in the preceding year. In the Repair and Maintenance of Highways, Roads, Streets, &c., and cleansing and watering Roads, &c., the large amount of 460,499 l. was expended, exceeding the amount for the preceding year by 35,317 l. For Lighting and works connected therewith, the expenditure was 181,224 l., exceeding the amount for the preceding year by 18,048 l. For Sewage and Drainage the expenditure was 126,806 l., exceeding the amount for the preceding year by 50,703 l. In the payments to the Metropolitan Board, viz., 180,030 l. for Main Drainage, and 131,415 l. for other payments, there is an increase of 41,756 l. with regard to the former, and of 48,675 l. with regard to the latter. The amounts for Salaries and for Collectors' Poundage show an increase respectively of 1,843 l. and 1,713 l.; the amounts for Interest and Annuities, and Loans repaid, respectively of 2,368 l. and 1,455 l. In the total amount expended there is an increase of 194,031 l. The bonded or secured debt remaining at the date of the Returns exceeds the amount shown for the preceding year by 131,585 l.

Markets and Fairs.

The names of 46 places, from which Returns have been received with respect to Markets and Fairs, will be found in the present Abstract, being the same places as for the preceding year, with the exception of Westbury, where the Local Government Act has been adopted. The amount of Tolls or Dues collected for all these places, as shown in the Abstract, was 47,551 l., being an increase of 3,005 l., or 6·7 per cent. on the amount for the preceding year. The amount of Rents was 28,343 l., exceeding the amount for the preceding year by 1,271 l., or 4·6 per cent. The money borrowed during the year amounted to 52,150 l., 50,000 l. having been for the Market at Islington. The total receipts, as shown in the Abstract, were 147,659 l., exclusive of the balance from the previous year. The total expenditure was 157,950 l. These amounts for the previous year were respectively 112,233 l. and 105,296 l. The Bonded Debt amounts to 692,490 l., showing an increase of 2,208 l. since the preceding year.

Bridges and Ferries.

Under Bridges and Ferries, Returns will be found for 1865 for each of the places included in the Abstract for the preceding year, with the exception of Strangeways Bridge, between Manchester and Salford, for which no Return has been made, the Bridge being considered exempt, as private property. There are 65 Returns for Bridges, inclusive of two (Revenue and Construction Accounts) for Lendal Bridge, in the City of York; 20 for Ferries; and one under a Navigation Act. The total amount of Rates or Dues collected for the year, as appears by the Abstract, was 112,619 l. 2 s. 10 d., being an increase of 3,845 l. 14 s. 2 d., or upwards of 3½ per cent. upon the amount shown for the preceding year. The only money borrowed during the year on the security of the Tolls appears to have been the sum of 17,300 l., at the Woodside and Monk's Ferry, Birkenhead. The Expenditure for Repairs and Maintenance amounted to 17 per cent. of the receipts, exclusive of the money borrowed; the Salaries to upwards of 11 per cent.; the amount for Interest and Annuities to upwards of 13 per cent.; the amount of Bonded Debt paid off, to seven per cent.; the amount for Dividends to upwards of 27 per cent. The Bonded Debt remaining at the date of the account, as shown in the Abstract, amounted to 1,100,118 l., inclusive of 554,542 l. on Waterloo Bridge, across the Thames. The arrears of Interest amounted to 3,110,591 l., of which 3,077,125 l. belongs also to Waterloo Bridge; under other debts, a further sum of 476,300 l. is shown against this Bridge.

Harbours.

The number of Harbour Returns included in the Abstract for 1865 is the same as for the preceding year, Returns having been received for Gateshead Quay, Herne Bay Pier, Llanelly Harbour, and the Port of London, for which none were given for 1864; while Cambois and Eyemouth have been omitted, as belonging to Scotland; and Fowey, as private property. In the Abstract of 1864, Gravesend Pier appears to have been inadvertently reckoned twice. The amount of Tolls or Dues collected within the year, as shown in the Abstract for 1865, was 1,083,747 l., being less than the amount for the preceding year by 24,003 l. The amount borrowed within the year was 279,154 l., being less than the amount for the preceding year by 52,213 l. The payments for Interest and Annuities amounted to 711,085 l., and in reduction of the Secured Debt, to 124,188 l., against 692,386 l. and 66,274 l. respectively, in the preceding year. The Debt remaining on the security of the Tolls amounts to 17,167,062 l., inclusive of the debt of the Mersey Dock and Harbour Company, which alone, as shown in the Abstract, was 12,555,200 l.

Returns will be found in the Abstract for 1865 from the whole of the Burial Boards, Burial Boards. 329 in number, named in the list for the preceding year. In the amount received by Burial Boards out of the poor rate there is a decrease of 4,801 l., or 4·5 per cent., as compared with the amount for the preceding year. In the amount of Fees there is an increase of 5,171 l., or upwards of nine per cent. Under these heads, the amounts for 1864 were: for the first, less by 5,463 l.; and for the latter, more by 12,910 l., than the amounts for 1865. The amount borrowed during the year was less by 39,530 l. than the amount borrowed in the preceding year, the amount for 1864 having been less by 40,593 l. than the amount for 1863. Under Expenditure, the amount paid for Salaries, 26,105 l., shows an increase of 1,697 l. upon the amount for the preceding year, following an increase of 3,043 l. in 1864, as compared with the amount for 1863. The amount Expended for the purchase of Burial Grounds, Buildings, &c., was only 2,540 l., against 15,409 l. in 1864, and 50,651 l. in 1863. For Laying out and Maintaining Grounds, Repairs, &c., there is a decrease of 4,466 l., following a decrease of 14,765 l. in 1864, as compared with 1863. In the amount for Building Chapels, &c., there is a decrease of 9,315 l., or 50 per cent., following a decrease of 18,047 l., or nearly the same proportion, in 1864, as compared with 1863. The amount of the payments to Incumbents and Ministers, 9,490 l., shows a decrease of 1,765 l., there having been an increase under this head of 3,452 l. in 1864, as compared with 1863. The amount for Interest and Principal paid off was 136,110 l., against 138,585 l. in the preceding year, the latter sum having exceeded by 28,489 l. the amount for 1863. The amount paid in aid of the Poor Rate was 2,393 l., against 1,937 l. in the preceding year, and 927 l. in 1863. In the amount of Debt remaining at the close of the year, viz., 1,074,096 l., a decrease of 42,199 l. appears, following a decrease of 22,903 l. in 1864, as compared with 1863.

The following are the amounts of Rates, Taxes, Tolls, or Dues, shown in the Abstract as levied during the year by the different Vestries, Commissioners, &c. (Burial Boards excepted), with the amount of Secured Debt remaining at the close of the Account in each case:

(a) St. Pancras.—Col. 27.—This sum includes mortgage debts amounting to 142,384 l. 17 s. 4 d., charged on those districts of the parish which were under the control of the late Paving, &c., Commissioners before the passing of the Act 18 & 19 Vict., c. 120.

(b) St. Mary, Lambeth.—Col. 27.—Including other liabilities.

(c) St. George, Hanover-square.—Col. 20.—Annuities payable to the Alliance and Globe Insurance Societies; terminable in 1898; the original sum borrowed was 1,753 l. 9 s. 8 d.

(d) St. Leonard, Shoreditch.—Col. 27.—The debt is increased from the amount given in last year's statement, by the vestry having borrowed 10,000 l. during the year; the account does not show the transaction.

(e) St. James, Westminster.—Col. 27.—The transfer of Golden-square bonds from the trustees of that square to the vestry, is the cause of the apparent increase in this sum from the amount given in last year's statement.

(f) St. Luke, Middlesex.—Col. 16.—Included in Col. 15.

Ditto, Col. 18.—Included in Col. 17.

Ditto, Col. 21.—Included in Col. 20.
